ARE LIMITED TO THOUGHTFULNESS FOR OTHERS.

True Spirit of Christmas Should Ring, "Peace on Earth Good Will Toward Men."

From the great steel king, whose gift of ten millions dollars for the promotion of international peace opened in amazement the mouths of 90 millions of people, down to the humble laborer who divides his meager fare with the weary, homeless traveler, the spirit of Christmas prevails. Many as are the varieties of this spirit, and many as are the means of expressing it, strange as it may seem, the motive back of these two gifts might have been the same:—the first in the ultimate, the latter in the instant, "good will toward men."

But to come to the general consideration of what Xmas means to the multitude, we might pause and ask the question as to whether or not we are missing the true spirit of the season. In giving, it is true that there is good will, for the word "gift" means a voluntary action. But does our gift mean good will toward men? Does anyone receive a joy from it besides the giver and the receiver? Does it mean any more to either of them than a material gain? The gift should mean far more than this. It should be a token, as the gift of the Christ Child was a token. If it is a token then there is a spirit extant which might carry the effect of the gift beyond the principals.

After all, the natural gift has little to do with the real spirit

VARSITY BANQUETED.

Cap't, Cap't-Elect and Manager Treat 1910 Veterans to Sump- tuous Feast.

Those lucky enough to play Varsity football this fall were considerable more fortunate in being the participants of a football feed held in their honor last Tuesday evening. The banquet was given by the Captain, Manager and Captain-elect as an expression of their appreciation of the team's work during the past season.

The feed was held at Williams' Parlors and everything that is edible from turkey to ice cream was served. After the eatings, speeches were given by the seven seniors, Albert Lambert, and the Manager of 1910 and of 1911.

When the festivities were over the boys strolled around to the President's residence and gave vent to their feelings in a few cheers. From the president's they visited the different houses of the profs. Professors Grabill and Resler in turn responded with some happy remarks.

Those who were present at the banquet are: H. Lambert, Art Lambert, Snively, McLeod, Hogg, Hatton, Al. Lambert, Funk, John, Sanders, W. Bailey, Wagner, Gilbert, Wineland, Hartman, Mattis, Bailey and Moses.

"THE COLLEGE CHUM"

To Be Given By Members of Junior Class in Near Future.

A play entitled "The College Chum" is now under preparation by the members of the Junior class. This play will be given in the chapel some two weeks following the Christmas of Christmas; but seems rather an emblematic purpose, and perhaps has some considerable weight as a kind of shibboleth. This order should be reversed, and our hearts should create the gift, instead of having the process of giving stir us to the spirit of the true giver.

In the inverted or contorted method of giving too often is one so fascinated with the brightness of the promised result of our enterprise that we are blinded to the present surroundings. In our blindness we trample over, or brush aside our fellowmen in order to show our good will to our friends. How many of us, with the thought of the divine proclamation "good will toward men," inconvenience ourselves a trifle in order to make the fight a bit easier for those who are our servants in the various avenues of mercantile activity? To be more specific how many of us, this year, have done one thing to make this busy holiday season one bit easier for those strangers who serve us so faithfully in the hurried bustle of holiday shopping? Have we made them pay a price for a gift to a friend or relative which should have been wholly our own? Though strangers, they are our neighbors and they are our brothers, through the spirit of the Christ.

December 25 should mark the end of a whole year during which we prepare for the supreme enjoyment which culminates on this day, not something to be attained through any means whatsoever with our eye only to the final enjoyment. Such a spirit would bear the same relation to the same spirit of Christmas that the Religious wars bore to their Christianity—The end did not justify the means.

This year let us strive to have the true spirit of the Christ during this season of great joy and peace. Let us refrain from adding to the burden on the already stooping shoulders of our brothers by a careless indifference or a thoughtless selfishness. If we can do no more, let us open up the windows of our hearts, and share with our brother who lives in darkness, a portion of the new sunlight that cheers our lives. Let us give to every one we meet a draught of the milk of human kindness drawn from the source that God has given every one of us. Let us live that whole season that on Christmas morning we may join with the Angelic choir in proclaiming the spirit of the Heavenly Father when he gave us his Son,—the spirit which we have made our own, "on earth, peace good will toward men. H

R. W. Moses, Mgr. 1911 Squad.

At a called meeting of the Athletic Board, Tuesday after chapel, R. W. Moses was elected Football Manager for the season of nineteen eleven. Moses' service this year as Ass't Manager proved his ability for the place.

Already he is in communication with the management of some of the strongest teams in the state, a fact which points to a strong schedule for next year.

"The End of the Rainbow"—was the unique subject considered at Y. M. C. A. Thursday night. S. W. Bilsing led the discussion. He related the old story of our childhood concerning the little girl who went in search of the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow. He said that the rainbow was like the fleeting popular pleasures which occupy the minds of so many. The pot of gold at the end of the rainbow is never reached; so real enjoyment of life never results from its trivial and oftentimes questionable pleasures.

The rainbow with its seven colors is pleasing to the eye and attracts our attention. Questionable amusements are clothed with beautiful and enticing apparel and often disguise their real nature. The rainbow and such pleasures alike promise much and yield worse than nothing.

An orchestra selection was a pleasing feature of the meeting. Dr. Miller was announced as the speaker for the next meeting after the Christmas vacation.

Y. W. C. A.

"Crime of Unconcern" was the topic of Y. W. C. A. last Tuesday evening. The leader, Marie Huntwork, read the scripture lesson from Matt. 2; 4-25. Hazel Dixon favored the association with a vocal solo, "Lord Thou Art our Shepherd."

Some of the thoughts the leader brought out are:

Indifference is no proof of ignorance but of mental and moral laziness. We can leave the world a little better or we may leave it worse. By living the negative Christian life we are apt to be unconcerned with all fallen companions. The only sure way to overcome indifference is to overcome the ignorance it implies. In order to have a true development one must scorn mental laziness. Usually we are so care free and do not examine self. We find ourselves trying to evade the conviction of guilt. One with a weak will sins against his better self. By not considering our own ways we will fall victims. Finally we will be punished if we use the crime of unconcern to shield our own sins.

C. Lash was visited by his sister the latter part of the week.

Merry Christmas and a happy
New Year.

Declamation to-night; Cantata to-morrow —Go.

Don't take too many books home over vacation—you might be tempted? to study.

The Christmas cheer with the promised home-goings, family reunions and the gatherings of old friends has caught us all. Each day finds this happy spirit growing more intense as vacation draws near. But these anticipations for the day should not be self centered. There should be on the other hand an altruistic spirit which would at least prompt the giving out of good cheer to old friends and expressions of "good will toward men."
For in this spirit only is there real happiness for the day.

Note: The next issue of the Review will appear Jan. 9.

The Season's Greetings.

When the Rev. Mr. Whinney left his charge to shepherd another flock there was a deficit in his salary of nineteen dollars and seventy-five cents. This the steward promised to send him but must have had his fingers crossed for the money was not forthcoming.

As time passed on and the holiday season came once more the Rev. Mr. Whinney entered his study to send forth the usual greetings for a merry Christmas and a happy New Year. He concluded to remember his former parishioners also. He chuckled as he wrote, "Dear Brethren and Sisters:—We send you the greetings of the season and trust you will be able to pay a preacher's salary."

The reply came back, "Reverend Sir:—We send you the greetings of the season and trust you will be able to earn a preacher's salary."

Basketball Schedule.

Manager Hogg has completed an excellent schedule for the coming basketball season having secured contracts for eleven games.
Six of these will be played on the Westerville floor. The schedule reads as follows:

Jan. 7—O. S. U. at Columbus.
Jan. 14—Bliss at Westerville.
Jan. 20—Muskingum at New Concord.
Jan. 21—Denison at Granville.

LINCOLN MEMORIAL.

Dr. Russell made an interesting announcement in yesterday's Sunday School service concerning the proposed Lincoln Memorial building. Cleopas Breckenridge who spoke at the Lincoln Memorial service here two years ago telling how Lincoln persuaded him to sign the temperance pledge has contributed the first $1000 for this building. Each year a day will be set aside for the Sunday Schools of the Nation to contribute to the cause of temperance. Next year's offering will be used to purchase a new

THE CHRISTMAS BELLS.

Merrily ring out the glad Christmas bells;
Oh, what a story their grand music tells;
Sounding exultingly over the Earth,
Telling the story of Bethlehem's birth!

Sweetly they mingle with angelic song,
Ever increasing in tones clear and strong,
Rolling triumphantly on, far and wide,
Over broad countries and sea's restless tide.

Bright beams the star in the Earth's midnight sky,
Pointing mankind to the Child from on high;
Source of the light of that new-dawning day
Whose ne'er setting sun drives sin's darkness away.

Heavenly messengers singing in time
The sweetest of anthems from heaven's bright clime;
Waking the shepherds on Judea's hill,
Stirring their souls with a heavenly thrill.

Then ring, bells so sweetly, sing on angel choir,
Arise, Sun of Righteousness higher and higher;
Shine on star of Bethlehem, with your clear light, Point wayfaring men to the King of the Right.

'Tis Christmas, glad Christmas, O may it ne'er cease
To harmonize discord to heavenly peace;
May Jesus be born in the hearts of lost men,
Till Earth is transformed into Eden again.

But hark! 'tis a message sent forth by the King
Who sent angels forth that first Christmas to sing,
"Lo! this is my Son well-beloved, hear him;
His word shall endure when the sun waxeth dim."

"Unto Him shall be gathered mankind of all lands;

Dominion, and power, He holds in His hands;
His mighty Salvation, His Kingdom and Peace,
Move onward eternally, ne'er shall they cease."

Then ring, merry Christmas bells, fill ev'ry heart
With that sweet peace that shall never depart;
Oh, join in the angelic chorus, ye men,
Until it re-echoes to heaven again.

Semester Recital.

The School of Music rendered its semester recital last Wednesday evening to a large and appreciative audience. Because of the excellence of previous performances an enjoyable program was anticipated and no one was disappointed. The numbers, both instrumental and vocal, were of a high order and were delightfully rendered. Both instructors and pupils merit high praise for their pleasing renditions.

This recital is another indication of the growing interest taken in Otterbein's efficient Department of Music.

GRAND PROJECT

Demands Attention and Support of Review Readers.

In previous numbers of the Review several articles have appeared pertaining to the need of a new athletic field, and the movement now in progress for its realization. A brief statement of the present situation is as follows:

Last year the present Senior class, realizing that if Otterbein's present standing in Athletics is to be held, and the physical development of her students properly cared for, proposed to the Board of Trustees of Otterbein University that upon the purchase of an adequate plot of ground upon which to erect an up-to-date athletic field, they would solicit $2000.00 to be spent in grading and developing the field.

The college trustees gladly accepted the proposition with the understanding that if the $2000 be raised they would have the field ready for dedication by June 1, 1911.

The class at once set to work and have raised to date $1046.00 in cash and pledges, leaving almost $1000.00 yet to be solicited.

The business men of Westerville, college professors and students have contributed liberally and now we are asking our friends, the readers of the Review, to give us a liberal boost on the remaining $1000.00

We cannot allow this great opportunity to pass, for when this $2000 is raised, ten special friends have pledged $500 each which will be spent in further developing the field, which contributions will assure one of the best fields in the State. We must make sure of the 1st $2000, then the $5000.00 will come. How much will you give toward securing it?

I subscribe the amount indicated below for the development of a new athletic field at Otterbein. To be paid on or before.... 1911.

Marlin Big Game REPEATING RIFLES

The Special Smokeless Steel barrel, rifled deep on the Ballard system, creates perfect combustion, develops highest velocity and hurls the bullet with utmost accuracy and mightiest killing impact.

The mechanism is direct-acting, strong, simple and perfectly adjusted. It never clogs. The protecting wall of solid steel between your head and cartridge keeps rain, sleet, snow and all foreign matter from getting into the action. The side ejection throws shells away from line of sight and allows instant repeat shots always.

Built in perfect proportion throughout, in many high power calibres, it is a quick handling, powerful, accurate gun for all big game.

Every hunter should know all the Marlin characteristics. The Marlin Firearms Co. Send for our free catalog. Enclose 3 stamps for postage. 42 Willow Street New Haven, Conn.

Rev. R. C. Ward instructor of music in the Capital School of Oratory, Columbus, visited R. E. Emmitt and family Sunday.

Miss Grace Euverard, a student of last year, who is now teaching at Arlington Heights visited Miss Clara Hendrix, Sunday.

The holly which now decorates the college chapel and Cochran Hall is a Christmas gift from Mr. Ernest Phillips of Buckhannon, West Virginia. All thanks to Mr. Phillips.

D. A. Poling, State Secretary of the C. E. Union of Ohio, spoke at both C. E. and church service last evening.

G. W. Alexander, of Cleveland, spent the fore part of the week among the Otterbein boys securing agents for the R. C. Barnum publishing company.

Many of the Chautauqua desk canvassers have been busy during odd, or even hours delivering their wares in Columbus last week. No doubt many of the boys and girls will be made happy on account of their visits. Warner was delivering in Dayton Friday and Saturday. On Sunday he went to Salem to see Edna.

John Snavely had the misfortune to slip on the icy pavement Friday sustaining a slight injury.

Roy S. Ressler of McKeesport, Pa., was in Westerville a short time Thursday visiting his sister, Miss Lillie Ressler, and other relatives and friends. Mr. Ressler was enroute to El Paso, Texas.

Frank J. Ash, a former student in the year, '05 and '06, of Cleveland was a visitor at Westerville Saturday.

The lecture of Col. Bain last Saturday night in the College Chapel was one of the best ever delivered in the Chapel. This lecture was heard by a small but delighted audience.

Leahy—"I saw a fellow with your girl yesterday.

Bierly—"That's all right. He's substituting for me."
