THE OTTERBEIN REVIEW

Vol. I

WESTERVILLE, OHIO, April 26th, 1909

No. 1

Otterbein Sixty-Two Years Old Today.

April 26, 1847, is a date long to be remembered for at that time occurred the founding of Otterbein University.

Just 62 years ago today, Otterbein came into existence. For several years there had been agitation for a United Brethren college to compete with colleges of other denominations but it was on this date, April 26, 1847, that the trustees of Scioto and Sandusky conferences met for the first time and founded the institution with the name "The Otterbein University of Ohio," its name being taken from Philip William Otterbein, the founder of the church.

It is not our purpose to relate the early struggles of our University, but to call attention to the significance of the fact that on the sixty-second anniversary of the founding of the institution appears the first issue of the Otterbein Review.

After years of toil, struggle and despair at times, Otterbein has grown to a position of eminence that places her among the foremost Universities of the state. As to the Otterbein Review—we shall not soliloquize.

Sophomore-Senior Banquet.

On the evening, of April 20, the Sophomore class gave a banquet in honor of the Seniors at Cochran Hall. The dining room was artistically decorated, class and Otterbein pennants being much in evidence. After the classes had exchanged cordial greetings in the dormitory parlors they decended to the dining hall to participate in the banquet royal. A fictitious menu had been arranged which kept all guessing as to what was coming next.

Miss Leila Bates nobly acquitted herself as toastmistress.

The following program was rendered:

Music
"By Gone Days".....Orchestra
"Salve".....R. M. Fox
"As You Like It".....Miss Daisy Clifton
Music.
"Be My Huckleberry Do".....Orchestra
"A Mid-Summer Night's Dream",
.....I. R. Libecap
"Ten Nights in Otterbein"
.....Miss Helen Weinland
"The Round-Up".....I. D. Warner

Music
"Plantation Echoes".....Orchestra
Mr. Fox extended to the Seniors a hearty welcome. Contrary to his usual custom, however, his address was characterized by brevity.

Miss Clifton in "As You Like It," bore to the Sophomores the compliments of the Seniors and highly entertained the classes with a modern chapel talk.

In "A Mid-Summer Night's Dream," Mr. I. R. Libecap admirably succeeded in getting a joke on each Sophomore.

This attack was met and repulsed, first by Miss Helen Weinland in "Ten Nights in Otterbein," which was profuse with original poetry; second by Mr. I. D. Warner in the "The Round-Up" which consisted of letters pretended to have been received by himself telling of the occupations and whereabouts of each jolly Senior.

M. A. Ditmer's drum solo was a fitting close for the occasion and as the hands of the clock were slowly creeping toward the midnight hour the guests departed declaring that the Sophomores were hosts ne plus ultra.

Friday night, the clanging of bells and shouts of the High School students gave evidence that Westerville had won first honors in the County Oratorical Contest held at Columbus. Miss Esther VanBuskirk easily won first place with her oration, "Abraham Lincoln." Being first is a habit of our High School contestants.

Baseball.

Last Saturday the Otterbein baseball team, fresh from its pronounced victory over Ohio State the previous Saturday, journeyed to New Concord where the Muskingum boys were laying in wait for them.

The game was started promptly at 2:45 when Lloyd, leading off for O. U. with the stick, was hit by a pitched ball, Ketner struck out and Lloyd stole second and third. Wagner waited on four wide ones and stole second, Wine-land struck out but Sanders planted a pretty single between second and short, thereby scoring Lloyd and Wagner. Otterbein annexed another in the fifth when Young was hit by a pitched ball, stole second and went home on Wagner's single and an error by Paxton. However the boys were not satisfied with three counts and in the seventh annexed three more. John was hit by a pitched ball, stole second and third and counted on an error by House. Three bases on balls, four stolen bases and two errors brought in the other two.

Otterbein's infield work was spectacular. Young and Keister were there with the goods, the former accepting six chances without a slip and the latter ten. Captain Ketner had only one chance at second which he handled cleanly. John at first gave a good account of himself and is proving the best man Otterbein has had for years on the initial bag.

Ketner---Beery.

Captain F. G. Ketner and Miss Maud Beery married! Rather hard to believe, but they are married sure enough.

The natives were indeed startled Tuesday to learn that "Ket," Junior and Captain of the baseball team, had married Miss Maud Beery at Lancaster Monday. Miss Beery has not been in school this term and the separation was more than our worthy captain could bear. After the victory over Ohio State Saturday, he was naturally feeling exuberant and so he slipped down to Lancaster and celebrated by taking unto himself a wife unbeknown to his friends. Somehow the secret leaked out, and now congratulations are extended on every hand. Mr. and Mrs. Ketner, kindly permit THE OTTERBEIN REVIEW to extend to you best wishes for a long happy life. It is rumored that other members of the team are contemplating doing the same stunt,—but this is only rumor.

Editorial.

Greetings! A new college paper at Otterbein makes a profound bow and modestly calls attention to its appearance. "What's in a name" has often been asked and the name of this new paper is significant. "The Otterbein Review" is a weekly and it will indeed contain a review of the happenings at O. U. for the week.

In bringing forth this new publication, it is our aim to give news, good news, all the news, newsy news, hot off the press each week, there will be write ups of the weekly meetings of Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., C. E. and other religious organizations, athletics, oratorical news, of all kinds and in brief, all news of any importance that will be of interest to everyone in Otterbein at the present time and to those who have left her walls and whose love is alive for O. U. whether that individual be in this land or across the seas.

To make this paper successful, we need your support; no enterprise can be successful without hearty co operations and to give us your support is to keep alive an organ that represents the University in every particular.

Our slogan is news, fresh, breezy, interesting news of Otterbein each week for the best interests of all, regardless of organization or society affiliation. These are great days at Otterbein and you want to keep in touch with what is going on. Are you with us? Line up, one and all for The Otterbein Review.

Can You Guess?

Can you guess these enigmas? Surnames of persons in O. U. Answers next week.

1. German for small.
2. German for stingy (an antithesis.)
3. A farm yard fowl and the name of a grain.

4. Kind of boat on the lakes.
5. German for wall.
6. A soft, mushy pond.
7. A farm yard fowl and to dispose of merchandise.
8. Applying to a division of Great Britain.
9. Comparative mood of bad and to explain.
10. To look—and the given name of a Senior.

The Bells (of Westerville.)

(With apologies to E. A. Poe.)

Hear the churches with their bells—iron bells.

What a world of happiness their clangor foretells!

How they dingle, dingle, dingle in the icy air of night!

While the stars that oversprinkle Seemed to laugh at such a sight;

Keeping tune, tune, tune by the light of yon gray moon,

To the dong dongabulation that so thunderously swells,

From the bells, bells, bells, bells, bells, bells, bells—

From the clanging and the banging of the bells.

Hear the Presbyterian bell, blessed bell!

What a joyous burst of thunder did it knell!

Just at midnight, 'twas the hour

Two boys climbed the old church tower,

And they pulled the rope 'twas fastened on the bell.

And they tolled, tolled, tolled, till this grew very old,

Then they left to hunt another louder bell.

Down the street they fairly flew—

You could not tell the one from two—

And they ran so fast—'twould not do to tell.

Well, well, well, well, well, well,

We'll hear now the clanging and the banging of a second bell.

Hear the Methodist bell—pious bell!

What a burst of motley sounds on the air did swell!

And in the sound there seemed to mix

Otterbein 13—Ohio State 6.

We have beat 'em, beat 'em, beat 'em with our might!

With a glorious hallelujah,

And a noise that went clear through y'u,

This bell pealed forth its message in the night.

Said one townsman to his neighbor—

"Mayhap there's war I'll seize my sabre,

And prepare to put the enemy to flight."

"No," said he, "calm agitation,"

Methinks 'tis some great conflagration

Sweeping wide the village in its path.

In every heart there was alarm in

To hear the catawumpsy stormin'

Of the clanging and the banging of that bell.

But joy unbounded was in the ringer,

And he gave not a snap his finger

For the rest—of Westervillians in their beds.

Pulled he loud and long and—

Well, well, well, well, well, well,

The whole town will long remember that bell.

is now living in Columbus. Mr.
Worstell is taking contract work in Westerville, as well, and a new house for Mr. Bailey will receive his first attention.

Mr. Ewing, led our chapel exercises, on Monday the 19th.

Mr. Ewing is a representative of the National Y. M. C. A. secretaryship.

Rev. Mr. Doty, a graduate of Leander Clark College and for five years a missionary in China spent Friday April 23 in Westerville.

A surprise. Mr. Etna Adams
Lawrence and Miss Lillian Mauk, both former Otterbein students,
were married at Muncie, Ind.,
April 19. Congratulations
"Bill."
