The Campus Elections Sub-Committee has outlined the eligibility requirements for Trustee, Senate and committees. The requirements are:

(1) For TRUSTEE if you are presently a sophomore, junior or faculty member in at least your third year.

(2) For SENATE if you are a returning full-time student next fall.

(3) For COMMITTEE if you are a returning full-time faculty member or student next fall.

Ric Mancini is guest artist in 'A View from the Bridge'

Ric Mancini has been obtained as guest artist in the March performance of A View from the Bridge and will play the lead role, Eddy.

A View from the Bridge is not totally unfamiliar to him as he played the production off-Broadway in the role of Marco. He has also played in The Birthday Party and A Streetcar Named Desire.

Some of his screen credits include "The Don is Dead", Across 110th Street, "Shamus" and "Badge 373". On television he has been on shows like Cannon, McCloud, The FBI, Night Gallery and the Edge of Night.

Mancini arrives on campus Sunday night and will begin practicing with the student cast. He will be visiting classes throughout the duration of his visit.

Speaker recommendations

Members of the Senior Activities Committee will be in the main lounge of the Campus Center to receive recommendations for a 1978 Commencement speaker on Tuesday and Wednesday, February 22-23.

Otterbein's 1977 Commencement speaker is Sherwood Fawcett, President and Director of Battelle Memorial Institute. Battelle is the world's largest private scientific research foundation. The diversified general research institute employs 2600 staff members in Columbus, 2600 in Germany and Switzerland and 3000 in five other American centers.

Suggestions for the 1978 Commencement speaker will be taken during the lunch and dinner hours. Speakers from the following subject fields may be suggested: agriculture, anthropology, art and architecture, business, dance, economics, education, health services, music, philosophy, history, language and literature, physical education, political science, public health, recreation, sociology, speech and theatre.

Plan advances

The current housing proposals, outlined in past Tan and Cardinals and presented in to open forums, are progressing in the college governance system.

Having passed through Campus Services and Administrative Council the plan will now be heard in the Senate March 2.

Should the bill pass in senate, it would have one more stop on its way to the Otterbein books — the Board of Trustees.

Karl A. Oldag, Dean for Student Development, has placed six copies of the proposal on closed reserve in the library and encourages all to examine and scrutinize it.

Ski deposit due next month

A required deposit of $25 is due by March 1 for any students planning to go on the ski trip to Vermont's Sugarbush Mountain.

Scheduled over spring break, eleven students are needed for the trip that will depart on March 17. Total cost for the ski vacation is $300 which includes transportation, room and board, lessons, rental of equipment, and lift tickets.

Physical Education credit is also available and is included in the price. The $25 deposit is not refundable.

If you missed the display in the Campus Center yesterday or the presentation in the LRC, please contact Miss Durocher in the Rike Center.

The lonely people

For the past two weeks the yearbook staff has been selling subscriptions to the '76-'77 edition of the Sibyl.

Boy were they lonely, the people sitting there! I mean, it wasn't like selling Tan and Cardinal valentine lines, (we were "besieged" with customers.)

Those poor Sibyl staffers would lug a fairly heavy box of yearbooks up the stairs and, after an hour or two of sitting, lug a box of similar weight back down.

All sarcasm aside though, the students as a whole are going to be the ones who lose. As a rule of thumb more people buy the book when it comes out than those who purchase subscriptions.

Putting aside the fact that you will pay more later - if more students obtained earlier subscriptions that staff would then have more flexibility in their operating funds. This would result in a much better book.

More color, better type faces and perhaps special effects could be a reality if the staff could count on more revenue.

But you can't spend money you don't have.

Additional moneys made by the staff when the book comes out will NOT go into next year's budget. It is channeled back into the general fund. Each year's staff begins on a fresh budget.

So all you people who know you're going to buy the book but didn't order early . . . typical, typical.

*****

Speaking of T&C Valentine lines: a quick glance at Who's Whose this week will tell you that three out of four of the "engagees" purchased their beaux a fond message in last week's special section. Yes Virginia, there is a cupid.

I would like to again congradulate my two righthand girls on their recent engagements. Good job Sara and Melis.

Just a Dream

I want to write the perfect love story.
It should be one of pain, sorrow, passion, and glory.
I want it to be about kissing and long walks.
It should tell about her and me and all of our long talks.

It should describe the beauty of her smile and the warmth of her embrace.

The style in her walk and the sweetness in her face.
I want to express our love story in the perfect way.
I want everyone to know exactly what I wish to say.

Maybe I just simply want to say, "I love you."
In a love story, it shouldn't be hard to do.
It shouldn't be hard to write an epic and let my love flow out.
After all, that's what a love story is all about.

However, I pick up my pen and the same thing happens every day.
For some reason, the words just stay away.
Why can't I say exactly what I mean?
I think it's because I've never been in love, and to me it's just a dream.

Readers Sound-off...

In total disgust

Dear Editor,

I had to write you this letter as I'm in total disgust! The City of Westerville is certainly taking a long time repairing the roads here on campus.

For one thing, if they couldn't have done it at a time when students are not on campus, they could at least shake a leg.

I realize that the work they're doing probably had to be done and I'm glad the city is improving their roads, but do they have to inconvenience the students so much?

It's absolutely terrible riding down the "crater-infested" roads and walking through that mud going to the campus center is like crossing a swamp.

I was just wondering how much clout the college has with the city and if they can do anything about it. They needn't jeopardize the working relationship they obviously have with Westerville - but couldn't they drop a few subtle (or some not so subtle hints) to them?

I think they should.

Sincerely,
Bernie Michaels

Washington semester takes hopefuls; application deadline set for Tuesday

Dr. John Laubach has announced that February 22, 1977 is the deadline for applications for the Washington Semester program during the Otterbein fall term of 1977-78. All applications should be submitted to Dr. John Laubach, the Department of History and Political Science.

The Washington Semester program is administered by the American University which brings students in touch with highly placed government officials of the executive branch, Congress, the Supreme Court, lobbies and the Washington Press.

The Washington Semester ends before Christmas and enables students to return for the Winter Term. For the regular Washington Semester option, each student participates in a seminar for two course credits and undertakes a research project for one course credit. A fourth course can involve an elective from the American University offerings or an internship.

In recent years seven other Washington Semester options have been added: the Urban Semester, the Foreign Policy Semester, the International Development Semester, the Economic Policy Semester, the Science and Technology Semester, the London Semester, and the American Studies Semester.

These programs are open to majors of all departments, but the Science and Technology Semester is open only to math and Science majors. In general Otterbein requires that applicants have an average of fourteen B's or better by the end of the academic year preceding entry into the program.

For further information about the program and the various options available contact Dr. Laubach.

Crowd sees fashions

Last weekend's fashion show, "The Artist's Touch" drew 250 people to see the fashions presented by the Home Ec Club and Hanby Hall.

Seven of the outfits modeled were made by the girls in the Home Ec Club and the other clothes were from the Last Straw. Norma Sims, Patti Call, and Ann Sabock were co-chairpersons.

Make up was directed by Lisa Abbott, lighting was done by Bill Fairchild, escorts were Dan Starling and Greg Moore.

Bearing the Cross

by C.W. Cady

sweet communion with God.

It is our fault. I am afraid that we Christians have tried to build an arch without its keystone, that we have pushed lies upon our friends by telling them near-truths. We promise them what we vaguely call "the abundant life" if they will only accept Christ as their Lord and Savior.

Certainly the essential doctrine of Christianity is that Christ Jesus has paid for our short comings, for our offenses, for our sins against God, with his own life, and that a man who senses that this payment has to do with his time, his life, and his actions will be spared from the everlasting punishment for which he was destined. However, when we preach the word, we omit the parts about the prerequisites for a life with added dimensions.

That is, "the abundant life" is a life of sacrifice; yet when we share the good news, our vocabularies are void of words like ought, should, must, and THOU SHALT. Salvation is by faith the faith and faith only; but true Christian living is hard work.

Christian! When will you and I tell others that if they too would see Jesus that they will have opposition from the spiritual darkness, from friends, relatives, worries and temptations; even from Christians? When will we stand firm in our faith and say, "There will be times in which you will wish that you never had become a Christian, and will be sorry for it; times in which you will be tempted to throw off the yoke of righteousness and to return to a more comfortable life style"?

Yet these times are good and necessary to building a life that is characterized by faith in God. At these very times, communion with God is sweetest.

When will we do others a favor and do as our Lord did when he told the great multitudes:

If any man come to me, and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple. And whosoever doth not bear his cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple. For which of you, intending to build a tower, sitteth not down first, and counteth the cost, whether he have sufficient to finish it? Lest haply, after he hath laid the foundation, and is not able to finish it, all that behold it begin to mock him, saying, This man began to build, and was not able to finish.

We too have need for the stake of the whole truth to be driven into our hearts until we no longer live for ourselves, but for Christ. Again I say, true Christian living is hard work. If only we would all sacrifice the first hours of wakefulness to prayer and Bible study! If only we would all be diligent in love toward others! Then we would be building amongst ourselves a holy temple for God without crack or fissure.

Academy awards

by Chris Kapostasy

Once again it's Academy Awards time and "Network" and "Rocky", a couple of sleepers, are leading the nominations race with 10 each. Close behind are "All the President's Men" with eight and "Bound for Glory" with six.

It was just a couple of years ago when Sylvester Stallone couldn't sell the rights to "Rocky" because he insisted on playing the lead. Now Stallone is a Best Actor nominee and "Rocky" is up for Best Picture.

"Network", the behind-the-scenes satire about television programming, garnered a post-humous nomination for Peter Finch as Best Actor. Co-star William Holden was also nominated for Best Actor and Faye Dunaway for Best Actress.

Other Best Picture nominations include "All the President's Men", "Bound for Glory" and "Taxi Driver". Additional contenders for the Best Actor Oscar include Giancarlo Giannini for "Seven Beauties" and Robert DeNiro for "Taxi Driver". Best Actress contenders are newcomer Cissy Spacek ("Carrie"), Marie-Christine Barrault ("Cousin-Cousine"), Liv Ullman ("Face to Face"), and Talia Shire ("Rocky").

Tracksters capture third in Livingston Relays

by Scott Brockett

The Cardinal cindermen finished third in last Saturday's Livingston Relays at Denison with a total of 68 points. Baldwin-Wallace topped the competition with 112 points while Ohio Wesleyan placed second with 74 points.

Individual field events were scored by taking the composite distances of each school's performers and then tabulating a total team score for the event. All of the running events were in the form of relays.

Otterbein set a meet record in the high jump with a total of 19'4", which beat the previous mark of 19'. Pacing the team was Steve Biancone who leaped 6'8". Right behind him, each with jumps of 6'4", were Barry Newlin and Roger Winemiller.

The Cardinals also captured first place in the triple jump with a cumulative, three-man effort of 125'11 3/4". Roger Winemiller jumped 42'6 1/4", Bob Talpas went 42'4 1/4", and Marlon Natthews leaped 41'1 1/4".

In the sprint relays Otterbein snatched two second-place finishes, and in each case finished only one-tenth of a second off the time of the winning team. In the eight-lap relay (approximately two-thirds of a mile), the team of Curtis Whitmore, Louie Meek, Todd Edwards and Dick Smith compiled a time of 2:12.2. In the four-lap relay the Otters finished in 1:01.23 due to the efforts of Dave Paul, Curtis Whitmore, Dick Smith and Dan Wetzel.

Since the meet involved all 14 OAC schools, it gave a good indication of the relative strengths of the various teams. Coach Porter Miller seemed pleased with his team's performances to date and was optimistic concerning their chances for the upcoming OAC championship meet.

He commented: "I'm real happy with our progress so far. We're coming along slower than B-W and O.W.U., but that isn't necessarily bad; we planned on developing slowly. Hopefully we'll peak for the OAC meet. The four strongest teams definitely are B-W, O.W.U., Mount Union, and us."

When pressed about his chances for winning Miller elaborated: "If we have a real good day, with no disqualifications and victories in some of the close events, we'll be contenders for the top spot. Individually, Smith, Paul, Biancone, Talpas and Winemiller all have excellent shots at winning. In the distant events I think that Tom Bachtel and Brad Ranney also will be strong contenders. Our 400-yard and mile relay teams should also figure prominently."

Otterbein will host B-W, Wooster, and Capital tonight at the Rike Center starting at 7 p.m. The meet will be the Otters last test of the indoor season before the championship, which will be held at O.W.U. on March 11 and 12.

Otterbein lifting club

Through the efforts of several interested students and student personnel, Otterbein now has a weightlifting club.

With a constitution that outlines physical development, competition and good health, the group begins operation in the basement of Davis Annex where "free weights" will be available.

A five-dollar per term entry fee enables the member access to the facilities during specified lifting hours and, hopefully at a later date, at any time. Certain times will be set up for specific purposes. For instance one time will be allotted for powerlifting, another for muscle toning and still another for bulk-type working out.

Fred Baker, Mike Basha, Jay Drake, Don Fleenor and Scott Leckrone have been instrumental in getting this program off the ground and Baker and Basha serve as instructors.

To join, simply get in touch with any of the guys listed above to obtain an application. This program is open to both male and female

Quiz continues

Semi-final and final rounds remain in the Whiz Quiz tournament. Following last night's games two teams along with Stonehenge and Encyclopedia will compete in the semi-final rounds on February 23.

Two teams will then compete on March 2 for the final game.

Whiz Quiz is still looking for a faculty team to challenge the winner of the tournament. Any faculty members interested should contact Becky Coleman.

Format for the remaining games in the semi and final rounds will be two ten minute periods with early answers accepted.

Cards travel to Wesleyan; hope to keep momentum

by Scott Brocket

The Cardinal basketball team will travel to Ohio Wesleyan tomorrow night to oppose the Bishops in the regular season finale for both teams. The Otters are coming off two consecutive road victories over Wittenberg Tuesday night and Denison last Saturday night.

Vanquishing Wittenberg away from the Rike Center was no small accomplishment, as the Tigers were ranked first in the NCAA Division III polls only two weeks ago.

In the first meeting between the two schools earlier this season at the Rike Center, the Cardinals handled the Bishops with relative ease en route to a 75-60 victory.

However, this meeting should prove to be a much more stringent test, as O.W.U. has improved steadily over the course of the season. After a dismal start of 0-6, they have rebounded to take four of their last five games, the most recent being an 88-84 conquest of Capital Tuesday night.

Wesleyan has some added incentive to win this contest. They have moved into a fourth-place tie with Capital by virtue of their recent victory over the Crusaders. Securing fourth place is necessary for both teams if they are to have the first-round, home advantage in the upcoming OAC tournament, which begin Tuesday night.

Capital's final game is at Marietta tomorrow night, and the results of that encounter coupled with the outcome of the Cardinal-Bishop match-up will decide the tourney positions for the two schools.

Otterbein has already clinched third place and the home-court edge, but they do not want to suffer a let-down tomorrow and lose the momentum they currently have going into tournament action.

The Otters will have to contend with the OAC's second-ranked offense Saturday. The Battling Bishops have averaged 75 points per game in conference play, as opposed to Otterbein's 71.4 point average. A porous defense, though, has been Wesleyan's primary downfall. They have surrendered 78.6 points per game, the worst mark in the conference.

Equally deficient has been their rebounding. They have been out-rebounded by an average of 4.8 'bounds per game, which again places them last in the conference.

For Otterbein, guard Doug Addis is now virtually assured of leading the OAC in assists. In the first 20 games he has averaged 6.4 assists per game, well ahead of the 5.9 average that second-place Pete Liptrap from Muskingum possesses.

The Cardinals control the ball and go on to beat Wittenberg by a 12 point margin.
