Otterbein places high in National Forensics

Otterbein placed twenty-sixth out of 104 schools participating in the National Forensics Contest this year.

In a recent interview, Mr. Donald Hines explained that forensics at Otterbein consists of individual events and debates. This year 28 people participated in 14 tournaments. At the state tournament, Bernadette Zingale and Julie Sickles placed first in dramatic duo; Julie Sickles placed first in prose interpretation; Pam Hill placed fifth in poetry interpretation; and Becky Grimes placed fifth in persuasion.

At the National Tournament, in prose interpretation, Anne Marie Soiu placed sixteenth out of 156 participants; Steve Black placed thirty-seventh, Dan Hawk placed forty-fourth; and Pam Hill placed forty-sixth. The teams of Zingale — Sickles, and Hawk — Black placed in the upper half of the tournament in dramatic duo. Sam Militello placed in the upper third of both extemporaneous and impromptu; Sickles placed in the upper third. Pam Hill placed in the upper half of the poetry interpretation contest.

Mr. Hines said he was very pleased with this year's participation, especially in the individual events. The instructor of forensics also added his hopes of strengthening the debate team next year.

"My goal next year is to have forty people, minimum, participating and to have at least twelve debaters sustain the entire year."

"One change (for next year) is the utilization of five student coaches to give more attention to beginning students and to provide the coaches with valuable teaching experience," Mr. Hines concluded.

The Graduate prepares Seniors for real world

How does an Otterbein College graduating senior find a job, establish a credit rating, buy life insurance, write a resume, relocate in another city or choose a graduate school?

The Otterbein College Alumni Association provides answers to these and other practical questions in The Graduate magazine, currently being distributed on campus to graduating students as a young alumni service program of the association.

The Graduate is a handbook for leaving school, written expressly for graduating seniors to help them make the transition from college to the real world.

The 1974 issue contains articles by Caroline Bird, Vance Packard, Alan Lakein, William Glasser and other noted authors, as well as an interview with John Denver. In addition, the

"Kate" continues through Saturday

"Why do we work our asses off?" demands the title song from a 1970 hit musical. Ask this question of anyone involved in Otterbein's production of "Kiss Me Kate", and the answer will probably be the same as the original, that is "Applause!" Why else would non-paid singers and dancers rehearse their way through five sets of vocal chords

Letters to the Editor

Letter's Policy

The Tan and Cardinal would like to encourage students, faculty, and staff to write to our letters department concerning any matter that bothers you at any particular time. All letters to the editor must be typed, double-spaced, and signed in ink with the author's name, address, and phone number included.

The latest Gallup

To the Editor:

Once again the Otterbein College community has elected people to serve as representatives in the Senate, various committees, and the Board of Trustees. In the Senate elections, 475 students voted. On May 8, the student-trustee run-off election attracted only 364 voters and there were only eighteen student senators at the Senate meeting. At this meeting, category two committee positions were filled. Students, as well as faculty were elected. Because of the low number of students present, faculty and administration senators had a heavily significant voice in determining the results. It seems to me that the students of Otterbein are allowing power to be taken away from them.

The Senate also heard a proposal at the May 8 meeting to have the chairmanship of the Judicial Board taken away from students. The rationale for this proposal is that students do not have the time to coordinate meeting times and may be influenced by peer pressure. The Judicial Board should have set meeting times, the same as other category one and two committees, thus alleviating the problem of finding times agreeable to committee members. This proposal will be voted on at the next Senate meeting. I hope that enough student senators are present to prevent further usurpation of power by the faculty and administration.

Lack of student involvement has lead the Administrative Council to investigate a proposal which would allow its members to nominate candidates for committee positions if fewer petitions were received than the number of positions available. People who had petitioned, who indeed had shown interest, would have to run against people who were not interested enough to petition, but had friends on the Administrative Council. If this proposal passes the Senate, we may see the time when no students petition for committees and the Administrative Council becomes little more than a nominating committee. Students cannot allow this to happen. The administration supports this proposal with the rationale that qualified people do not always petition for committees. The truth of the matter is that people who are interested do petition. They should be declared elected, and people nominated by the Administrative Council to fill the vacancies should then be selected by the Senate.

The students have a lot at stake in the workings of the governance system. All of the issues that come before the Senate may not be as important to the students as visitation or alcohol, but they are important if the governance system is to be a community governing system. Students must be informed about what happens in every

To the Editor,

Please forgive the rather informal way of introduction, but since it was less time consuming, it seemed to be the best answer. By way of introduction, we are an organization composed of Otterbein students functioning as a sub-committee of the CPB and working under the name of QUESTOR LTD. There is actually no reason for the use of the name except that it makes us feel important. Some of you are undoubtedly asking what our purpose is, and some of you are also probably saying, "Who the hell cares?" Well, we do, not that it matters. Anyway, for those who are interested, our purpose is to bring a diversified selection of film fare to the discriminating cinema officianado presented in a professional manner. In other words, we're bringing films to campus that we hope will meet with your approval and will be well worth the admission charge. One of our methods of accomplishing this is through the use of a film survey.

I'd like to take just a Senate meeting and what is being discussed in all committees. The Tan and Cardinal could perform a real campus service if it took it upon itself to keep the students informed in these crucial areas.

Sincerely,

Wallace A. Gallup

D.O. advisor leaves Otterbein

Ms. Mary Rucker, is leaving Otterbein in June, asked what she was going to do, she replied she is taking a leave of absence from the musical world for about a year, and hopes to be a waitress at the Wine Cellar Restaurant. She summed up her experience at Otterbein saying, "All in all it was a good experience." She met many people she really liked and enjoyed the students. She was disappointed with Otterbein because when she was interviewed for the job it seemed that everyone was involved with the betterment of the individual, but when she got here she found it not to be so.

Ms. Rucker, in addition to practicing, and teaching, has served as an advisor of Delta Omicron. She has also served on the Cultural Affairs and Towers investment committees.

Rucker believes that a great deal of potential is in the Music Department if it is developed. She hopes to find employment "somewhere near mountains" after her sabattical.

And now introducing . . .

paragraph or two to reflect on our first survey. First of all, we'd like to thank those students who took the time to fill out that questionnaire. Your co-operation was greatly appreciated. The survey has given us a definite "plan of attack" for next year. We hope that you again will take the time to tell us "what you want to see" on our next endeavour.

Quite a few interesting ideas came up through the survey and I'd like to comment on them since you can't stop me. As to the following film suggestions; VANISHING POINT, WALKABOUT, OLD YELLER, BIG RED, HAROLD AND MAUDE, LE BOUCHER, W.C. FIELDS, CHARLIE CHAPLIN, and MARX BROTHERS films, BEN-HUR, and BYE-BYE BYRDIE are available and we'll check on them for next year. The blockbuster films ROMEO AND JULIET, GONE WITH THE WIND, THE POSEIDON ADVENTURE, A CLOCKWORK ORANGE, AIRPORT, THE SOUND OF MUSIC, and JEREMIAH JOHNSON are also available and should sufficient demand materialize, we shall try to obtain them. THE STING, AMERICAN GRAFITTI, BROTHER SUN, SISTER and CROMWELL are all being released soon and we shall try to bid for them later.

The following films are not in release yet: TIME TO RUN, 1776, NICHOLAS AND ALEXANDRA, MAN OF LaMANCHA, PAPER CHASE,

THE GREAT ESCAPE, CLASS OF '44, PAPPILLON, DELIVERANCE, THE HARRAD EXPERIMENT, GIMME SHELTER, GODSPELL, SERPICO, JONATHAN LIVINGSTON SEAGULL, THRONE OF BLOOD, THE THREE MUSKETEERS, HOUSE OF BLOOD, BLAZING SADDLES, FIVE ON THE BLACK HAND SIDE, EASY RIDER, THE IRON FIST, LIBERATION OF L.B. JONES, 200 MOTELS, and EXODUS. As they become available, we shall try for them.

Special notice: I have failed to find a print of Errol Flynn's THE SEA HAWK. Will any Errol Flynn picture do? Oh, and to those sexual degenerates who, like myself, keep the pornokings in business, DEEP THROAT, THE CHEERLEADERS, DEVIL AND MISS JONES, etc. are not only unavailable, but would undoubtedly be banned!

Now, for this term we have decided to bring popular CinemaScope films on campus and, yes, we're even going to get the lenses to go with them. On May 21, we are bringing KELLY'S HEROES in Scope followed on May 28 by LITTLE BIG MAN, also in Scope; both for only a $1.00 admission charge. The Tuesday night idea is to give you a mid-week film break from your studies. Since these films rank high on the popularity scale, we hope that you will support them, thus enabling us to bring more films.

SIX "OTTERBIKERS" MAKE DOUBLE-CENTURY RIDE

Six Otterbein students were among 3000 Ohio youth who biked from Columbus to Portsmouth last weekend.

"Chip" Case, Jon Dell, Bruce Hull, Sue Mathews, Deb Shuey and Dan Underwood of Otterbein participated in the American Youth Hostel's 13th annual Double-Century Bicycle Tour.

The tour, held each year for sightseeing, is one of the largest attended bicycle tours in the world and is the largest in the United States.

Peddling along a 105-mile course, from the Capitol steps to the center of Portsmouth, bikers stopped five times along the way for refreshments, provided from the $13.50 registration fee paid per person. Lunch was served in Chillicothe, the half-way point on the trip.

The tour began as bikers left between 6:30 and 7:30 a.m. for the 6-10 hour ride. The riders were accommodated in Portsmouth area schools for the night and were served a light breakfast before leaving for the journey home. Their clothing and sleeping bags were taken to and from Portsmouth by trucks

Unique recital set for Thursday

Julie Witsburger will be giving a combined voice and oral interpretation recital on May 23 at 8:15 p.m. in co-operation with the music and speech-theatre departments. It is for an independent study project under Dr. Grissinger. The first part of the program will include "Amarilli," by Caccini, "Vedrai Carino," by Mozart, "Le Charme" and "Les Papillons," by Chausson, and "Quando M'en Vo. Soletta" (Musetta's Waltz), by Puccini. The second half will work within the theme of hired specifically for that purpose.

Weather conditions changed overnight, discouraging many from beginning the trip back to Columbus. However some did start back, as did the Otterbein students, but they were unable cope with the trying wind and cold rain. They were met by friends in Waverly who drove them back to Columbus.

"Adopted" boy finds help

Tau Delta sorority decided to help at home, and as a result, an 18-year-old boy will lead a better life. Ralph, a Appalachian area youth, has been given the opportunity to finish his high school education.

One day about two years ago, Tau Delta sorority received an advertisement from Children's Incorporated. This national organization which strives to help children in underprivileged areas was asking for help, and help they received. The letter was brought before the sorority, and it was decided that adopting a child would be a worthwhile cause.

Because they wanted to help someone in the states, they chose to support a "child" from the Appalachian area. Much to their surprise they received 18-year-old Ralph who was going to have to quit school in order to support his family. Neither his father nor his mother has a job.

For $10 a month, Ralph indirectly received supplies needed to attend school. His progress and the progress of the organization are reported to the sorority by a member of Children's Incorporated.

Tau Delta has received Christmas cards and a picture from Ralph. A few members have tried writing to him but have not received answers.

Regardless of the closed communication, due to Tau Delta's concern and willingness to help, a child has been given the opportunity he deserves.

Dead fish brings $650

(CPS/ZNS) — Stanley Mazanek is $650 richer — thanks to the death of his pet guppy, "Fred Fin."

It all started last year when Mazanek was a student at the University of Arizona and received a form letter in the mail offering a $5000 life insurance policy during the next six months for just one dollar.

As a joke, Mazanek decided to insure his guppy, Fred Fin. He meticulously filled out the forms, pointing out that Fred was about an inch "tall" and weighed a tenth of an ounce. The policy never asked if Fred was human or not. Mazanek added that the beneficiary of the policy, in the case of Fred Fin's death, was to be Stanley J. Mazanek, listed on the form as "the owner."

and ballet slippers? And why else would the male lead practice snapping a bull-whip until he almost snapped the tip off his nose? The answer can only be applause.

Mazanek then sent the form back to the Globe Life Insurance Company along with one dollar.

A few weeks later, much to Mazanek's surprise, back came an official computer printout insurance policy on Fred Fin's life.

Then it happened: a few months later Fred Fin died, apparently of natural causes, Mazanek, remembering his policy, promptly filed a claim.

What did Mazanek do with his cash? He explained: "I spent a little, bought two more guppies, and took my wife out for a fish dinner."

"Kiss Me Kate" opened this Wednesday, Not in Venice, but on the stage of Cowan Hall, and will run through tomorrow night.
