WALTER G. CLIPPINGER

With the commencement exercises on the morning of June 16th the present college year will come to a close. In every particular it has been a good year. The attendance during the year has been slightly less than last year, but the decrease is in the adjunct departments, whereas in the college there is a marked increase in attendance.

A school such as Otterbein is measured in the educational world by the number of students it has in its college department and the quality of the work done there.

The graduating class numbering 49 who will take the B. A.

degree is the largest by considerable number in the history of the institution. The work of the various departments has been highly acceptable during the year.

The Literary Society work has been up to its traditional standards of excellence during the year. The work in the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. calls out special comment on the part of the state officers. The social and administrative life have been pleasant. A delightful spirit of co-operation and fellowship has prevailed between the faculty and the students and among the faculty themselves. The President is highly sensitive to the kindly co-operation of both the faculty and the students, as well as of the friends and Alumni of the institution in this first year of his administration.

The material improvements have been quite elaborate during the year. It has witnessed the completion of the Lambert Conservatory; the furnishing of the building with new pianos and seating; the laying of hard-wood floors in the main building; the tinting of the walls in the main building and Cochran Hall; the furnishing of several recitation rooms, the faculty room, and the executive offices; the installing of a new boiler in the heating plant; the laying of cement walks, and the purchase of additional equipment elsewhere.

The Parliament in October was one of the great features in the history of Otterbein. The plans for the future are for the raising of a half million dollars endowment, one-fifth of which has already been pledged; the construction of a new chapel and a new science building; the purchase and development of new athletic grounds and later the erection of a boy's dormitory and an Academy building.

The finances for this year have engaged our careful attention. On account of the elaborate improvements, mentioned, nearly $15,000 were needed over and above the ordinary budget of last year. With even less available funds than formerly this presented a rather grave situation. With special pressure it was possible to procure between $8,000 and $9,000 more than the complete income of other years. This still leaves a considerable deficit to be provided for next year, but with the splendid cooperation of the friends of the institution the administration is moving forward with the confident hope that there will be a kindly and generous response to our appeals.

The outlook for the summer school is very promising. A large number of students have indicated their intention of attending. The splendid facilities provided in the enlarged and efficient faculty warrant the expectation that this will be by far the best summer school in the history of the institution.

The outlook for next year is very promising. Already a number of admissions to the freshman class are certain and the indications are that with the opening of next fall term we will witness the largest attendance in the history of the institution.

With profound thanks to Almighty God and with an expression of appreciation to our friends everywhere we close this year with the consciousness that we have made an effort to make the school year a success. Keenly conscious of our own failures we look into next year with the hope of improving over whatever of shortcomings may have attended our work during the past year.

W. G. CLIPPINGER.

Alumnals

Edgar J. Leshner '06 left the hospital at Pittsburg after a five weeks' illness of paralysis. His improvement has been such that he can walk from the bed to the chair. His condition is the result of being thrown from a buggy last October.

Rev. C. E. Byrer and wife of Springfield were guests Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weaver of 963 Neil Ave. Columbus.

Dr. Charles Snively '94 and wife have returned after a year's leave of absence. Professor still wears his Sunny Jim smile and we are glad to have him back.

Early Commencement visitors are: C. A. Welch '09, C. V. Nisvonger, '09, C. D. Altman '05, A. L. Barnes, '94, Mrs. Lillian R. Harford, '73, Miss Delpha Bellinger '08, Orin A. Albert '09.

JUNE WEDDINGS.

Cupid Invades Ranks of Otterbein Grads.

The fame of Greater Otterbein has spread until it has reached the ears of the little God of Love, and he has realized that he must work over time to keep abreast. However he has never yet known defeat and this June in Westerville will show the effects of his designs. Commencement week weddings are all the rage.

An event of the commencement week will be the celebration of the nuptials of Clark E. Worman, '07, and Miss Emma Guitner, '01. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. E. Guitner. Mr. Worman has been Educational Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Rhode Island and Massachusetts. Miss Guitner is Secretary of Y. W. C. A. in Germantown, Philadelphia.

The couple will go to India where Mr. Worman is under appointment as secretary of province Y. M. C. A.

Last Wednesday at 11 a. m., Prof. Otto A. Bailey, '07, of Piqua High School, was married to Miss Mary Allison, of Oak Hill, Ohio, a former student in Otterbein. Following the ceremony the couple left for the East where they will visit for some time among friends. They will be at home in Piqua after September 1.

Professor Bailey was a star football player while in school and was captain of the '07 team.

Another football hero to be scored upon is M. O. Titus, '07, better known as "Bill," who will be united in marriage to Miss Myrtle Osborn, of Marshall, Ind., on the 16th of this month. Mr. Titus is professor of mathematics in the high school at Bloomdale, Ind.

PROFS TO WED.

bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. S. W. Keister, on West College avenue.

Athletics Versus Gymnasium.

People who are outside of college, and especially parents of those in college, often, and I might say generally, depreciate the value of Athletics and laud to the skies the value of a Gymnasium. To convince these people of the falseness of their position is not an easy task, although the position which they take is undoubtedly untenable.

The reason for this mistake is that they look upon both as a means of physical development. This may be true primarily of the Gymnasium but not at all true of Athletics. That this is a part of the good to be derived from them is undoubtedly a fact, but not the major part.

Primarily Athletics are for recreation. A college student should become mutually fatigued daily, so that his mutual facilities may develop properly; but this must alternate with and be broken by some sort of physical fatigue, in which there is a keen enjoyment. Few men get any great amount of enjoyment from Calisthenics. Consequently the mind is not relaxed but often an added tension is put upon it. When our Gymnasium instructors shall have learned to make play out of their exercises, so soon will a Gymnasium become a place for recreation and not for work.

When a man plays football or baseball, he is playing not working; and any one who has ever watched children play for twelve hours per day, will be able to understand how a man playing football will increase in weight and and better his health by doing the most difficult work.

Athletics give also the best kind of physical development. They do this because they develop all parts of the body naturally. The legs, the back, the muscles of the abdomen, the chest and the various organs of the body are all strengthened as needed. The tendency in the gymnasium is to over develop some of the exterior parts of the body to the detriment of the rest.

However the greatest good of properly controlled athletics lies in the development of character. You may read your Bible and regularly attend religious services and be, as many of us are, lacking in the most essential qualities of manhood. In the first place you may be lacking in self-mastery. The greatest danger of college life may be intemperance. I use the word in its larger sense. To be a good Athlete you must be temperate in eating, sleeping and waking. You must abstain from tobacco and intoxicants. In other words, you must put yourself under a mastery and restraint which are not only good physically but also morally.

Yet this is not all. When you play you meet men of like ability with yourself and realize that no matter how good you are, you must sometimes suffer defeat. And to be able to take defeat one week and be ready to strike with all your might the next, is one of the best courses of training one can have. Also, when you are victorious, you do not disdain nor hold yourself aloof but appreciate the manly efforts of your opponents. It is well known that many fast friendships have been formed

Finally, Athletics tend to the development of the civic ideals. They do this by teaching one to give his efforts to the whole town. No man can play and be selfish. One's self must be entirely submerged in the work of the team. This carried into our civic life would soon do away with our civic troubles. Much more could be said on the moral influence of Athletics but I am content to say that from my observation and experience, as long as Athletics are con-

ART EXHIBIT

MUCH ADMIRER BY MANY VISITORS
YESTERDAY

Work of Art Students on Display Monday Afternoon Evincing Great Skill.
Much Progress Made in Past Year.

A magnificent display of China painting, water coloring, craft work, life paintings, etc was admired by a large number of visitors and students at the Art exhibit held yesterday afternoon in the Art department from the hours three to five. Every article showed great skill on the part of the designer and brought forth many pleasing comments. Instructors and students received the visitors and conducted them through the various rooms. Music was furnished by a select orchestra.

In the craft work room a table carved by Miss Luella Jones and two piano stools carved by Miss Nora Thompson and Miss Daisy Clifton were special objects of interest.

The oil and water color work by Miss Sara Shisler who graduates this year from the Art department was of exceptional interest because of its originality. To Miss Shisler belongs the honor of being the first Art graduate in Otterbein who has confined herself to original work.

Looking upon the paintings in the life room the visitor could not but admire the excellent and careful work in this department. Precision and great skill characterized these paintings. This work of Art was done by the Misses Thompson and Clifton instructors, and the Misses McKean and McFarland who will graduate in Art next year.

The exhibits in the drawing room under the supervision of Miss Nora Thompson showed splendid talent in this line. Here too the display was especially attractive because of the original work.

To the lovers of high quality China painting the exhibit in this department under the direction of Miss Clifton was exceedingly pleasing. Beautiful painted plates, cups and various other dishes were greatly admired by the visitors.

As a whole the exhibit was indicative of exceedingly satisfactory work for the past year. Much work has been done and a better quality has been turned out than in any previous year. Originality or the dispensing with copies is finding favor with the greater number of the students, and promises to become a great factor in still further improvement. This will aid much in placing the Art department here on a level with that of the best departments in the country.

Too much credit cannot be given Mrs. Scott the director of department and to the other instructors Misses Clifton and Thompson in bringing the department to its present standard of efficiency.

NOT TO SUPPLANT

But to Supplement Other Organizations is Purpose of R. E. A.

Among the many things to attract the attention of students entering Otterbein University is the existence of a large number of organizations. In February 1909 a new organization bearing the name "The Religious Education Association of Otterbein University" was added to the number. We have no apologies to offer for the existence of the R. E. A. It is intended not to supplant but to supplement the other organizations. It is hard to convey an adequate conception of such an organization. It is neither a Christian Endeavor society, Young Men's Christian Association, Students' Volunteer Band, Prayer meeting, nor Literary society. We shall give a few facts and leave the reader to make his own inferences.

The purpose of the Association is to enable its members to be helpful to each other in promoting the spiritual life and assisting in the pursuit of a college course, to call more definite attention to the work of the Gospel Ministry and be an effective religious force in the life of the college, to stand in support of a high educational qualification for leadership in religious work and to do more to advance the interests of Otterbein University by soliciting students personally and by correspondence. Any member of the student body having a definite purpose to do a specific religious work is eligible for membership. At the present time the enrollment is sixty, including four honorary members.

Basketball.

The interest manifested, and the excellent schedule which M'gr. Menke had arranged was greatly responsible for a splendid record at the end of last season's basketball career.

Capt. Sanders had his men on the floor early in the fall so that he was enabled to round up some splendid material at the opening of the season.

Every man on the team played good ball and worked hard. Warner, Cook and Bailey as guards on the defense were hard men to evade, and could be relied upon to toss the ball in the cage when occasion presented itself. Sanders and Young at forwards worked together in fine style and were always dangerous to their opponents at any stage of the game. Cornet and Lambert at the center position both put up good ball and were always mixing in good team work.

The season ended with seven victories and four defeats.

STATE RECORD

Made by Y. M. C. A. in Bible and Mission Study. Noted speakers frequently in Attendance

The best test of an organization is what it has accomplished. The fact that Otterbein's Y. M. C. A. is the first in the state in Bible Study and Mission Study is sufficient proof of its efficiency. The success of the Y. M. C. A. this year is due to the efficient work of the two Presidents I. D. Warner, D. C. Shumaker and the hearty cooperation of the members of the cabinets.

The Devotional Committee has been especially active in securing good leaders who gave splendid messages on all phases of life. Some of the non-student leaders for the year were: Dr. F. E. Miller, H. H. Lichty, Rev. Dr. Kingman, Clarence Metters, Prof. E. P. Durrant, Dr. Washington Glad-den, Dr. J. M. Phillippi, Prof. R. H. Wagoner, Dr. E. A. Jones, Rev. Dr. Bishop, Hon. E. O. Randall, C. M. Broadie, and Dr. Timberman.

The Budget for the year amounted to $400. One hundred dollars was given to missions. Sixty five dollars to the State Secretary and the rest was distributed among the various activities of the Y. M. C. A. here. There is now a balance of $135 in the Treasury.

The success of the year in Bible Study is especially gratifying. There were 110 men enrolled in Bible study with an attendance of 80 per cent. Fifty of these men kept the morning watch. The Bible Study chairman F. W. Fansher attributes much of the success of this good work to the leaders of the twelve classes namely: Dick, Wagner, Hartman, Grill, Mattis, Bilsing, Shumaker, Briner, Meyer, Baker, Brane and Essig.

Mission Study also stands at the head of the line. There were 120 men enrolled in Mission Study during the year. Ten classes were conducted during the fall term and eight during the winter term. Five classes were perfect in attendance having an average of 100 per cent. Mr. A. S. Keister, chairman of Mission Study committee says "It is the best record in the state."

ZEAL FOR MISSIONS

Volunteer Band Proposes to Increase Interest for Missions Among Students.

The Student Volunteer band of Otterbein is composed of the young men and women who look forward to work in the foreign Missionary field. Their meetings are held weekly for the study of missionary problems and literature. It is the purpose of the Volunteer band to increase the interest and zeal for missions among the students and to keep before the students the spirit of world-wide evangelization. The members of the Band frequently respond to calls for missionary talks in Columbus and other nearby localities. The Otterbein Volunteer band is a member of the Central Ohio Union, an organization of the Volunteer bands of the northern and Central Ohio colleges.

The meetings are held in the cabinet room of the Association building. This year they were held regularly at eight o'clock on Monday evening, but will probably be held at a different hour next year. It is the thought now to have separate meetings of the Bands of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. having the first meeting of each month a joint meeting, at which time we shall have with the devotional service some such subject as "An evening with Africa," China, or Japan, etc. The separate meetings, as all others, will be very informal, at which time we shall discuss any questions that may arise.

The Band endeavors to keep in touch with the Bands of the colleges, and with the work of the general Volunteer Movement, as well as the workers on the fields, especially those who are alumni and former students of Otterbein.

Those interested are invited to attend any of the meetings

One of the best gridiron aggregations in Ohio represented Otterbein last fall on the grassy plot.

Under the management of L. J. Essig a fine schedule was procured, including Cincinnati with which we have just started negotiations. Financially the team was the best success known in the history of athletics at Otterbein.

Exendine, the all American end at one time, and graduate of the Carlisle school for Indians was secured as coach. His coaching was a special feature of the team's work and to him undoubtedly belongs the credit for much of the success enjoyed.

Much commendation is due the Captain, H. P. Lambert who kept the spirit of the team at a high pitch and who was always at hand to encourage his men.

Three defeats were suffered out of the ten games played. In two of these three defeats Otterbein outplayed her opponents each time.

Much credit is due the second and third teams who aided materially in making possible a splendid varsity.

The schedule of games played appears below.

CLASS OF 1860

IN WHOSE HONOR 105 CHOICE
BOOKS ARE PLACED IN LI-BRARY

Mrs. Harriet Smith, '60 Originator of Happy Plan to Celebrate Graduation Anniversary of her Class
With Library Gift.

The Library has just been enriched by a gift of 105 volumes presented in honor of the 50th anniversary of the graduation of the class of 1860. It occurred to Mrs. Harriet Hively Smith, '60, to celebrate this important anniversary by presenting to the Library a beautifully bound set of Stoddard's Lectures. This happy thought was quickly caught up by others who wished to honor the memory of friends who were members of that class.

Mrs. Guitner presented a set of the Booklovers' edition of Shakespeare in memory of Prof. J. E. Guitner, '60.

Mrs. M. A. Fisher presented twenty volumes from her own library in memory of her brother, Capt. J. W. Haynie, '60.

Dr. L. Woodruff presented twenty-four volumes that had been in the library of his wife, Mary Miller Woodruff, '60.

Mrs. L. W. Taylor presented six books on the subject of Art in memory of her mother, Mary Haynie White, '60.

The entire presentation is of great value and the patrons of the library may well join Mrs. Smith in hoping that her generous idea may continue to bear fruit in years to come.

The books are now on the display shelves in the Library.

FINDLAY BEATEN

OTTERBEIN WINS OUT IN A HOT
FIVE INNING CONTEST

In an interesting contest last Monday Varsity defeated Findlay by the score of 11-6 on the opponent's ground. The game was called at the end of the fifth inning, in order that our fellows might catch their train. Eleven runs in five innings looked as though it were our game from the start, but these runs were not accumulated until the fourth when Findlay was quite a little way in the lead.

The score:

Base Ball Team, '10

BASEBALL

The season for 1910 has been a great baseball season for Otterbein, both from a standpoint of games won and from the interest taken in the team. The manager was very fortunate in arranging a fine schedule, so that we were enabled to make a good showing when we mowed our opponents before us.

Much interest was taken in the team from the start of the season. As a result of this interest the services of Clyde Goodwin, a member of the Columbus A. A. team, was secured. With his good coaching together with the ardent work of our captain, "Skinny" Weinland, the team was rounded into shape. On April the second we played our first game. This was with Ohio Wesleyan university and we whipped them by the large score of 14 to 6. This team is considered possibly the best in the state, having beaten Oberlin and the larger colleges of the state.

Out of twelve college games played, we have taken ten of them, but one of these was lost to West Virginia, Wesleyan, on the southern trip, while the other game was lost in a hard luck game to Heidelberg university. Two games remain to be played as yet, one with Denison university and one with Ohio Wesleyan university. The fifteenth game was the game with the Columbus Senators, where we managed to run up four runs on the American Association boys, only going down to defeat in the last innings by a score of 12 to 4.

Great care must be taken not to pass by the players without giving them their share of credit. Every player who played on the Varsity was always there with the goods and ready to work, which alone has made this season our best season of baseball in the history of Otterbein.

been due largely to the efforts of the two presidents, Lillian Resler and May Dick, and their respective cabinets.

The fall term opened with a membership of 58 which was increased to 85 before the term closed.

Five special addresses were given during the fall term. Some of the speakers were Miss Guitner, who spoke on Bible Study; Dr. Huber on Missions and Mrs. L. R. Harford and Dr. Sanders on other helpful themes.

Just before Christmas, the Extension Committee decorated a tree and provided other useful presents for the poor of the town.

On December 11, 1909, a Christmas Bazaar was held, the proceeds of which were turned into the Summer Conference Fund. This fund has been raised higher this year than it has ever been before.

Irene Staub was appointed to represent the Y. W. C. A. at the Rochester Student Volunteer convention.

The enrollment at the beginning of the winter term was 80 and at its close was 91. The Missionary committee arranged for special speakers this term. The first one was Mrs. Mary Albert, a returned missionary, now editor of the Woman's Evangel, at Dayton, O. She gave an inspiring talk which helped the Y. W. C. A. during the revival which followed.

The Y. W. C. A. was represented by eight delegates at the conference in Akron, O., Feb. 24-28.

Much credit is due the Financial committee for its effort in bringing about a successful financial year.

Other special addresses were by Miss Helen Osborn, traveling secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement; Dr. Clippinger on "Missions;" Dr. Jones on "Songs and their History."

Mrs. Samuel Higginbottom on "Mission Work Among Lepers in India."

Miss Walker, of Chicago, spoke concerning the Mission Training school. Mrs. Lillian Mauk Lawrence spoke at the Alumnae meeting.

Miss Helen Sewal, the student secretary of Y. W. C. A. made the Otterbein association a visit April 2-7, during which the time was filled with helpful suggestions and talks to the various committees and individual girls.

The association will be represented by several girls at the summer conference at Denison University June 24 to July 5.

Minister—"And will you take this woman for better or worse?"

Prof. X—"I do, but I hope we can strike an average."

Becky (walking with his first point)—"Smith is such a charming name. Are you any relation to John Smith?"

OXFORD GRADUATE.

Secured to Teach French Next Year.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees this morning, Shirley T. Wing, a graduate of Ohio State University and of the University of Oxford, England, was elected to supply the vacancy in the French department during Prof.

Rosselot's leave of absence.

Prof. Wing is at present in England having just completed his course at Oxford. While there he specialized in French. He has also spent eighteen months in France studying the French language. The university is indeed fortunate in securing a man of his efficiency to fill this vacancy.

Engagement Announced.

Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Nau, of Carroll, O., celebrated their 26th wedding anniversary Saturday evening. At the end of the luncheon Dr. Nau announced the engagement of his son, John Harold Nau, '10, to Miss Louella May Smith, '10, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. McKendree Smith, of Arlington.

Fiftieth Anniversary.

This year is the fiftieth anniversary of the class of 1860 of which two survive, Mr. William Langham and Mrs. Harriet Hively Smith. The latter is in attendance at the commencement exercises.

$100,000 ENDOWMENT.

$40,000 Received Last Week From

$100,000 of Half Million
Endowment.

A telegram last week to President Clippinger bearing the glad tidings that $40,000 had been received from certain Pennsylvania parties brought with it the assurance of a $500,000 endowment fund.

This amount received last week with Mrs. Cochran's gift and other smaller sums nets $100,000 subscribed this year to the contingent funds.

At the Otterbein Parliament held here last October the Board of Trustees decided to make an effort to place an endowment upon the school sufficient for its support. To this end their first aim was to raise $500,000. The result of the past year's efforts indicates an encouraging realization of this goal.

The past year has been the best financial year that Otterbein has ever known. The efforts of President Clippinger and Dr. Williamson with those of the Trustees and the loyal support of Otterbein friends have made possible a bright future for our beloved university.

The New Day.

There's a disc of red
In the eastern sky
And another day is dawning;
Sad hearts that have bled
Are healed well-nigh
With the sunbeams bright
That dispel the night;
And to souls in pain
It brings cheer again
With the magic of the morning.

TWELVE RECITALS

GIVEN BY MUSIC STUDENTS IN PAST YEAR

Music Department Directed by Prof.
Grabill Does Excellent Work.
Prof. Resler Builds Up Vocal Department.

The first year in the new home in the Lambert Fine Arts Building has been one of splendid success to the music department of which Prof. G. G. Grabill is director. Every department has done exceedingly well. During the year twelve recitals were rendered one having been given each month and at the close of each term. It has been the aim of the department to have each one of the music students participate in these recitals. This has been a great fact or in making the year a grand success.

Three theoretical studies were offered during the year: Theory of Music, Harmony, and History of Music. The former is a new study and is given without any additional charge to those studying piano. Much credit is due each instructor who has assisted greatly in making possible a most successful year in music.

The Vocal department under the direction of Prof. F. J. Resler has enjoyed a splendid record during the past year. Prof. Resler has built up numerous musical organizations in the University from comparatively nothing in the way of organization. A college Glee club, the first in the history of the school, a splendid chorus, and a college choir all deserve special mention. An innovation to Otterbein were numerous sacred choir recitals rendered during the year which were enjoyed by large and appreciative audiences.

In all, the work of the music department has won a reputation of which any school or community might well be proud.
