OTTERBEIN PARLIAMENT

SUCCESS MARKS NOTABLE GATHERING OF DELEGATES FROM TEN CONFERENCES.

Movement for Greater Otterbein Receives Tremendous Impetus at Two Days Conference and Rally--- Lambert Conservatory Dedicated.

The big Parliament has come and gone. In the eyes of the chairman of arrangements, the board of trustees, President Clippinger, delegates of ten conferences and students of Otterbein University the occasion was a success from start to finish.

To tell all of the proceedings on those memorable two days would take more space than the Review could allow and hence the readers must be content with generalization of the whole affair.

Each one of the three hundred delegates became imbued with the spirit of Otterbein and that was what was wanted.

The delegates visited the classrooms, met the professors, heard the scholars recite, and lived and breathed Otterbein for two days.

The principal addresses were given by Drs. C. J. Kephart and T. J. Sanders and were masters of thought.

Among the other addresses were "The Relation of Otterbein University to the United Brethren Church." As seen by Laymen, S. E. Kumler, of Dayton. As seen by the women by Mrs. Lillian R. Horford, of Omaha, Neb.

As seen by the ministers by Rev. B. F. Cunningham, of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Otterbein University and all-round Denomination. Otterbein, a place of great inspiration toward choosing the Ministerial or Missionary work as a life work.

In his address entitled "Problem and Possibility" before a big audience in the chapel Wednesday evening, Dr. C. J. Kephart clearly showed the relation of church and college in a forceful masterful way. The college looks to the church for men to be educated. The church looks to the college to produce men and women of a fine cultural training who will raise the standard of the church.

Hand in hand the college and church work together, the one dependent on the other.

Among the gems of thought must be given the following:

"We are here to face the future and its ever new problems and its ever enlarging possibilities."

"The church of Jesus Christ has felt and will ever feel itself under obligation to enter and assist in developing the field of intellectual culture."

"The college the university can never attain to maturity while it retains the forces of real vitality."

"The function of the college is not only to occupy and promote culture in and by means of the field of thought and truth already explored, but to explore still further fields and to utilize them for culture purposes."

"The instructive function of the Christian college; its immeasurable responsibilities, its growing importance as a factor in the work of social and religious betterment; these should of themselves be the incentive im-

DEFEAT ANTIOCH

OTTERBEIN VICTORIOUS AT YELLOW SPRINGS

End Runs Were Used With Great Success—The Score Was Eighteen to Five

With a day suitable for good football, Otterbein kept up her good work by taking the scalp of the Antiochians at Yellow Springs, to the pleasurable tune of 18 to 5.

What Otterbein resorted to in order to make her large gains were end runs and it was not surprising to see a backfield man tear off a run from 15 to 50 yards and these large gains were of no small number.

The forward pass was attempted but twice by Otterbein. However at both these trials Otterbein made gains of 20 yards. Antioch tried the forward pass three times, failing twice.

For Otterbein each man deserves commendation for his good, consistent work. Sanders, at quarter, ran the team in good style and through him it was possible for Otterbein to score 8 points—2 field goals and both goals after touchdowns. His return of the second kickoff for 50 yards was neatly executed. Mattis and H. Warner at halves played a hard game as did Dittmer at full. These men were constantly ripping off from 5 to 15 yard gains. Wagner, right end, played a very hard game for Otterbein and more than once tackled the runner with the ball behind the line of scrimmage. Rogers, left end, in this his last game, did himself credit and his place will be hard to fill, for in breaking up interference elling the church that stands as the sponsor of the college to put it in condition to so occupy its field as that it may discharge its functions to the largest possible measure of attainment.

"Truth like power has value only as it is practically applied." Truth of every type is of value to man only as it is apprehended and applied in relations that affect human character.

It is to the Christian college that the church must look for the development of the highest type of manhood and womanhood—this type of leadership.

The church like the nation is never able to measure its ability until it feels the overpowering stress of a great obligation.

Dr. T. J. Sanders' address, "The Place and Purpose of Art in the Realm of Thought and Knowledge," at the dedication of the Lambert Conservatory Thursday afternoon, was one of beauty and thought.

Among the gems were:

"The world is a thought of God."

The whole universe of reality is set over against the mind for its discipline and illumination.

"All nature is the manuscript of God."

A good object is one that fulfills the end of its being.

Art is the presentation of reason to man through his senses.

Art must presuppose everywhere in nature a personal principle as its lord.

"The artist is a co-worker with God."

The high purpose of art is the consecration of matter to the end of spirit.

In closing he paid tribute to Mrs. Eva Glen Dora Lambert, in whose honor the new Lambert Conservatory was erected.

S. E. Kumler gave some many trite sayings well worth remembering:

Jolly Hallowe'en Party

The Worstell property, West Park street was the scene of a jolly Hallowe'en party given by eleven Westerville young college girls. See big write up in Review next week.

"Christianity tends to thrift and a clean shirt."

"Only an ignorant man gets lonesome."

"The United Brethren is a country church—that's the reason it makes such a hit when it goes to town."

In closing the dedication exercises Thursday afternoon Rev. W. R. Funk made the following statement:

We are in need of three-quarters of a million dollars to make Otterbein a greater Otterbein—one-half million for endowment, the balance for a larger chapel, a new United Brethren church, athletic field and science building, all of which will be forthcoming in a short time.

and getting down on punts it is hard to beat him. The men in the line played their usual steady game. A. Lambert on defense did fine work, sifting through and tackling the runner before he had made any headway. I. Warner, left guard, did valuable work.

Help! Help!! Help!!!

And now for Wesleyan! Let that be the cry of every loyal Otterbein student this week. A goodly number have expressed their intention of going. It behooves each one to make up their minds to attend this game so it will be possible for Otterbein to win. We all know what rooting did at Kenyon. The coach and the team will do their part and now it's up to the student body to do theirs. Let one and all be there to see the Tan and Cardinal wave victorious over the Wesleyan colors.

To the Delegates

We listened much last week at the parliament to expressions of gratitude and satisfaction on the part of visiting delegates with regard to their reception here. And now we wish to speak in behalf of the students. We were glad to see you here. We did not realize before the extent of your support and the enthusiasm with which it is characterized. Having attended the different sessions of the Parliament and seeing your zeal for Otterbein, we ourselves have been inspired with a greater love for and a more determined devotion to the Tan and Cardinal. We are thoroughly convinced that you will do your utmost for a Greater Otterbein and we will cheerfully do whatever lies in the power of students to do, to perpetuate and advance the institution that bears the name we love so well—Otterbein.

Y. M. C. A.

Many delegates in attendance, "Heart Principles" was the topic for discussion at Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening. W. A. Knapp was the leader. After prayer and song a he read as a scripture lesson four verses from the fourth chapter of First John. Mr. J. F. Hatton sang very beautiful solo. The leaders remarks were confined to the discussion of the topic from the student standpoint. He said that the new student was strangely impressed, on first entering school, with the conduct and action of students. But, as time goes on they see that that sort of action is good and the majority of the students at heart are right. There are, however, a great many things that we say and do that we could very easily drop out, and the leader appealed the students to eliminate the things that are likely to make wrong impressions. Professor Schwartz then gave a violin solo. Rev. Perry E. Smith, presiding elder of Erie conference made some interesting remarks. The meeting closed with a selection by the orchestra.

Y. W. C. A.

Miss Maude Owings led the meeting discussing the topic, "Positive Christianity." Scripture lesson from Phil. 6:13-14, Eph. 6:10 13, I Cor 3:12. Three things to be observed in positive living: Have something to do, determination to do it, stand by the determination. Negative life is characterized by absence of any definite purpose. Every life is a success or a failure and we succeed or fail accordingly as we improve our opportunities. Whether we are positive or negative Christians the world knows it. Our deeds tell. Students must live positive lives to be successful. After the leader's remarks a quartet consisting of Pearl Stringer, Bessie Daugherty, Ada Buttermore and Edna Hayes sang "Jesus Savior Pilot Me."

Step by step it has found its way to the front. It has been "easy traveling" too, but what else can be expected from such an easy-fitting shoe?

There is more actual shoe quality in the "WALK-OVER" at little cost—than is found in higher priced shoes with more pretensions. Do not believe this. Make us prove it. Try a pair of "WALK-OVERS" and find out.

FRESHMAN VS SOPHOMORES

Two Classes Scrap for Banner in Presence Visitors.

Sophomores are a queer set. They thought they would get their pennants in the picture but when Dr. Funk objected and a wiry little freshman snatched it out of their hands they took another thought. Class scraps have been rather scarce this year but class spirit rose to its full height Thursday when the freshman secured the sophomore colors. There ensued a battle royal, as it started just as a picture of the students and delegates was being taken. Dr. Funk took the colors and held them till after that was over and then replaced them in the hands of the freshman. The struggle was carried on much to the amusement of the visitors and delegates of the Parliament. It was fierce and long and many were the bruises and dirty clothes. After it was over three lone sophs stood before the Art Hall holding the remains of their cherished colors. Later in the day the sophomores sought revenge by burning the freshman May pole.

COLLEGE STUNTS

PLEASED HUNDREDS WEDNESDAY NIGHT IN MOONLIGHT.

Four Classes and the Academy Students Have Jollification
Before Bonfires

A glorious moon looked down upon a great bonfire Wednesday evening and saw citizens around it five hundred people. They had assembled to witness a five act comedy. The first act was "The Ambition of the Preps." Bearing high their banner and dressed in cap and gown, the academy students marched around the circle. They gave their yells and disappeared.

Next came the Maypole dance given by the Freshmen. As they [danced 'round and 'round and then back again, they sang in voices soft and low. With the '13 yell their performance closed. Then the crowd was entertained by a mock wedding given by the Sophomores. It was a solemn occasion and on the stillness of the night rose the minister's voice in accents clear as he joined "Skinny" Weinland and Ethel Kephart in the holy matrimony of divorce in the name of the president and of his son and of Madam Zeller."

The third act was the "The announcement of the discovery of the North Pole to Uncle Sam and President Taft, given by the Juniors. Dr. Cook first made his appearance before them and gave unmistakable evidence that he had been to the North Pole. When all were convinced of that fact, Peary came up and put forth his claims, calling Cook a liar and a thief. The stunt closed with Cook and Peary in a death struggle.

Last came the mighty Seniors with "The Execution of John Smith." The circle of the watchers opened, yelling at the top of their voices came a band of Indians. 'Round the fire they whooped and yelled. John Smith was brought in and made to run the gauntlet. He was placed in position for execution but before the executioner's ax fell, the brave Pocahontas threw herself across him and saved his life. The big chief called off his blood-thirsty warriors and after a dance of jubilee around the roaring fire the Indians retired and the five act comedy was over.
