MAGICAL, MUSICAL CINDERELLA
TO PLAY AT OTTERBEIN NOV. 17-19

The charming magic surrounding one of the favorite children's tales of all time will be recreated by Otterbein College Children's Theatre in the Nov. 17-19 production of Cinderella. The traditional rags-to-riches fairy tale will be sparked with music and dancing and bring to life unforgettable characters such as the fairy godmother, wicked step-mother, evil, jealous step-sisters and handsome prince to delight the young and young at heart.

Serving as guest director for the production will be Petie Dodrill, theatre director at Gahanna Lincoln High School. She has directed more than 20 children's theatre productions for the college in past years.

Starring as Cinderella will be junior Carolyn Valentine of Sidney who appeared in past Otterbein College Theatre productions such as Sweeney Todd and Romeo and Juliet. Junior Ben Hodges of Morristown, Tenn., who was featured as Ken de La Maize in Musical Comedy Murders of 1940, Judge Turpin in Sweeney Todd and played a major role in Chorus Line, will play the part of the prince.

Other cast members include Amy Patten of Harlan, Iowa, fairy godmother; Kellyanne Pearman of Westerville, mother; Colby Paul of Worthington, first sister; Nicole Rabel of Atlanta, second sister; Michael Hayes of Zaleski, Ohio, Roland; and Anastasia Klimaszewski of Aurora, queen. Also playing roles are Alex Chatfield of Huntsburg, John Barrett of Whitehall, Laura Hagan of Newark, Mike Warren of Marietta and James Minter of Depauw, Ind.

All performances will be in Cowan Hall on the college campus. The Friday, Nov. 17, show will be at 7:30 p.m. Performances on Saturday the 18th will be given at 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. The last show will be on Sunday, Nov. 19 at 1:30 p.m. General admission tickets may be obtained by calling the box office at 614/898-1109 beginning Nov. 7.
