WESTERVILLE, OHIO

The Sibyl Legend . . .

The SIBYLLAE were mortals scattered about the world, who were supposed to be inspired by heaven with prophetic power. Apollo, god of the sun, became enamored of Cumae, the most celebrated of these, and offered to give her whatever she should ask. She, taking a handful of sand and holding it forth, said, "Grant me to see as many birthdays as there are sand grains in my hand." Unfortunately she forgot to ask for the enjoyment of health and bloom, of which she was then in possession. However, this also would the god have granted her, had she accepted his love, but offended at her refusal, he allowed her to grow old. As the years increased, her body shrunk, and in time was lost to sight, but her voice remained and will forever.

Great was her prophetic power, and many were they who came to her cave whose fate she unraveled. It was said that she was accustomed to inscribe on leaves gathered from the trees, the names and fates of individuals. The leaves thus inscribed were arranged in order within the cave, and might be consulted by her votaries. But, if perchance, at the opening of the door, the wind rushed in and dispersed the leaves, the Sibyl gave no aid to restoring them, and the oracle was irreparably lost.

A New Role . . .

When the freshmen step out of their cars on Sunday afternoon and first face King Hall, or one of the other residences, they step into a new role. They now are Otterbein College freshmen.

Student Council luggage carriers await the arrival of co-eds and Junior Counsellors are busy as bees as each girl gets comfortably situated in her room.

At a lawn reception President and Mrs. J. Gordon Howard and other faculty members and administrative officers are on hand to greet the new students and their parents.

Part of the hectic scene at registration.

... Just A Few Forms?

Here are several students filling out the numerous forms presented them.

One of the first necessities of college is a properly formulated schedule. Therefore, the rigors of Registration Day. Before the actual registration, though, tentative schedules are arranged and conferences are held with various departmental advisors. Tuberculosis x-rays have to be taken by a mobile unit and there are numerous forms to be filled out for the various offices. Finally, Barlow Hall fills up with tables and papers and lines of people for the long process of registering.

Freshman Fun . . .

The freshmen have two great tasks to perform at the beginning of the year upon which their future reputation and "attire" depend.

The first of these is the building of a bonfire the night before the first home football game. The afternoon is spent in canvassing the town for dry paper, boards, and boxes to be heaped in front of the Student Union.

School spirit is brought to a peak by the crowning of the beanie king and queen (David Arledge and Nancy Jamison), the lighting of the bonfire and the snake dance of the pajama-clad freshmen who end up crashing the local theater.

On Scrap Day the freshmen, dressed for proper handicap and humiliation, oppose the sophomores in a series of contests. The two main events of the day are the sack race and the tug-of-war across Alum Creek. The beanie-wearing of the freshmen rests on the outcome of the day.

Beanie king David Arledge and queen Nancy Jamison are crowned by Nancy Masters and Dick White.

"Prexy" . . .

Ask any Otterbein student what he especially likes about his favorite college president and he will reply, "He is so friendly." In a typical Otterbein spirit, Dr. J. Gordon Howard has endeared himself to the campus with his friendly "Hello, there." On his frequent visits away from campus, he has carried this "Otterbein spirit" from coast to coast. Dr. Howard is a loyal churchman, a distinguished educator, and Otterbein students are rightly proud that he is our president.

A man walks to the center of the stage and his eager audience hears the words, "You are adjourned!" That is Dr. R. F. Martin, vice-president of the college, Dean of Men, classroom professor, and advisor of many student organizations, who has the unenviable position of enforcing the rules. Dr. Martin, at one time a student on Otterbein's campus and having graduated to the administrative staff, is well qualified to enforce the rules of the administration and at the same time, look after the interests of the students.

The Deans . . .

If you are disappointed or if you have troubles or problems, the logical person to talk to is "Van". Dean of Women Joanne Van Sant is truly a vital part of our campus. A typical comment about our favorite dean is, "She is never too busy to listen." Yet her schedule reveals that Miss "Van" is active in the classroom, works in an advisory capacity to many organizations, and in general guides and directs our activities.

Business and Mathematics

An important department in the Division of Social Studies is that of Economics, Business Administration and Business Education. This department is increasingly popular because of the constant demand for college-trained people with a technical background for governmental and industrial positions. Three majors and three minors are offered, giving students an excellent opportunity for a very practical education. Business Education was added to the department in 1951, and six students are now preparing for education decrees in business, while eighteen more are enrolled in the two-year A. G. E. program.

The Department of Mathematics is headed by Dr. Fred Bamforth. Many courses in mathematics are offered for students majoring in this field and for those who will use mathematics from a practical standpoint in other professions. A total of twenty courses is offered. Since every field, in one way or another, utilizes mathematics, it is one department with which nearly all students come into contact.

Visual Arts, Home Economics . . .

The courses in the Department of Visual Arts are open to all students in the college. Some of the courses are arranged to give the student who does not possess artistic ability a greater understanding and appreciation of the great works of art of all ages. Other courses are to aid the talented student to become more efficient. The department is headed by Mrs. Lillian Frank.

The curriculum in Home Economics is designed to provide an educational program for home and family living. It includes training in homemaking and for professions which deal with problems of the home. Miss Helen Mettler is chairman of the department.

Part of the Division of Language and Literature is the speech department headed by Professor James Grissinger. Radio station WOBC is part of the speech program whereby students may prepare for professional or non-professional radio work. Otterbein is very active in intercollegiate debate and belongs to Pi Kappa Delta, National Forensic Honorary Society.

The Drama Department offers to theatre majors and all others interested in the theatre a wide scope of courses in stage techniques and the art of acting. Cowan Hall houses the stage and modern equipment for producing Otterbein's dramatic presentations.

Otterbein's Department of Music has the distinction of membership in the national Association of Schools of Music, an honor accorded to only a very small number of the nation's top music schools. The department has outstanding facilities and excellent teachers for students of vocal and instrumental music. Three degrees, Bachelor of Music, Bachelor of Music Education, and Bachelor of Arts with a major in music, are offered. Those interested in music other than as a career may take music as an elective study or participate in many of the fine musical organizations on Otterbein's campus. Those who wish to specialize in voice, piano or other instruments must show proficiency in both instrumental and vocal work. Music Education students are prepared for work at both the elementary and secondary levels.

Science

The Department of Science is headed by Dr. Lyle Michael and includes astronomy, biology, chemistry, geology, geography, natural science and physics. Otterbein's Science Department has a wide and well-earned reputation both in the field of teacher training and in the pre-professional area. Pre-medical and pre-engineering graduates are welcomed in the nation's best professional colleges.

History and Government

A wide variety of courses covering the history and governments of all parts of the world constitutes the basis of this department. An important part of the liberal arts background which Otterbein offers her students, the history courses help the student understand the current situation of the world through the study of ancient, medieval and contemporary civilizations. The government courses supply the student with an understanding of local, national and international systems of governmental organizations. The capable chairman of the Department of History and Government is Professor Harold Hancock.

English

The scope of the English department covers many different phases of the English language. Courses in literature, journalism, composition, English education and English grammar are offered. One of the functions of the department, which is headed by Dr. Paul Anderson, is the sponsorship of the Quiz and Quill, literary annual. Original prose and poetry written by Otterbein students appear in this publication. Numerous contests are open to students who are interested in creative writing, and the department encourages them as much as possible. Although all students are required to take a certain amount of English, the wide variety of courses offered gives a large selection from which to choose.

Foreign Languages

Headed by Professor Gilbert Mills, the foreign language department provided students with a background of European civilization through courses which teach, in addition to the language, the culture and literature of the country.

The language laboratory was recently enlarged and modernized and additional facilities were installed to give more students the chance to study together.

Psychology, Sociology, Religion and Philosophy

The religion and philosophy department, headed by Dr. Jesse Engle, offers to the student the spiritual part of his liberal arts training through a grounding in the elements of the Hebrew and Christian religions and of philosophical ideas.

The department of sociology and psychology has a new member, Professor Newell Wert. Professor John Wells, who is working on his doctorate at Ohio State, is chairman of the department. The workings of the mind and man's relationships with others are the subjects which are included in this division.

Education

The Department of Education, headed by Professor Harold McMillan, trains its students through courses in educational psychology, administration, principles of education and various subject skills. Prospective teachers are given a foundation in the knowledge of human relations, understanding, and attitudes which they will need in order to become successful workers in the public schools.

Included as part of the training is a stint of sixty hours of practice teaching, where knowledge gained in the classroom is put to practical use.

Physical Education

A familiar figure on Otterbein's campus is Coach Harry Ewing, head football coach and athletic director for over twenty years. Not only devoting many hours to fielding good teams, "Coach" also teaches courses dealing with various types of coaching and gives personal advice to those planning to enter the coaching profession.

All students are required to enroll in courses in physical education for two years. Offering participation in sports differing as widely as co-educational bowling and tumbling, the department also is in charge of the May Day pageant, tumbling exhibitions at athletic events and programs of dance. Closely allied with the Physical Education Department, headed by Dr. R. F. Martin, are the Interpretive Dance Club, Women's Athletic Association and Varsity "O". Miss Joanne Van Sant directs the women's division.

AFROTC

Under the direction of Lt. Col. E. H. Korsborn, AFROTC completed its third year at Otterbein. An extension of the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps on the campus of Ohio Wesleyan University, the local unit trains selected students in basic and advanced Air Science, imbues them with the principles of good citizenship, and gives them opportunities to spend time at the controls of Air Force craft.

Upon graduation, students who have successfully completed the course are commissioned as second lieutenants in the United States Air Force, where they spend two or three years in active service.

During the past year, the Otterbein AFROTC drill team performed at various athletic events, and the group sponsored its second annual Military Ball.

Housemothers

Through flu epidemics and health, through low grades, disappointments and pranks, it is always the housemother who is keeping a watchful eye over her flock. Her flock consists of anywhere from eight to eighty lively college co-eds. Keeping faithful watch over the girls is a twenty-four hour a day job in itself, but we also find our housemothers serving as hostesses at the Student Union. But realizing that "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," they often find time to get together for an evening of relaxation.

The Coronation

Highlighting the Fall Homecoming celebration was the crowning of Ida Hartsook as 1954 Queen. The coronation took place immediately before kick-off time of the grid scramble between Otterbein and Hiram. Miss Hartsook was officially crowned by Mrs. William Kirk Vincent, the former Miss Nancy Wood, 1953 Homecoming Queen. Following the crowning the band presented entertainment for the Queen and her court, and Her Majesty reviewed the AFROTC drill team.

Royalty

Ida Hartsook of "Arbutus" sorority was selected 1954 Fall Homecoming Queen. Eva Holmes of "Owls" sorority was Maid of Honor and Marilyn Harris of "Talisman" served as First Attendant. Astrida Salnais of "Greenwich," Beverly Brumley of "Onyx" and Gay Fravert of "T.D." completed the court.

The Otterbein gridders, despite a 2 won, 6 lost record for the '54 season, displayed on many occasions good football to show for their many hours on the practice field. The Otters were again under the direction of head coach Harry Ewing and his assistant Bob Agler. Opening drills were held on Labor Day, with a turnout of over fifty men. Highlights of the season were the homecoming victory over Hiram and the game with Akron. The Otters played perhaps their best game of the season against the Zips, but again fell short and lost a thriller.

Of course the Otters will sorely miss the services of graduating seniors Bob Fowler, Dick Ruh and Graham Thompson, who are pictured at right, top to bottom. But with a strong nucleus of this year's squad back next year, the outlook for the '55 season is very bright.

The cheerleaders did a commendable job this year in boosting school spirit. A new constitution was adopted late in the year which will govern the cheerleading squad in the future with the idea of raising school spirit to an all-time high.

The Tan and Cardinal

The TAN AND CARDINAL, in its thirty-seventh year as the "Student Publication of Otterbein College," operated during 1954-55 with a staff of some fifty members. The first issue of the paper was available to students on September 17, and few weeks have passed since that day that the papers have not been in students' boxes on Friday morning.

This year's staff included former high school editors and business managers, and returnees from last year's T&C staff, as well as a large number of newcomers to the journalism profession. Freshmen and seniors worked side by side to make the paper a success. The T&C office sported new drapes and a handsome new editor's desk this year.

Reporting Staff

Members of the editorial staff weren't the only ones who breathed a sigh of relief as each issue of the T&C went to press. Every member of the staff helped in bringing news to the campus. ## 1955 Sibyl

Though the job of the year book originally falls upon the shoulders of two men, the production of the book depends upon the work of the Sibyl staff. Students who devote their time to working on the Sibyl receive no credit, but spend their spare time in helping turn out the publication. So it is only proper that these staff members be honored here.

Aiding Craig Gifford, Business Manager, were Bill Freeman and Janice Gunn. Especially helpful to Editor-in-Chief Duane Hopkins were greek editors Barb Fast and Joan Ensign, copy editor Beth Hammon, and senior editor Gwen Steckman. Mounting of pictures was done by Carolyn Cribbs and Sheila Mason. Scheduling of class pictures was done by Pat Noble and Thelma Zellner. Doing a good job with the art work was Bill Bale. Remaining staff members who did a great deal in the production of the book are: Joyce Shannon, Fran Myers, Marilyn Hert, Emily Bale, Donna Edwards, Pat Fasnacht, Carol Jaynes, Marion Jenkinson, Wilma Geisler, Gertrude Wiley, Suzy Hopkins, and Lee Newell.

Student Council

Student Council is the legislative branch of student government at Otterbein and is composed of representatives from each class and certain campus organizations. Through the Council pass plans for Homecoming, the bonfire, May Day, High School Day, and freshmen orientation.

One of Council's main projects this year has been the Student Council Bookstore, a money-saving project for students. The Bookstore, which had its start during the 1953-54 school year, is operated through the help of all Student Council members.

Women's Student Government Board

The women students of the campus are automatically members of the Women's Student Government Association and select officers from the various living quarters to serve on the Women's Student Government Board. Acting as counselor is the head resident of each dormitory. The duties of the Board are to help solve the individual problems of the girls and to bring them together in realizing their responsibilities and creating consideration for each other to make life more enjoyable for every girl. During the first week of school, the Board sponsors a tea to acquaint the freshmen women with the faculty. In addition to this, it sets up rules for dress and promotes the worthwhile traditions of the campus.

Officers for the past year were: June Hunt, president; Sarah Rose, vice-president; Clara Johnson, secretary-treasurer.

Pan-Hellenic Council

The central co-operative body of the campus sororities is Pan-Hellenic Council. Among the powers of the Council are those that govern rushing, pledging, and initiation activities. Officers for the year were: Joyce Bowman, president; Mary Charles, vice-president; Jo Yohn, secretary, and Sarah Rose, treasurer.

Interfraternity Council

Interfraternity council serves as the coordinating organization of Otterbein's social fraternities. Certain social events are sponsored annually by the Council and the group has the power to execute action in matters concerning all the member fraternities. Roland Gilbert served as president the first semester, while Don Sullivan presided during the second semester.

Epsilon Kappa Tau Sorority

Epsilon Kappa Tau was honored this year by having three of its members chosen as queens. Ida Hartsook was the Fall Homecoming Queen and Barbara Tompkins was chosen as the Winter Princess. Beth Hammon reigned as Honorary Cadet Commander at the annual AFROTC Military Ball.

Named after the tiny pink wild flower, "Arbutus" was founded in 1917. The sorority colors are pink and white, and the motto is "Eros Kai Timi," which means Love and Honor.

Officers for the year were: Anita Shannon, president; Gloria Howard, vice-president; Pat Noble, secretary; Sonya Stauffer, treasurer. Advisors were Mrs. Marion Chase, Mrs. L. L. Shackson and Miss Marilyn Day.

"Onyx" sorority, named for the group's official stone, was founded in 1921, the first year in which the social Greek organizations were recognized by the administration. The sorority's motto is "Sisters and friends unto the end," and the official colors are gold, black and royal blue. A major project of this year's group was a new pledge program. The annual spring formal was a dinner-dance, which was held in conjunction with Theta Nu and Tau Delta sororities.

Officers were: Shirley Amos, first semester president; Virginia Ford, second semester president; Belva Buchanan, vice-president; Lola McWherter, secretary; Mary Hellebrandt, treasurer. Mrs. C. E. Ashcraft and Mrs. Wallace Walkup served as the group's advisors.

Sigma Alpha Tau Sorority

Sigma Alpha Tau, known as "Owls" sorority, was founded in 1910, and was the first sorority on Otterbein's campus. "Sagacity, Affection and Truth" became the motto; gold and jade were chosen as the colors, and the yellow chrysanthemum was selected as the sorority flower.

One of the main undertakings of Sigma Alpha Tau this year was the publishing of the Otterbein Student Directory.

Under the direction of the advisors, Mrs. John Well, Mrs. Dean Gross, Mrs. Robert Fowler, and Miss Beatrice Ulrich, the sorority had its usual social events, and among other projects sponsored the annual all-campus "Sock-Hop."

Tau Delta Sorority

In 1916 a group of friends, following their graduation, formed Phi Sigma Epsilon, which five years later expanded to include an active chapter at Otterbein named Tau Delta.

Using as their motto "Tomo Dachi", meaning "circle of friends," the sorority this year instituted a successful new pledge program. Members of the group painted the club-room and formulated plans for a room in the proposed dormitory.

Teas in honor of alumnae were held at Fall Homecoming and May Day. A spring dinner-dance was held with Theta Nu and Kappa Phi Omega sororities.

An important event of the year was the dinner held for Dr. A. P. Rosselot, at which time a portrait of Dr. Rosselot was unveiled. ## Corps Activities

Some careful instruction on the manner of saluting.

The 9-12 won-loss record of the 54-55 basketball squad is certainly not indicative of the type of ball played by Coach Dick West's cagers this year. On several occasions, the margin of defeat was only one or two points. The highlight of the season and probably the most exciting home game was the second game with Capital, with the Otters winning 79-74.

Freshman Stan Owens was the leading rebounder on the team and placed high in the conference standings. Wade Miller, junior guard, was first in the conference and eleventh in the nation in foul shooting percentages. With the loss of only two seniors, a promising future seems in store for the Otterbein cagers.

Right, Captain Dick Ruh. Dick finished his fourth year on the varsity squad. He was a good rebounder and a real hustler. He led the 54-55 cagers very capably and will certainly be missed next season.

Senior Cagers

Right, William Gallagher. In Bill Gallagher, the team had one of the conference's best two-handed set shot artists. His uncanny ability with this shot made him a very valuable asset to the Otter cagers. He played very little last season because of a fractured wrist, but certainly made a brilliant comeback this year.

Men's Glee Club

In its fifty-sixth year on the Otterbein campus, the Men's Glee Club has been a very active organization during the past eight months. The Club's spring tour this year took them to southern Ohio and West Virginia. The tour extended from February 27 to March 6. The annual home concert was presented by the Club on March 10 in Lambert Hall.

Twenty-three new voices were added to the organization's membership this year. The group was directed by Prof. Lee Shackson. Its officers were George Freese, president; Dean Roush, vice-president; Henry Bielstein, business manager and Donald Ciampa, assistant business manager.

In its twenty-third year as a formally recognized campus organization, the Otterbein Band functions throughout the entire school year.

The group is formed in the autumn as a marching band for the football season, and continues for the remainder of the year as a concert unit. Two concerts are on the calendar as annual events. The fifty-three members were under the direction of Professor Robert Westrich. Student officers were: James Wagner, president; Betty Pooler, secretary-treasurer; Rae Jean Fox, librarian and Wayne Fowler, student director.

Brass Choir

The Brass Choir is a relatively new organization on Otterbein's campus, being formed in 1947. It plays a valuable part of college music education, though, by affording an opportunity for students to gain recital experience and music training.

This year, a March tour took the group through eastern Ohio and Pennsylvania. Under the direction of Professor Robert Westrich, the Choir is composed of five trumpets, two french horns, four trombones, two baritones and one tuba.

Officers for the past year were: Don Sullivan, president; Bill Lutz, business manager; Robert Henn, assistant business manager; Leslie Fagans, librarian.
