McKee arrives for artist PACT week

Bass-baritone Richard McKee arrives at Otterbein this week end to begin the final Affiliate Artist PACT (Performer and Community Together) Week for this season. McKee's stay will include his appearance on the Artist Series on Thursday, April 28, 8:15 p.m. in Cowan Hall. Students are admitted free by presenting I.D. at the Cowan Hall box office 1-4 weekdays. Non-season subscribers and faculty and staff may purchase individual tickets ($3 main floor — $2.50 balcony).

staff at a luncheon on Wednesday.

Continuing the popular format of visits in community organizations and before a variety of school and civic groups, McKee will appear for Zonta International during its Wednesday dinner meeting and also at Upper Arlington High School, under sponsorship of the Upper Arlington Cultural Arts Commission.

Beginning his college career as a football player at Yale, McKee soon shifted his interest to music. A native of Hagerstown, Md., McKee enjoys equal success in opera, oratorio, concert and recital. He is a permanent member of the New York Opera Company; his other operatic credits include the Lake George Opera, the Goldvosky Opera, the Metropolitan Opera Studio, Harford (md.) Opera, Seattle Opera, the Washington, D.C. Opera Society and Central City Opera.

Paul Hume, writing in The Washington Post, recently said, "The designation "bass-baritone" is exactly right for this handsome young singer. There is a rich weight in his voice...happily balanced by a fine ringing top." Other critics across the country and in the British Isles have been similarly struck by McKee's "extraordinary performance."

McKee will do a master class for voice students Monday. His accompanist Jacqueline Silver will do two master classes for piano students. The pair will appear at the Music Departmental meeting at 3 p.m. on Tuesday. They also will entertain non-academic

WOBN sponsors trustee debate

WOBN will carry a debate between the two trustee runoff candidates, Mickey Burns and Becky Coleman, Tuesday, April 26 at 7:30 p.m.

The half-hour face-off will be moderated by forensics instructor Don Hines and will feature called-in questions from the Otterbein community.

Manier to edit

Brad Manier has been named managing editor for the T&C for the remainder of the school year, the Publications Board announced Monday, April 18.

Manier, a sophomore English major, was a member of the writing staff for the paper as a freshman, while also participating in Quiz and Quill. The position he will fill was resigned by Sarah Ullman earlier this term.

357, listeners can contribute questions for moderator Hines to ask the candidates. Questions will be taken anytime after 7:15 p.m.

Indians sponsor Otterbein night

Tuesday, May 10, is "Otterbein Night" at Cleveland Stadium, and plans are in the making for a group of Otterbein students and faculty to travel to Cleveland to watch the Indians play the Milwaukee Brewers that night.

Arrangements include a "behind the fence" barbeque with members of the Indians ball club and escorts provided to reserve seats by Indian staff members.

Cost is $6.50 for a seat and meal if you choose to provide your own transportation. A chartered greyhound bus will provide you with round trip

Language festival set for Saturday

Otterbein's fourth annual Foreign Language Festival is to be held this Saturday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Thirty to 40 high school foreign language teachers as well as 400-500 high school students will be in attendance, representing German, French, Spanish, Russian, and Romanian.

Prizes will be awarded according to category to high school students with outstanding displays, performances, and declamations. Each high school group will provide a table or wall display reflecting an aspect of foreign culture or present a live performance.

Special entertainment for this year's festival includes a French comedy film, a performance by the Haudicü dancers of OSU, and a demonstration of international folk dances to be given by Mr. and Mrs. George Weber. Otterbein foreign language students from three departments will also provide entertainment.

Tant qu'on a la santé, starring Pierre Etaix, is a 90-minute French comedy film with English subtitles which will be shown three times throughout the day beginning at 10:00 a.m. in the multi-media room of the LRC. From 1 - 2 p.m. variety shows will be presented by Otterbein students; Spanish students will perform in Lambert Hall, and French and German students in Barlow Hall.

International folk dances will be taught in the Pit of the Campus Center from 2 - 3 p.m. and Haudicü Dancers will give their performance from 1 - 1:30 p.m. in Barlow Studio Theater.

Dr. Roger Neff, chairman of Otterbein's Foreign Language Department, invites all Otterbein students to attend the festival, and suggests that they consider the events of Saturday in planning their lunch hours, as the visitors will also be dining in the Campus Center cafeteria.

Board accepts applications

Applications for paid staff positions for both the Tan and Cardinal and Sibyl must be in my May 6, recently announced the Publications Board.

The positions for both organizations are editor-in-chief, assistant or managing editor, photography editor, and business manager.

Applications may be turned into the T & C office in the bottom of the Campus Center or given to T & C editor-in-chief, Mickey Burns.

transportation, which also includes the meal and reserved seat, for $15.

For more information call Frank Mitchell at extension 506. Deadline for reservations is Friday, April 29.

Checkout China

The Home Economics Club has a company here on campus today to conduct a survey of china patterns most desired by college students.

Interested primarily in women and couples, the survey takes place today in the Campus Center main lounge, 10 a.m. - 4 p.m.

Take that Manna!

Dear Editor,

For those who may be hungry but are having trouble swallowing "Manna," I would like to share my bologna sandwich. . . .

This is a parable about a mountain. Everyone has a mountain in life to climb and this is the story of mine. It is called, "Mt. Christian."

Several years ago, I was skipping along in the foothills, oblivious to the danger signs along the way, quite happy with my life and content with my "Christianity." I owned a Bible, even opened it occasionally, recited favorite prayers every mealtime and at bedtime, attended church regularly, and was "called" to teach a summer Bible School class once. My life appeared to be in order. Then one day I tripped. . . and woke up in the bottom of a deep, black abyss. The sides were too towering and sheer to climb; the vastness was empty; I was alone.

Hearing my screams for help, friends and relatives shouted words of encouragement and advice — from the top. None of their suggestions worked. Some threw down ladders, but they were either too short to reach the top or had weak rungs which collapsed under my feet. At last, flat on my stomach, facedown in the dirt, groveling in the dark, I cried, "Oh God, if you are really there, please help me!"

Infinity

"I am Thine, all is Thine, Thy will be done."

We own nothing. We came from nothing, and to nothing we go back.

We are alive to help, to contribute positively to mankind.

To alleviate the suffering of humanity.

To grow and expand in consciousness. Knowledge not pleasure. Pleasure and selfishness give pain to the doer.

While knowledge and restraint in transmitting love give happiness in eternity.

I live for people and for the attainment of the knowledge that will serve them, I work.

All there is around us and under my care is to facilitate this divine goal.

Material things are instruments not ends in themselves. The true purpose of life is to raise to a state of peace, of purity, of Spiritual Strength, wisdom perfection and Beauty.

Not for our sake but for theirs that they may see the ineffability of the Supreme

I do not write from my own head. I am not a poet either.

I express what the Inner voice says to me.

I am an instrument of a Higher consciousness as we all are.

We are divine.

My Karma is to work in order to purify myself and attain a more sublime state of Consciousness.

Although I love myself as I am.

But I share a word of hope: In essence there is health, perfection, wealth and wisdom. It's within. Be, and then you have all.

Then go out and share it.

BE AND LET BE BEING

Be practical: feed the starving, cloth the naked, live for others.

Said to me the guru. But BE

May we realize and work ceaselessly for this selfless cause.

by Felipe Martinez

He was there, waiting to help. He threw a rope. On the end of the rope was a cross. I grabbed that rope and started to climb with furor, up and up; but every time my grasp neared the top edge, it would fail and down I would slide. After many attempts to escape, I found myself again on the bottom, too exhausted to climb, suffering from severe rope burns. . . and clinging to the cross.

Suddenly it dawned on me that the rope was moving! It was being hauled in from the top, ever so slowly. I did not need to climb at all, just to hang on. Gradually I began to notice things in the abyss which I had missed during my furious climbing. There were sparkling gems in the black rock, lovely flowers in the crevices, and above, a brilliant light.

Eventually my feet were resting on solid ground in a beautiful meadow of daisies and clover; the abyss was closed behind me. God allowed me to remain there for a time, absorbing the warmth of the sun, inhaling the fragrance of the breeze, listening to the soft splash of gentle rain on a stream, and watching the soothing ebb and flow of His Creation.

Recently my path has begun to ascend again. I have stumbled, bruised my knees, and twisted an ankle occasionally. These mishaps teach me to follow more closely and to not let go, even with one hand. What lies ahead is beyond my knowledge and comprehension. There may be cliffs to scale, rivers to ford, or other chasms to bridge. It matters not, because I know now that my part is but to hang onto the cross. He will take care of the rest.

Whatever your mountain, there is no point on it that is beyond God's reaching love, and the way to the summit is assured if you just follow the path marked, "Proverbs 3:5,6."

Because He love us,
the 100th sheep

Aletheia?

What of the world?

by Brian Green

For the past few weeks we've been discussing only what might be considered current events for our campus. We've joked about the poor quality of food, (because there's not much else that can be done) a serious problem with the phone system, (which has been taken care of) and the need for minor improvements (such as new front doors for Towers Hall.)

A great majority of students feel that the student voice is not heard, and when it is, it's ignored. From my own personal experience I find that this is not the case. Your voice will be heard only when you take the time and effort to speak out. Things don't just happen, or change, or get solved by themselves, they need people to cause the change to occur.

Another big hang-up around campus is the old, "there's nothing to do around dinky little Westerville." Now granted, we don't have the bowling alley in the basement of the Campus Center, or a swimming pool at the Rike Center like we might, but we do have other benefits (Which we are paying for without tuition) that we are not taking advantage of.

Each year the college provides us with guest lecturers, performers, musicians and excellent theatrical works, usually free admission with your I.D. But most students would rather experience the advanced cultural excitement of the "Ruck."

Within the past two months the college has sponsored the appearances of Ric Mancini, Tony Randall, Honeytree and the Hartford Ballet just to name a few. All have been excellent productions, but how many students took advantage of them?

If we are not willing to do, or take advantage of the things that are offered to us now, what role shall we play in our future? We can only hide in this utopian state called Otterbein for four years (Some may stay longer). Sooner or later we must come out and face the real world.

We must not be fooled! Our education won't guarantee us money, happiness or peace of mind. It only gives us the potential of becoming someone real. The rest is up to you.

There is a lot more to our lives than can be found in your textbooks. The questions is; can you find it?

'Sunday' scares

by Chris Kapostasy

To look at the advertisement for "Black Sunday", you'd think that it was another disaster flick. The ad shows the Goodyear blimp crashing into the Orange Bowl stadium. I saw the picture in the ad and thought, "The last thing this world needs is another disaster movie". Still, it seemed to be the picture everyone was talking about, so down to Cinema North I went.

"Black Sunday" isn't the traditional disaster film — it's more accurately a tragedy. Bruce Dern plays Michael, an ex-P.O.W. who has been court-martialed; his wife has divorced him, and he finds satisfaction in building a bomb for a terrorist group known as the Black September movement.

Dern's portrayal is moving and believable. The movement only wants to use him because he is first, a genius at creating an ultimate weapon for their purposes and second, one of the pilots of the Goodyear blimp that telecasts professional football games. The blimp will be used to activate this ultimate weapon.

The story is concise and well-written. Although "Black Sunday" is a long movie — about 2½ hours — it seems shorter. The excitement mounts during the first ½ hour until finally it becomes unbelievable. My stomach was in knots and my knees were shaking when I left the theater. Thankfully, the ending wasn't predictable as endings too often are in suspense-dramas.

Much more could be said about "Black Sunday," but I recommend that you see it. There's a lot of killing in this movie, so if you're much opposed to violence or a bit squemish, this movie isn't for you. As for everyone else, "Black Sunday" is one of the few movies with enough redeeming qualities to be worth the exorbitant movie prices. In fact, it may save you some money, because after seeing this, you won't want to watch the Super Bowl from anywhere but your living room.

Belief in God

by Chet Cady

Amazing, is it, that those who believe in God should be set down in scripture as though they do not believe in God? Not so when we realize that times have changed since the Bible was written. "To believe in God" in the Bible times and tongues meant something different than it does to the mass of men today.

Today, to believe that there is a God is "to believe in God." I am convinced, however, that what the Bible means by "to believe in God" is to trust him in a personal relationship.

Sometimes, in some men's lives, there comes the realization that a belief that God exists is not enough. There come the craving to know the God who is personal, with whom there is communion. That God is Jesus Christ, crucified and risen for your sake. Would you believe in God? Then seek Christ. He is no doctrine, no historical fact; belief in these is not belief in God, even as the Israelites' belief was counted as unbelief.

So then, if you believe that there is one triune God, that Christ himself is God, that he literally resurrected from the dead after three days, you do well. But would not even a devil believe the same things?

You, however, has the opportunity to know Christ personally, and to trust in his salvation.

As I was reading through the Psalms, I was struck by one verse in particular; 78:22:

They believed not in God, and trusted not in his salvation.

The verse jumps out from the page because it seems so incongruous in the context. The Psalmist simply lists many of the wonders God did while Moses led Israel, along with some of the incidents of rebellion from the people Israel. Here is part of the Psalm:

Verse 12: Marvellous things did he [God] in the sight of their [Israel's] fathers, in the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan.

13: He divided the sea, and caused them to pass through; and he made the waters to stand as a heap.

14: In the daytime also he led them with a cloud, and all the night with a light of fire.

15: He split the rocks in the wilderness, and gave them drink as out of the great depths.

16: He brought streams also out of the rock, and caused waters to run down like rivers.

17: And they sinned yet more against him by provoking the most High in the wilderness.

18: And they tempted God in their hearts by asking for food for their lust.

19: Yea, they spoke against God; they said, Can God furnish a table in the wilderness?

20: Behold, he smote the rock, that the waters gushed out, and the streams overflowed; can he give bread also? Can he provide meat for his people?

21: Therefore the Lord heard this, and was full of wrath: so a fire was kindled against Jacob, and anger also came up against Israel;

22: Because they believed not in God, and trusted not in his salvation:

23: Through he had commanded the clouds from above, and opened the doors of heaven.

24: And had rained down manna upon them to eat, and had given them of the grain from heaven.

Note, please, that those who rebelled believed that God had performed these miracles — verse 20 demonstrates that. Even as they rebelled against God, they acknowledged the works and ascribed them to him. Yet, God gives them no praise, but ascribes to them unbelief.

Commuters to expand

The commuter students recently held their second meeting of the year with assistant deans, Chris Andrew and Dave Peters.

The group discussed plans for expansion, a collection of commuter writing, trips to Old Man's Cave and a Columbus Clippers baseball game.

Both Dave Peters and Chris Andrew feel that the commuters have come a long way toward establishing themselves as an informal organization on Otterbein's campus. Past activities have included a commuter sponsored euchre tournament, parties in the commuter center, a Whiz Quiz team, a basketball team and numerous spontaneous outings.

As part of his graduate studies at Ohio State, Head Resident, Glen Oches of King Hall recently completed a survey showing the needs of the commuters. The administration hopes to use this study to improve the commuter program. The survey is available on closed reserve in the Otterbein library.

The students who frequent the commuter center feel that they are not reaching the majority of the commuters at Otterbein. They would like to issue an invitation to any interested commuter to contribute to the commuter anthology, "Beginnings" through editor Arlie Adams or to drop by the center, located in the basement of Clements Hall.

Duffin recital

Diana Duffin, instructor of piano at Otterbein College, will present a faculty recital in Lambert Hall May 1 at 8:15 p.m.

A graduate of the Juilliard School, Miss Duffin obtained her masters degree in piano from The Ohio State University where she is presently completing her doctoral degree. She has studied with the Richard Tetley-Kardos at Ohio State.

Two sonatas are included on the program, Ginastera's "Sonata para piano" and Beethoven's "Sonata in C Major." Debussy's "Preludes," books one and two, and works by Daquin and Graun will also be played by Miss Duffin.

The recital in Hall Memorial Auditorium, Lambert Hall, is open to the public at no charge.

Senate News

Senate elects committees

by Kent Stuckey

Committee members for the 1977-78 school year were elected at a special senate meeting on April 13. Committees are a vital part of the governance system, their purpose being to prepare issues for consideration of the senate. The following is a list of the students elected for work on the various committees and councils.

Academic Council: Dave Bridgman, Pam Burns, and Philip Mowery.

Administrative Council: Becky Coleman, Kent Stuckey, Mickey Burns, Jeff Burnett, Jean Farkas and Michael Bowers.

Appeals Council: Jeff Burnett (1 yr. term), Mike Wilhelm and Scott Holderle (2 yr. term).

Campus Affairs Committee: Kyle Yoest, Doug Kingsbury, Chuck Eckerseh, Sylvia Ingels, Gret Witt, Amy Vanek, Larry Brown, Candy Griesinger and Bill Burdick.

Campus Regulations and Services: Kathy Ullman, John Amy, Elizabeth Baker, Mark Espy, Bill Burdick, Tina Fetherolf, James Carter and Roger Althouse.

Judicial Council: Chris Kapestacy and Mickey Burns (1 yr. term); and Nancy Becker and Greg Detty (2 yr. term).

Personnel Committee: Graig Furry and Linda Shaw.

Rules Committee: Kathy Ullman.

Teacher Education Committee: Marianne Arndt and Beth Grissinger.

Traffic Council: Linda Shaw.

Trustee candidates speak out

Becky Coleman

Big changes face 'Bein

Caring and communication are the issues in this year's trustee election.

The student trustee needs to care about ALL issues affecting students. This means caring enough to attend trustee meetings and working to actively represent student interests. Student positions need to be effectively communicated to the trustees and trustee decisions need to be constantly communicated to the students.

Significant involvement in governance, debate, the RA program and the Greek system has helped me to understand Otterbein students and administrators. I have managed my time and chosen my priorities. Representing Otterbein students in governance is extremely important to me.

I feel I can articulate student interests and needs to the board of trustees. The trustees will not listen to extremism. That won't accomplish anything for Otterbein students.

Big changes face Otterbein. Tuition and fees are going up for all students, residents and commuters. A new housing proposal will be instituted next year and many upperclassmen still don't understand what is going to happen. Theft is a problem all over campus, in the dorms, in classrooms and in the Campus Center.

We seem to be losing good professors as well as college buildings. Cochran is going for sure and Sanders, Scott or Engle may possibly follow. Alcohol and visitation are strong student concerns affecting Otterbein's character.

The student trustee must seek and represent student opinion on these issues and then present that opinion effectively to the board of trustees. I am willing to give my best toward that goal.

Mickey Burns

Has time to fill role

I sincerely believe that the role of student trustee on campus is a very active one where communication between the student body and the regular boardmembers is a major (if not THE major) concern.

Here at Otterbein there are many people involved in numerous campus affairs and this is a definite "plus" as far as their initiative. However it is now the time to decide if the respective candidates have the time to perform the tasks the job entails.

I for one will. I have decided NOT to reapply for editor-in-chief of the Tan and Cardinal, which has demanded a major block of my time for two academic years now; working on the paper has helped me understand the workings of Otterbein and allowed me to develop good working relations with the administrators but were I to continue as editor I would not be able to fulfill the role of student trustee as far as time availability.

I am serious about the job and responsibility, and want to be your trustee. It's up to the individual to make a choice.

At any rate, allow me to outline what I consider to be current issues which will be taken into greater depth during Tuesday's debate on WOBN;

The housing proposals seem to be on everyone's mind. I don't see that they have much of a choice in that they have sexually discriminated in the housing patterns for so long.

Alcohol is not a dead issue! I have pretty much displayed my views on alcohol in my column throughout the year. I am for a type of open visitation, but so many factors have to be considered — security in the girls' dorms being a major factor.

Other issues such as the fate of Cochran, student representation in government, and any others on your minds can be talked about in the public debate Tuesday, as may space has run out.

Three Thinclads qualify

by Scott Brocket

Otterbein's track team qualified members in three events Saturday at Cleveland State for the NCAS Division III Championships, to be held May 27-29.

Dick Smith and Tom Bachtel qualified in the 440 yard dash and the mile run respectively. The 440 yard relay team, consisting of Dave Paul, Curtis Whitmore, Dick Smith and Dan Wetzel also qualified with a time of 42.4.

The triangular meet included the Otters, Baldwin-Wallace and Cleveland State. No official team score was kept, but times and distances for individual events were officially recognized.

Smith and Rachtel also set school records in their events. Smith's time of 48.6 beat the old quarter record of 48.8, which Bachtel's mark of 4:11.6 shaved 4.4 seconds off the previous record in the mile.

Two more Cardinals also qualified for the OAC Championships, to be held on May 13 & 14. Bill Jones' time of 22.5 in the 220 yard dash and Dave Miller's time of 55.3 in the 440 yard intermediate hurdles merited them entrance into the meet.

Coach Porter Miller labeled Saturday as "one of the best running days we've had". He added, "Anytime you break two school records you're doing well."

Miller was also pleased with two other efforts. He noted, "Greg Jewett's time of 1:59.3 in the 880 was a real highlight for us... and Rick Miller's mark of 14:51.6 was a good three mile time." confrontation against Marietta, Muskingum, and Ohio Wesleyan "should be a good meet."

Otterbein will host Wittenberg and Findlay tomorrow in another triangular meet. Findlay is currently undefeated in the Hoosier Buckeye Conference.

The Otters will have five more meets during which they can qualify individuals for the OAC Championship. Miller said that the April 30

Otter booters take first win

The Otterbein Soccer Club won it's first game of the season against the Walnut Raiders, Sunday, April 17. Otterbein, the defending league champions, had taken an early 1-0 lead on a first-half goal scored by Abraham AlFaiser. After two minutes had elapsed the Raiders tied the score but, before the half ended, Steve Leonard put the booters ahead 2-1.

The second half proved to me mostly a defensive battle for the Otters, while the Raiders had to be offensive and cautious on

Otterettes raise mark to 4-0

by Dan Thompson

The Otterbein women's softball team raised their season mark to 4-0 this last week.

The Otterettes opened the '77 campaign with a twin-bill sweep of the College of Wooster women. The women of Wittenberg were the latest victim of the female Cards, as the 'Bein breezed through both ends of the doubleheader, taking the first game 17-3 and the nightcap 11-1.

Rick White, the Wittenberg University forward who led them to the NCAA Division III Basketball Championship, has been named to the second team of the Coaches All-American Team.

The Otterbein thinclads were one of only two Ohio Conference teams to receive an invitation to the Ohio Relays at Ohio State tomorrow. Baldwin-Wallace took the other invite. The Cardinal cindermen however have an earlier commitment to host Wittenberg and Findley, and will send only a very limited number of contestants to the Ohio Relays.

Hardballers drop below .500 mark

The Otterbein Baseball team saw their record drop to 11-10 last week as they lost four of five games. After narrowly getting by Muskingum in a conference game, 4-3, the Otters then proceeded to lose their next four games.

In a double-header Saturday, the Scots who boast the best overall record in either division, 19-1, put the Cards away by scores of 10-4 and 3-0.

Otterbein also lost a doubleheader last week to a strong Ashland team, 8-6 and 3-0.

OAC stats released Monday show that Marietta is holding down first place with a perfect 7-0 league record. Otterbein is second in the Southern Division with a record of 3-1 while Wittenberg, Otterbein's foe Wednesday, is in third place, 4-2.

Veteran first baseman, Dan Wilmoth is 12th in the conference in the batting category. Wilmoth is hitting at a .377 clip in 19 games. Also in the top 25 in batting is Randy Moomaw the Card thirdbaseman. The junior from Sugarcreek is hitting .354, also in 19 games.

As far as pitching goes, Bill Hillier is leading the team in the ERA category with a 3.27. Wes Williams is the strikeout leader, averaging 8.6 a game and is fifth in the league. Don Dyson has the best record on the pitching staff with a record of 3-2.

Division leader, Marietta, travels to Westerville Saturday afternoon for a doubleheader with the Cards.

Merrill sign-up

Students interested in going to The Merrill Palmer Institute in Detroit must sign up by April 29.

The trip, which takes place May 5, will provide students with the opportunity to talk with teaching and administrative staff and students; tour the Freer Knapp and Skillman Building of the Institute; visit student resident halls; and visit Wayne State University and buildings of the Detroit Cultural Center.

The total cost of the trip, including all scheduled meals and transportation will be $10.

Greek study gets good start

Saturday, April 16 marked the final meeting of the President's Greek Study Central Committee for the season. The committee was organized last fall term for the purposes of studying Otterbein's Greek system and offering suggestions for improved effectiveness.

The committee is composed of students, alumni, faculty, staff and administrators, and is chaired by Dean Karl Oldag. The Central Committee is divided into smaller subcommittees which have been studying programming, public relations, alumni relations and legal responsibilities of the sororities and fraternities.

Through the efforts of the subcommittees, the Central Committee has been able to offer recommendations to Panhal and IFC for improvements in each of these areas including an extensive study of public attitudes toward the Otterbein Greeks, an alumni Panhellenic organization, and the activities for Greek Week which are now under way.

Dean Oldag will be meeting with the new presidents of the Greek organizations later this term in order to determine where each of them will best fit in next year's advisory committee.

This year's Panhellenic president, Kat Johnson feels that the committee has done a good job so far, saying, "I still have some concerns that unless we continue to keep things in perspective the committee may assume too much 'Inter-Greek policeman'. So far, this hasn't happened. The committee's been terrific."
