Serenades

Favorite melodies of the 1977 Homecoming candidates were presented by their sorority sisters and a musical trio at the annual Homecoming Serenades held Oct. 16 in the Campus Center Lounge.

Homecoming candidates were selected by the campus sororities and independents to represent their respective groups.

Representatives from the sororities were Lucinda Sigrist, Kappa Phi Omega; Debra Gessey, Tau Delta; Nancy Ballog, Theta Nu; Jill Pfancuff, Tau Epsilon Mu; Cindy Skunza, Sigma Alpha Tau; Tracy Buyten-dyk, Epsilon Kappa Tau; and Judy McLaughlin, Independent.

Under the Bigtop

Excitement filled the air as the people of Westerville awaited the beginning of the 1977 Homecoming Parade. This year's theme was "Under the Bigtop." Along with the floats from each sorority and fraternity, the homecoming candidates, several area high school bands, the alumni band and Otterbein's Cardinal Marching Band were part of the parade.

Later in the afternoon, Jill Pfancuff, a member of Tau Epsilon Mu, reigned over pre-game activities as the 1977 Otterbein Homecoming Queen. Jill's Maid of Honor was Tracey Buytendyk (EKT). The best floats were judged to be Sigma Alpha Tau (Owls) and Lambda Gamma Epsilon (Kings).

The court consisted of Judy McLaughlin (Independent), Cindy Skunza (Owls), Nancy Ballog (Theta Nu), Debbie Geesey (Tau Delta), and Lucinda Sigrist (Onyx).

The day was topped off by Otterbein's 37-14 victory over Denison.

The Streets of New York

The time: 1877. Poverty, depression and panic sweep "The Streets of New York." A scoundrel takes advantage of a seafarer and the result brings tragedy to a lot of people. But it wasn't all sad. Romance added light along with the cold-hearted love for MONEY.

The production of "The Streets of New York" came to life in Cowan Hall on Oct. 19-22. Action grew from depressing scenes of the depression to luminous explosions from a fire on stage. "The Streets of New York" was a melodrama — the action and plot grew over character development. The hissing and applauding from the traditional villain, hero and heroine characters along with vaudeville variety acts of song and dance at intermission.

The Otterbein College Theatre presented the play that director Donald Paisley stated as to it having "a kind of simplicity of times past." The play featured Bob Kokai as Gideon Bloodgood, Cindy Kaczmarek as Lucy Fairweather, David Witt as Mark Livingstone, Nancy Shelton as Alida Bloodgood, Kent Blocher as Badger and Melissa Carey as Mrs. Fairweather.

Set designs were by Professor Fred Thayer featuring the 19th century New York City streets scenes. Costumes, make-up, and lighting added the finishing touch to the magnificent production of "The Streets of New York."

'He robbed from the rich'

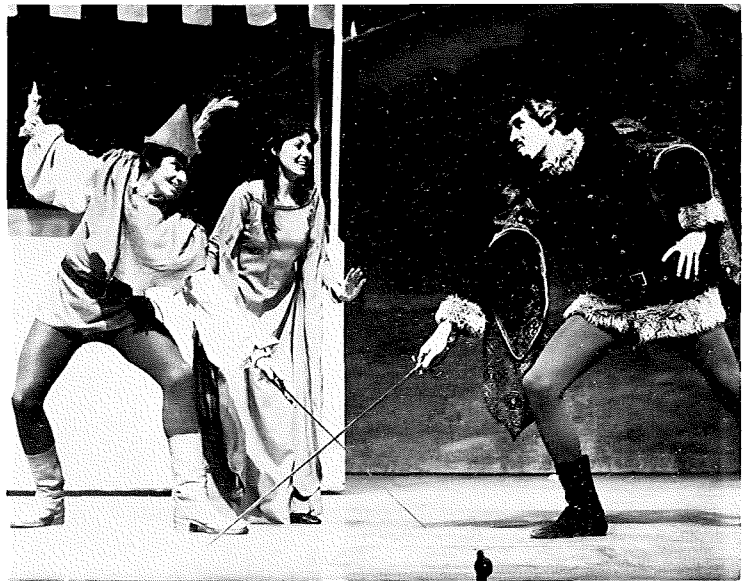

Whispers, giggles, cheers and boos roared through Cowan Hall when the Theatre Department presented "Robin Hood." Various ages from children to adult attended the well-produced and animated play on Nov. 18-20. The fairy tale came to life as Robin Hood 'robbed from the rich and gave to the poor'.

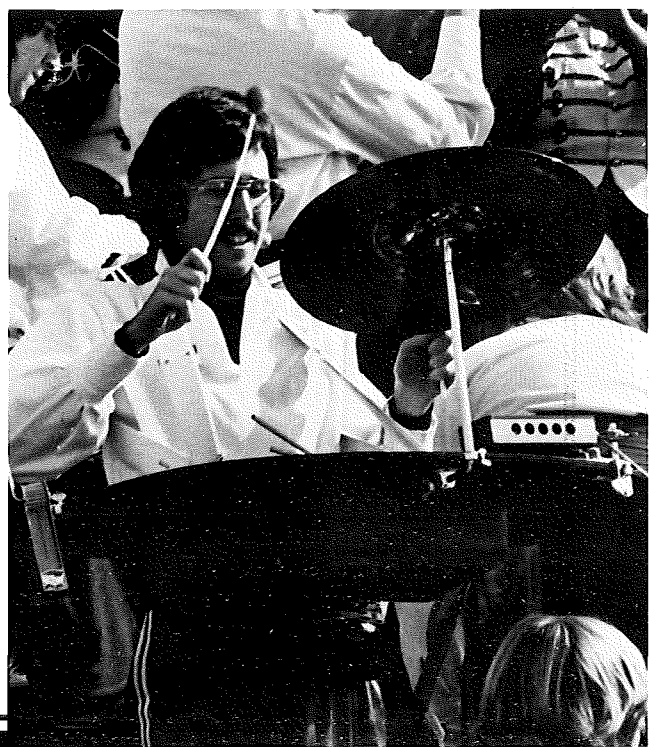

Robin and his merry men lived in Sherwood Forest and planned out their schemes to trick the Sheriff of Nottingham. After discovering that Maid Marion had returned, Robin Hood planned to have her recognize him through their childhood act of Malcom the magician. Then the Sheriff of Nottingham wanted to capture Robin Hood and his merry band of followers and planned an archery contest. Robin Hood and company dressed as poor beggars and tricked the Sheriff again.

This 12th century hero's reputation won many hearts while the cast went swinging through trees, running up and down the aisles, and quarterstaff fighting. Maypole dancing, jugglers and acrobats added to the color of the stunning set designed by Mary Jo Yeakel.

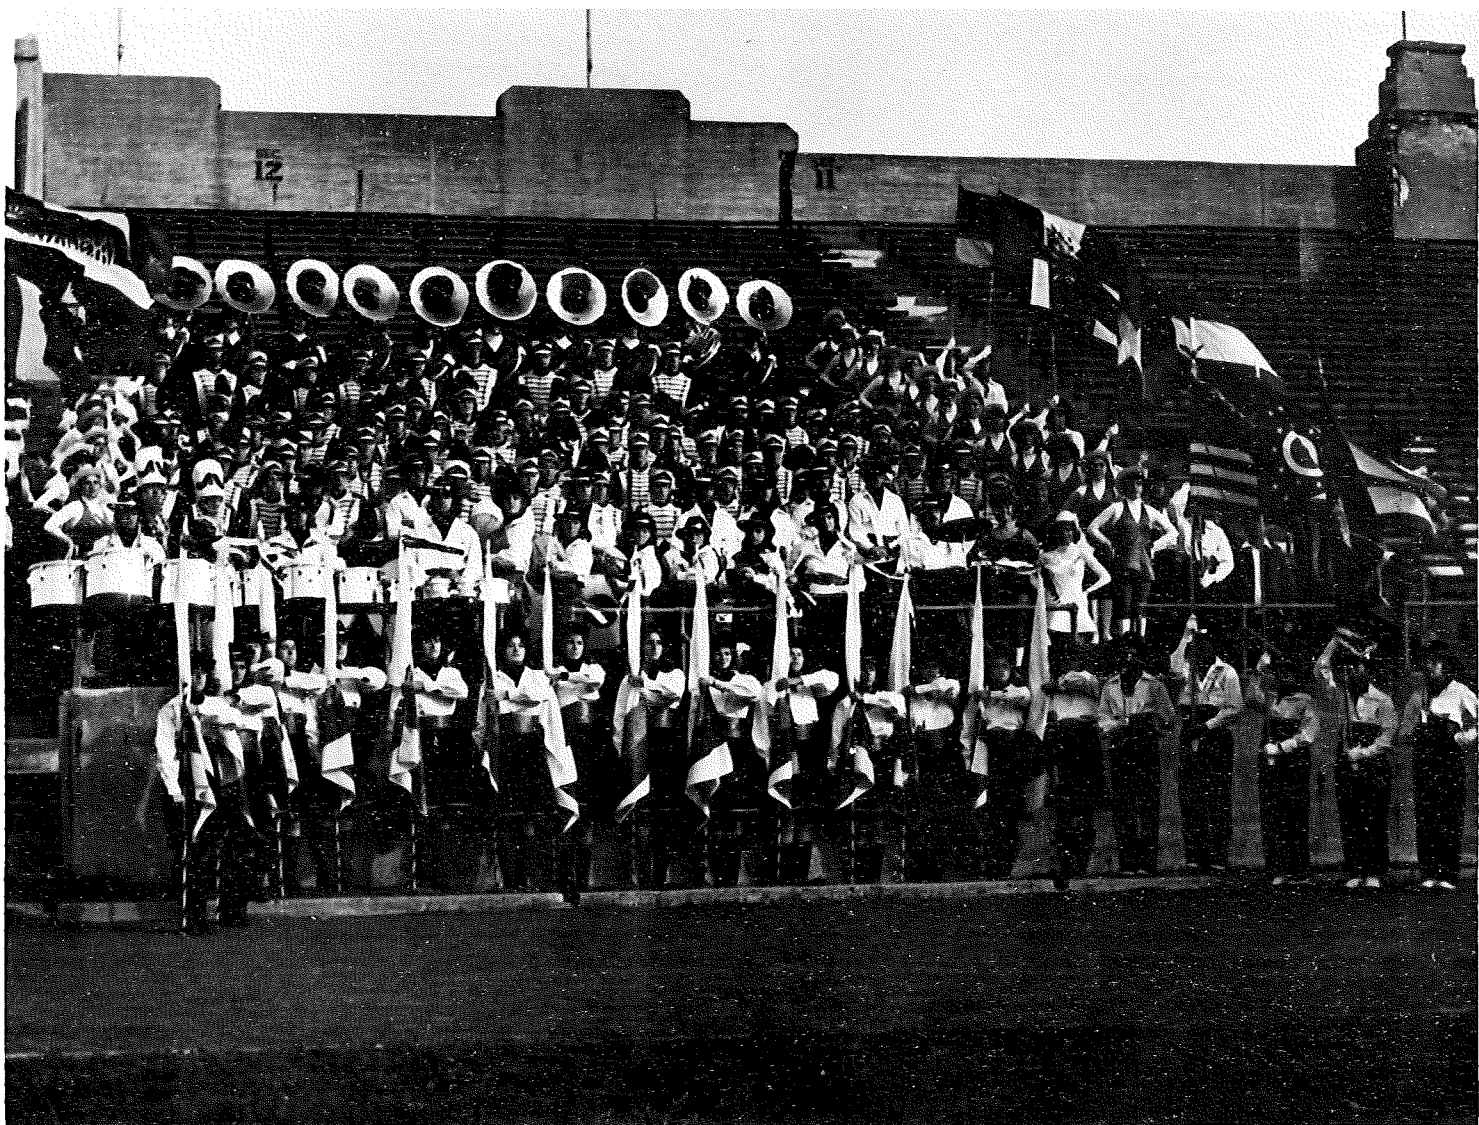

The directors were Sarah Skates and Mrs. Petie Dorrill. Technical director was Mary Jo Yeakel with costumes by Beth Titus, Choreography by Joann Van Sant and quarterstaff fighting by Robert Kokai.

Playing the role of Robin Hood was Troy West; Maid Marion was Sharon Blair; Little John was Greg Kimbro; Friar Tuck was Toby Uchtman; Sheriff of Nottingham was John Ebner along with a very large supporting cast.

Marching Band

Members of the Otterbein Cardinal Marching Band delighted the crowds at both home and away football games with their colorful costumes and formations.

The one hundred and ninety member band, under the direction of Gary Tirey and Donald Wolfe, put in numerous hours practicing a variety of half-time shows.

Highlights of the Marching Band season was their appearance at a Cincinnati Bengals game held Sun., Oct. 16 and their concert held on Sun., Oct. 30.

Otters take 2nd in OAC

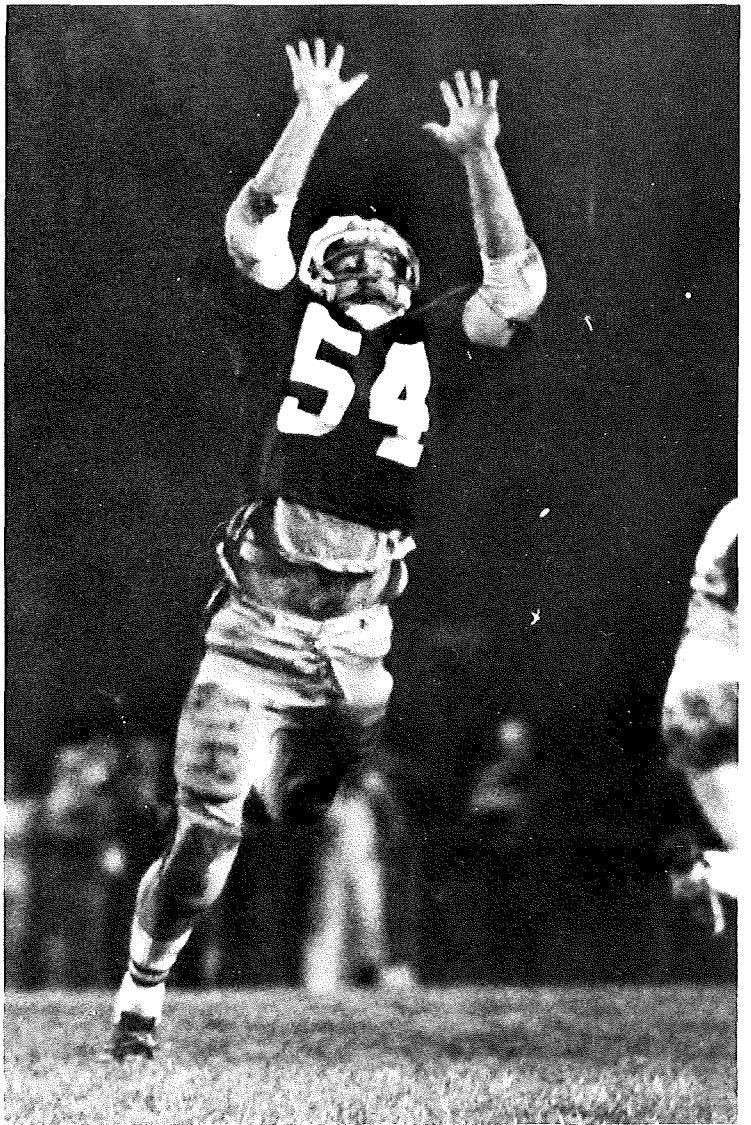

Otterbein, led by Bill Hilliard and John Hussey, recorded a 8-1 record this season. The Otters only loss was to Baldwin Wallace. Ten players from Otterbein earned a place on the all conference team. Wayne Cumberland was the team's leading rusher.

Coach Seils credited the team's success to the leadership and skills provided by ten graduating seniors. These seniors have had an outstanding four years. However, with the likes of Dick Bonner (2nd year all-conference defensive tackle) and Kevin Lynch, Coach Seils feels the others will have another winning season.

The Gondoliers

A Gilbert and Sullivan production of "The Gondoliers" was presented by the Otterbein Opera Theatre Jan. 19-21. Comedy and romance filled the delight of the audience along with music and song. The two gondoliers were in search of their true lovers. Through their journeys they married Gianetta and Tossa. But a slight problem arose. When the gondoliers were three months old one of them was married to the daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Plaza-Toro. Neither gondolier knew who had two wives on his hands. But neither gondolier knew that Casilda, the daughter of the Duke and Duchess was in love with someone else, Luiz.

So through long procedures of figuring who was married to whom, it all ended out well with everyone happily married to their own true love.

The Gondoliers were Cabot Rea and Bruce Ludwick. Their wives were Fontaine Follansbee and Anne Kanengeiser. The Duke and Duchess of Plaza-Toro were Richard Chamberlain and Terry Jackson. Their daughter, Casilda was Heather Leach and Casilda's lover was Luiz, Henry Molinaro.

Realism of the vessels were constructed through paper-mache, casters and long ropes by the shows designer and technical director Carlton Ritenour.

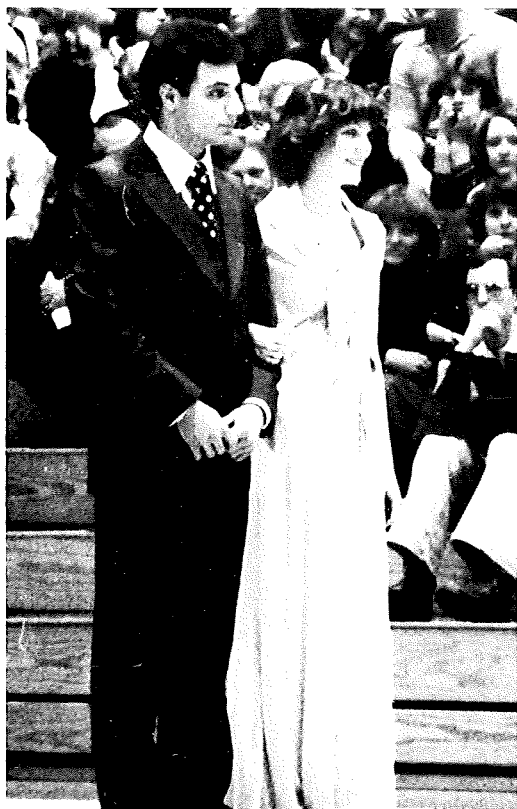

The director was Morton Achter with the orchestra under the direction of Dennis Kratzer.

Winter Weekend

Winter Weekend at Otterbein College was observed Feb. 4. Selected by the students at Otterbein, Lori Moomaw was crowned Queen for the weekend. Lori, an elementary education major from Sugar-creek was crowned at halftime of the Otterbein-Muskingum basketball game.

Lori is a member of Epsilon Kappa Tau (EKT) where she had the position of sophomore executive representative.

Members of the Winter Weekend court were Lisa Cusin of Coshocton, Pam Harden, Canal Winchester, Coleen Maurer, Union and Karen Stump of Mt. Sterling.

The queen and her court reigned over weekend festivities at Otterbein including the basketball game and midnight ice skating.

One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest

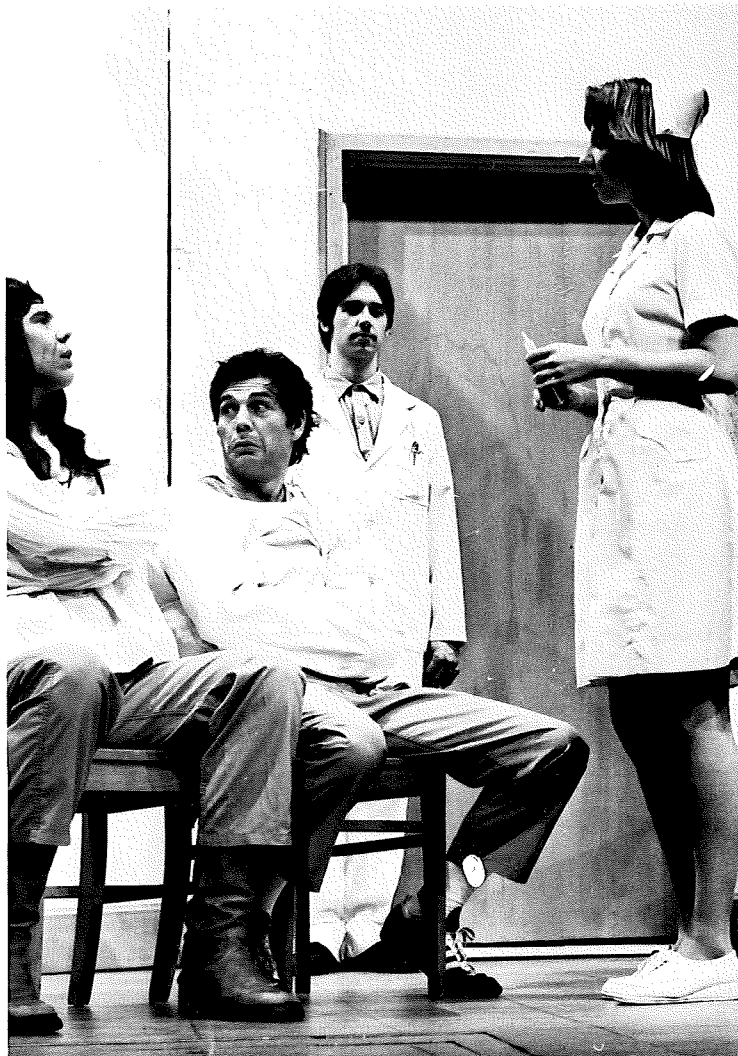

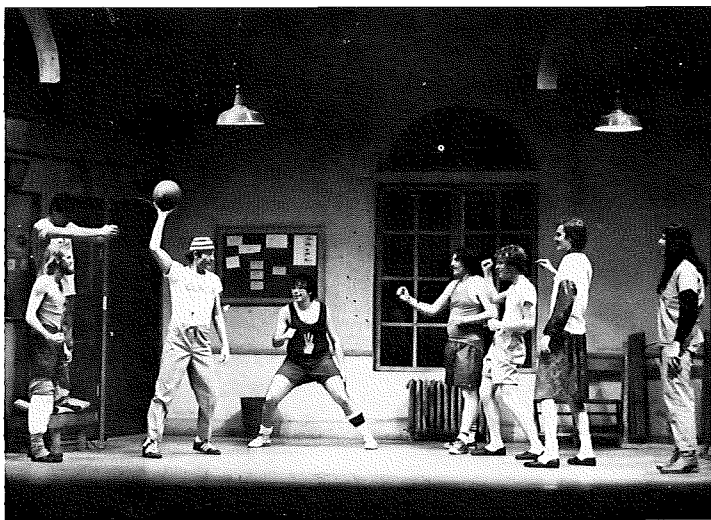

... one flew east, one flew west and one flew over the cuckoo's nest. Cowan Hall turned into a mental hospital when the Theatre Department along with professional guest star Robert Forster presented "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's nest." Many mixed personalities were expressed by the patients of the mental hospital. Through R. P. McMurphey, the ward remained active and lively even though through the objection of Nurse Ratched. Nurse Ratched controlled and monitored the patients's actions.

Betting and gambling were two of McMurphey's favorite pastimes. He bargained with the men on the floor, coached a basketball team and conducted a little "party" to arouse the ward. Nurse Ratched's punishment for McMurphey consisted of a ladinectomy (removal of portion of the brain).

Robert Forster is the only professional artist to do a repeat performance at Otterbein in the 17 years of the program. He first starred in the 1975 production of A Streetcar Named Desire. Along with Mr. Forster's part as R. P. McMurphey he also co-directed the production.

Those playing roles in the award-winning drama were Joy Bundy as Nurse Ratched, Bob Kokai as Chief Bromden, David Weller as Dale Harding, David Robinson as Billy Bibbit, Jurgen Tossman as Scanlon, Steve Andrews as Chewick, David Marcia as Martini and Dan Pohl as Ruckey. The designer-technical was Fred Thayer and producer was Charles Dodril.

Above; Op Odyssey performers were Valerie Hammer, Jonathan Hollander and Nancy Cohen.

Right; Wilma Rudolph speaking at an informal dinner.

Guest Appearances

LYNN REDGRAVE: Lynn Redgrave was a featured performer in the Otterbein Artist Series. Miss Redgrave combined scenes from her favorite roles and sharing anecdotes about her theatrical family.

Her stage triumphs have ranged from broad comedy to her portrayal of a deaf and dumb daughter in "Mother Courage."

WILMA RUDOLPH: In the 1960 Olympics, Wilma Rudolph was discovered the "World's Fastest Woman" and won three gold medals. Wilma appeared at Cowan Hall and discussed her hard and struggled life. Through her determination she bypassed all lost hope and ended up on top.

OP ODYSSEY: The combination of modern dance, sculpture, film and music was presented by the Valerie Hammer Project of the Open Eye in the production of Op Odyssey. Op Odyssey was a dramatic integration of visual and performing arts, with choreography by Valerie Hammer along with sculptures and music.

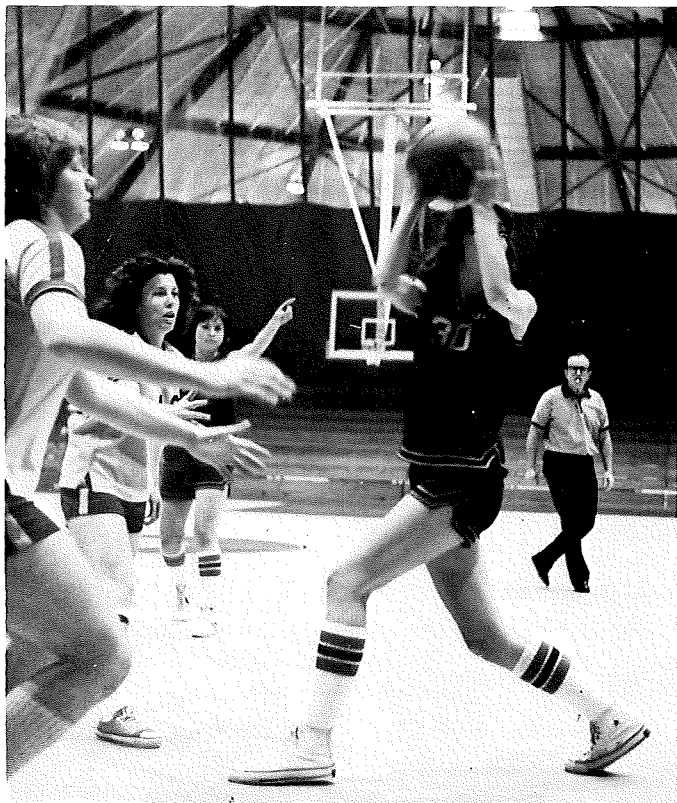

The other two dancers who performed with Hammer were Jonathan Hollander and Nancy Cohen. Otterbein was privileged to be the sight of the first American performance since they won the Grand Prize of the Festival D'Automne in Paris.

ROBERT GURALNIK: Robert Guralnik, one of America's finest young pianists presented Tonight: Franz Liszt at Otterbein.

In Tonight: Franz Liszt, Guralnik presented an adventurous dramatic musical event based on the life of Liszt. It is Liszt traits and characteristics which Guralnik sought to portray in the dramatic-recital presentation.

Women's Basketball

The Otterbein ladies had an overall good season in basketball. A fourteen woman squad with two freshmen had much returned talent and hope for an even better year next year with team work and consistency.

Scoring honors went to Salli O'Dell,

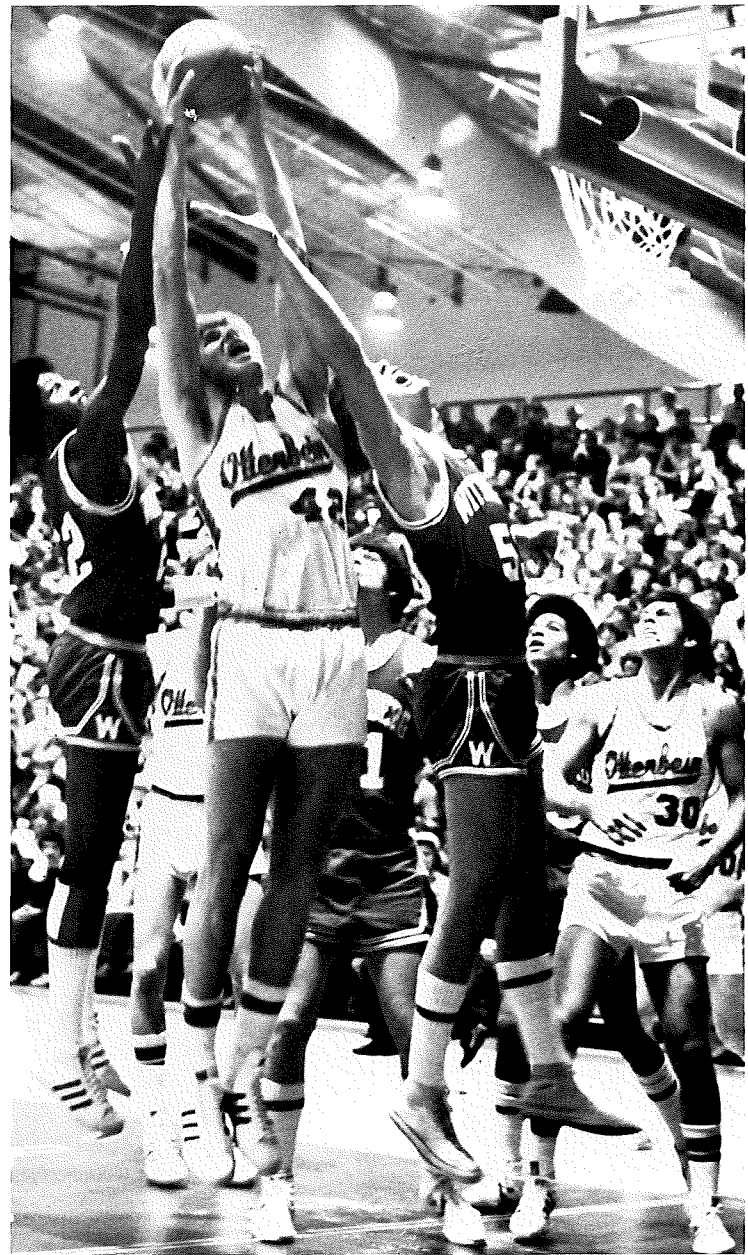

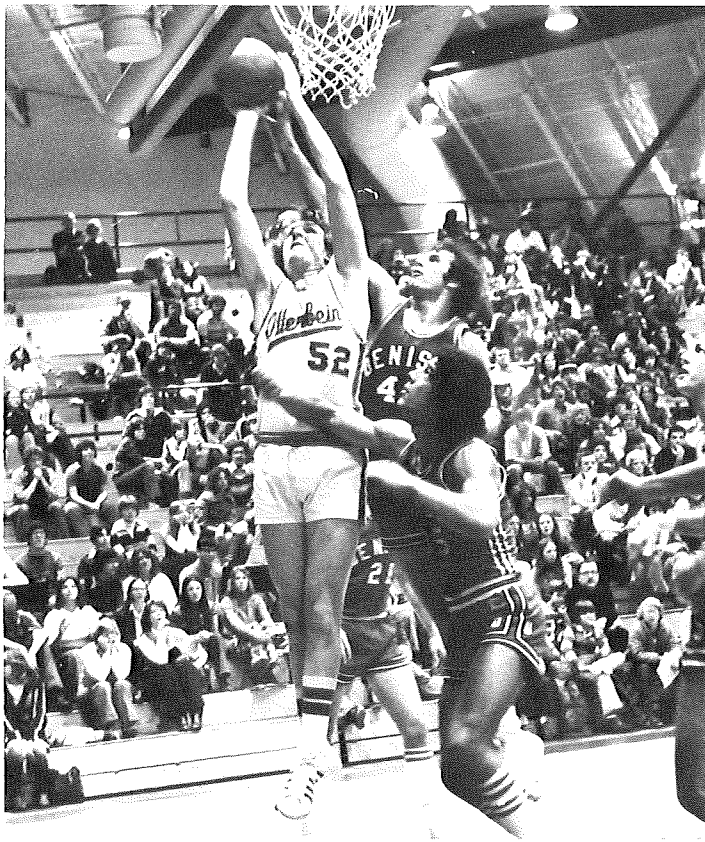

Kim Bodell, Karen Horn and Deb Hoar. There was great talent on the team which advanced them to the OASW Small College Basketball Tournament. The coach for the Otterbein Women's Basketball team was Gwen Hoover.

Otterbein Wins OAC Basketball Title

It was a year of firsts for the 1978 Cardinal cagers. After compiling a regular season record of 15-8 overall and 8-4 in the Ohio Athletic Conference Southern Division, Coach Dick Reynolds' charges began a furious march on the OAC title.

First round action saw the hosting Otterbein squad down Ohio Wesleyan 75-72 in overtime. Two cliff-hangers later — one over Muskingum 54-53 and another over Wittenberg 69-63, and the local team, picked by pre-season forecasters to finish no better than third, faced Northern Division winner, Wooster, for the Ohio Conference Championship.

In a hard-fought contest at Baldwin-Wallace, the Otters defeated the Lords 72-71 and became the first Otterbein team to boast an OAC cage crown.

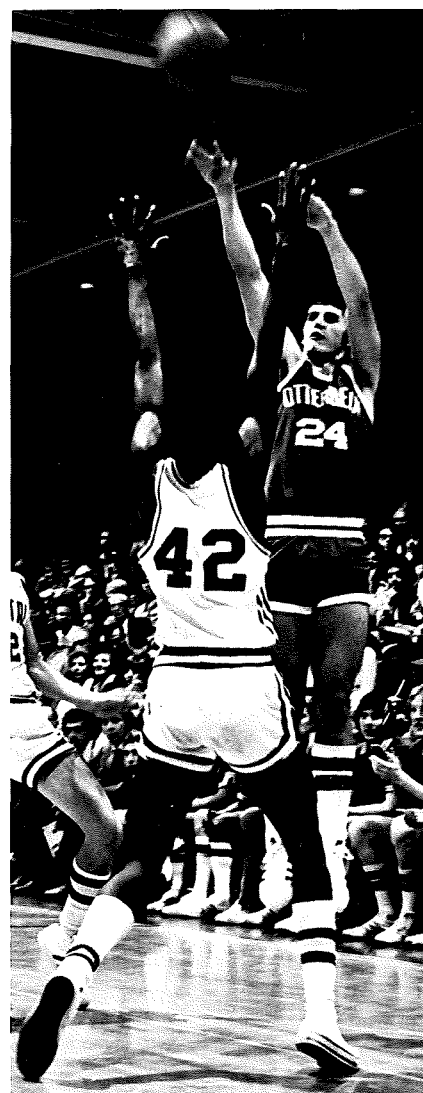

Reynolds' squad became the first Cardinal team to compete in the NCAA Division III Basketball Tournament, finishing third in the Great Lakes Regional.

Amid this year of first came a last. Lone graduating senior center Ed Williams capped his four-year career with a 48-point, 35-rebound performance in the two NCAA games and was named MVP of the tourney.

Tartuffe

The play begins as a wimpy owner of a 17th century household named Orgon takes in a leech and thief who masquerades as the virtuous Tartuffe. All but Orgon are able to see through Tartuffe's scheming and try to persuade the master of the house to get rid of him. After Orgon names Tartuffe as his heir, Tartuffe attempts to find his rapture with Orgon's wife Dormire. Discovering this ploy, Orgon regretfully throws Tartuffe out of his home. In revenge Tartuffe tries to evict Orgon's family.

This farce written by Moliere was received warmly by the audience. The Theatre department's April production was under the supervision of Dr. Charles Dodrill, Mr. Donald Paisley, and Mr. Fred Thayer. Costumes were magnificently designed by David Robinson, while the set was designed by David Weller. Anne Kanengeiser was Madame Pernelle, Karen Radcliffe was Elmire, Amy Vanek was Dorine, David Butterfield was Damis, Orgon was Kent Blocher, Robert Kokai was Tartuffe.

May Day Court and Greek Week

The second annual Greek Week is a week set aside to encourage development of pride and unity in the Greek system at Otterbein. Competition and interaction between the sororities and fraternities promoted the week long event.

There was a picnic, a leadership awareness program, officer training session, and Greek Superstar Competition.

At the Harmony Night EKT and Spinx won the singoff awards. Recognition was given to Karl Oldag, Dean of Student Development and the initiator of Greek Week. Dean Oldag who had announced his resignation earlier, was cited for his work and dedication to the Greek system.

May Day Competition

A traditional event at Otterbein is the May Day Festivities. May 20th was a big day for Nancy Case when she was chosen May Day Queen by her classmates. Her court consisted of Kim Bodell, Candy Griesinger and Molly McMullen. Nancy was crowned by last year's queen, Mary Furry. The annual Maypole dance was performed by selected freshman pledges from each sorority.

The highlight of the afternoon was the May Day games of tricycle riding, watermelon eating, mattress races, a surprise race and 3-legged race. Winners were Onyx and Club.

An outdoor concert followed the games along with a picnic dinner.

Applause !!!

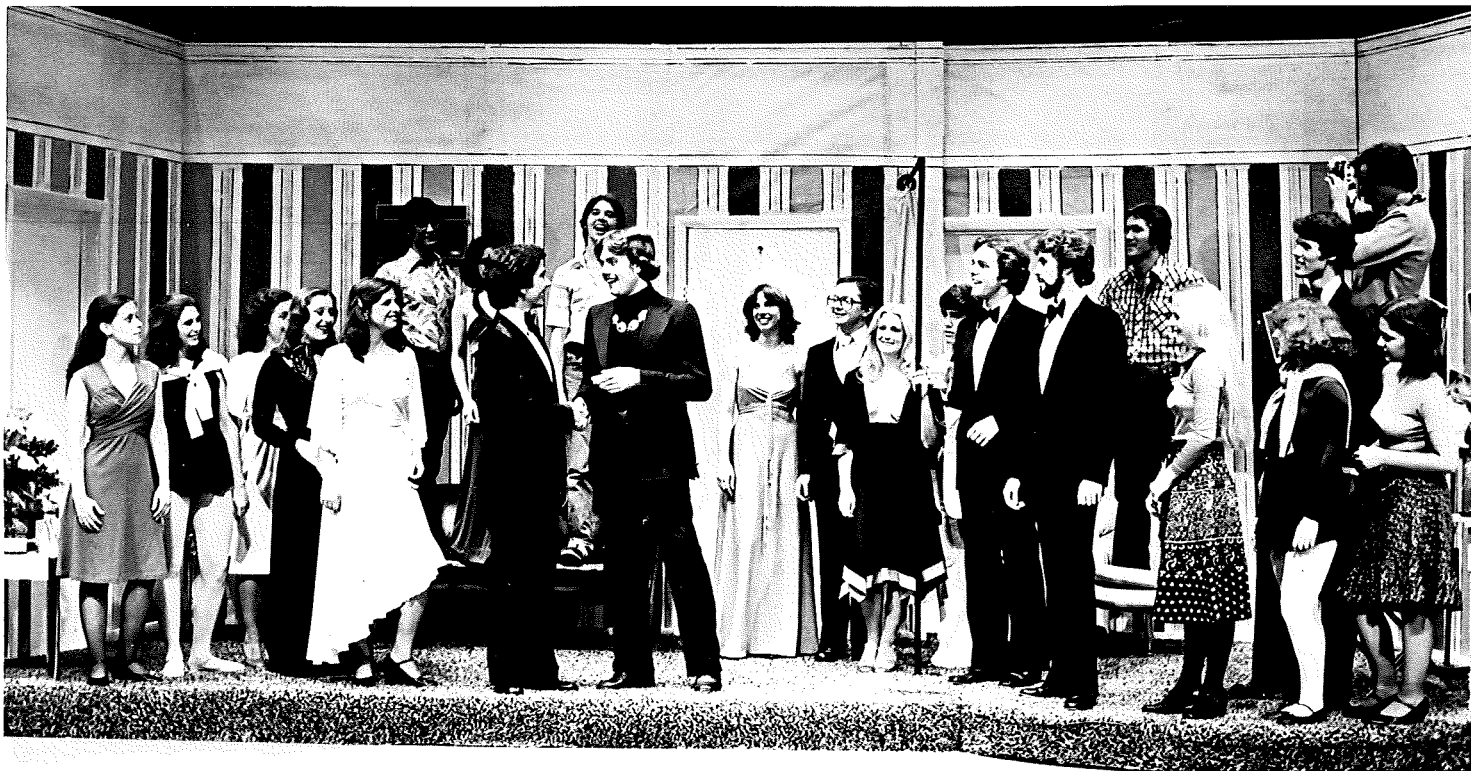

What are the rewards of being in the Theatre department? "Applause, Applause, Applause." The Otterbein College Theatre Department of Music and Dance presented the musical "Applause," May 17-20. The play revolved around the "behind-the-scenes" conflict between an aging star and an aspiring newcomer. Nancy Shelton portrayed Margo Channing. Tom Downard appeared as Bill Sampson, famous film and stage director who is Margo's romantic interest. Anne Kanengeiser was cast as Eve Harrington, the interloper. John Ebner played the steely theatrical producer, Howard Benedict, with David Witt and Karen Radcliff in roles of Buzz and Karen Richards, the married couple involved in the excitement of show business.

Two other main actors in the cast of 29 were David Robinson as Duane Fox, Margo's hairdresser and confidant and Fontaine Follansbee as Bonnie, who sang the show's title song.

A combined effort of Otterbein's Dance and Theatre departments, the play was directed by Dr. Charle Dorrill, and Dr. Lyle Barkhymer of the music faculty was director of the orchestra.

The one hundred thirty-first Otterbein College commencement was held June 11 in the Rike Center gymnasium. Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Arts Degrees were presented to two hundred sixty-four Otterbein graduates.

Brock Peters, a distinguished actor of Broadway plays and movie productions and Theatre department's Professional Guest star in 1971 presented the 1978 commencement address.

IN MEMORIAM

Pete Baker

1924 – 1978

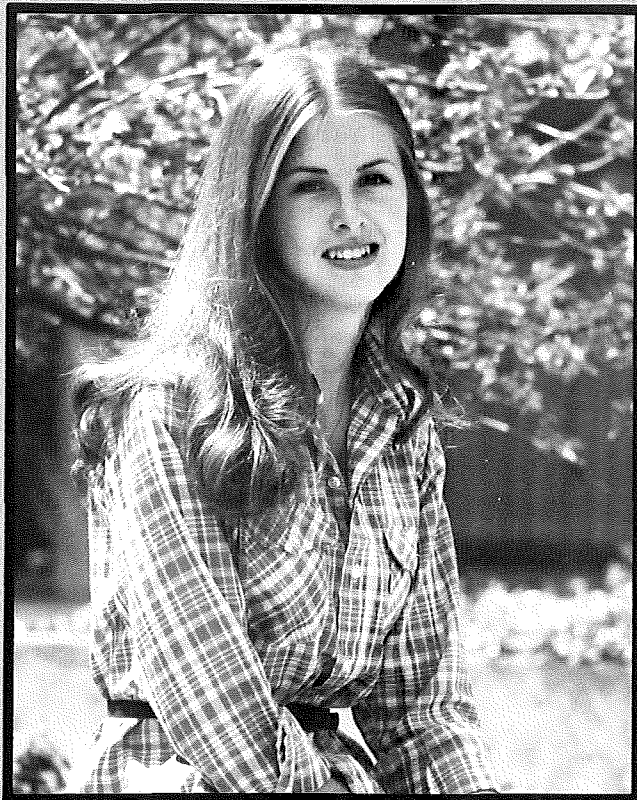

Otterbein College Registrar Peter B. Baker died on August 21, 1978 after suffering a heart attack a day earlier.

"The Otterbein community was deeply saddened by the death of Pete Baker," said President Thomas J. Kerr, IV. "He was a dedicated employee. He loved his work with students. His cheerfulness in the face of many obstacles was an inspiration to us all."

Mr. Baker served Otterbein for more than 30 years after working for the Registrar's Office while a student at Otterbein. He joined the staff full time following his graduation in 1950, becoming Assistant to the Registrar. He later became Assistant Registrar, then Registrar in 1973.

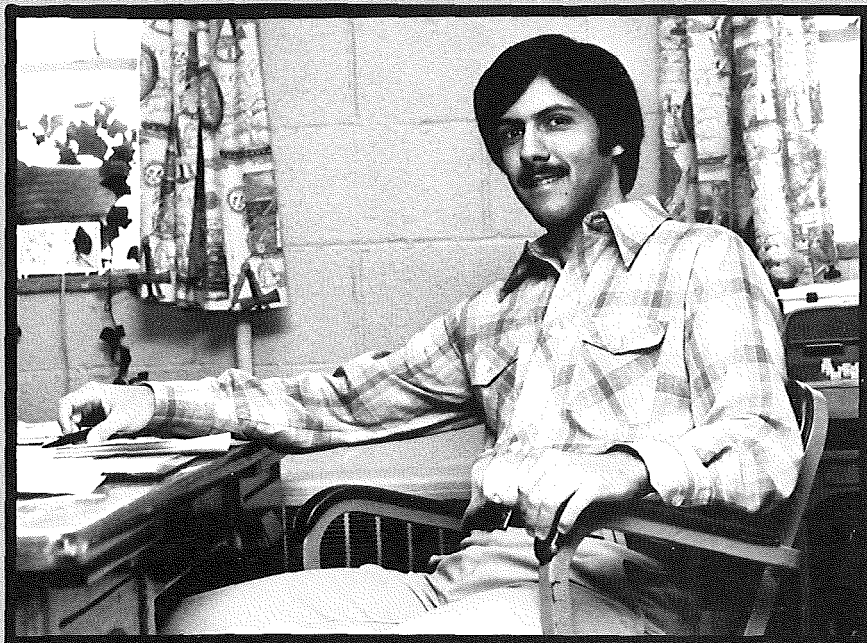

Mr. Baker was survived by his wife, Mardelle, and sons Peter III and Frederick, both Otterbein graduates, and Thomas Corbin, an Otterbein freshman in 1978-79.

Editors

As we put the final touches on the 1978 Sibyl, we remember the hard work and determination of the staff to preserve the memories of the 1977-78 school year for you. We hope as you look through this book our efforts will hold as many memories for you as it does for us.

We would like to thank the following people who have helped make this yearbook possible: Wes Mirick, representative from Taylor Publishing Company, Greg Chachoff and Bob Ott, representatives from Beverly Studio in Columbus, Emilie Caldwell, Jim Denison, Mark Freese, and Gina Miller for their photography work in the '78 Sibyl. A special thanks goes to Bill Stewart of the Public Relations office for his numerous prints and information on theatre and sports activities.

We would also like to thank our adviser, Bob Moon, for his encouragement and guidance throughout the year and staff members, Chris Ball, Lauren Bills, Mickey Burns, Barb Caswell, Peggy Coughenour, Jeff Davis, Greg Hirtzinger, Tammy Shepherd, and Rachel Steele for the hours they contributed to put this yearbook into your hands.

Now as you turn this final page of the 1978 Sibyl, we hope you too will reflect upon the moments of laughter, happiness, good times and even disappointments encountered during this year and treasure them as unforgettable memories.

Sincerely,

Bucky Fickel
