

Kelly Maurer and Richard Tatgenhorst (front row), who recently returned from internships at the Actors Theatre of Louisville, will play the roles of Rosalind and Orlando in the Otterbein College Theatre production of "As You Like It." Also featured in the play are Richard Buckley as Oliver and Gina Zelazny as Celia, (top row). The play will run Wednesday, Feb. 4 through Saturday, Feb. 7, at 8:15 p.m. in Cowan Hall on the Otterbein campus. Tickets are available at the Cowan Hall box office or by calling 890-3028.

Otterbein theatre duo recent Louisville interns

Richard Tatgenhorst and Kelly Maurer, both seniors majoring in theatre at Otterbein College, will be starring in the Otterbein College Theatre production of "As You Like It," which opens for a four-day run tonight at 8:15 p.m. in Cowan Hall on the Otterbein campus.

However, that's not all the two aspiring young actors have in common - both have just recently returned from a four-month internship with the Actors Theatre of Louisville, one of the top regional theatres in the country, and an experience they describe as "tremendous."

Last spring, after competing in auditions against over 500 students from across the country, both were selected as "half year" interns with the theatre, along with two other Otterbein students who will attend the program this spring.

While attending the Louisville theatre, Tatgenhorst appeared in "A Christmas Carol" and "The Waiting Room," while Ms. Maurer appeared in "Cyrano De Bergerac" and "Class Examination Time." Both had roles in "Gally Mander Stew."

Their current play, "As You Like It," Shakespeare's delightful comedy, will run at 8:15 p.m. Feb. 4 through 7 in Cowan Hall on the Otterbein campus. Tickets are available at the Cowan Hall box office or by calling 890-3028 from 1 to 4:30 p.m. weekdays.

