ABOUT THE PLAY AND THE AUTHOR

"The Teahouse of the August Moon" opened in New York City at the Martin Beck Theatre on October 15, 1953, and closed on March 24, 1956, after 1027 performances. The comedy was adapted by John Patrick from the novel by Vern Sneider. "Teahouse" was also the winner of the Pulitzer Prize and the Critics' Circle Award for 1953-54. David Wayne, John Forsythe, and Mariko Niki starred in the Broadway production, while Burgess Meredith was featured in the road company.

John Patrick was born in Louisville, Kentucky, and was educated at Columbia University. His Broadway plays include "The Willow and I," "The Hasty Heart," "The Curious Savage," and "Lo and Behold." He has also done considerable screen writing, having most recently adapted Irving Stone's "The President's Lady" and John Secondari's "Coins in the Fountain."
