The Otterbein Cards

'51

introducing the SIBYL of 1951 this book has been a project of the junior class of otterbein college westerville ohio

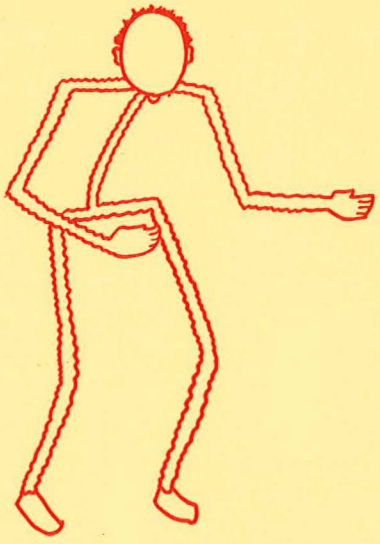
since our school colors are tan and CARDinal since our athletes are often referred to as the CARDS and since the bird that represents our school is the CARDinal we have all become CARDS in one way or another thus our theme The Otterbein Cards was chosen



it is our sincerest desire to preserve the traditional pattern of the SIBYL and yet at the same time we hope to have added more sparkle

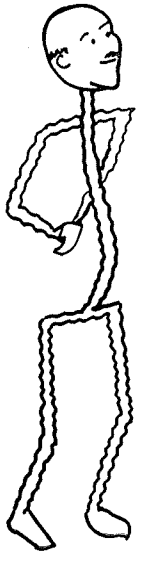
Salute to Our Seniors

While the Sibyl portrays a cross-section of all campus life, it is especially concerned with the records and activities of the honored members of the Senior Class.

The education of a college man or woman does not stop abruptly on Commencement Day, but continues indefinitely year by year after college experiences are over. However, the direct impact of our college upon our students ends at graduation time, and by looking at its Seniors a college can judge fairly well the quality and efficiency of its program.

Otterbein is proud of this year's Seniors. They compose a class that will go down in our college history as among the best. The Seniors entered Otterbein in 1947, our Centennial year. They can be regarded as the living symbol of Otterbein's century of growth in the field of higher education. Our Seniors make it crystal clear that what Otterbein College is doing is worth while. We salute each Senior as a worthy embodiment of the Otterbein spirit and the academic, cultural, social and athletic interests of the campus.



We are confident the Seniors in years to come will serve well both God and humanity.

IN DEDICATION

For Robert Nelson Buck, now with us in spirit only, do we take a brief pause that his memory may linger with us through the years. Only the Master of that Great Eternity, of which Bob is now a part, knows whether or not his picture would have appeared among the graduating seniors of the class of 1951. It is with this thought that this dedication is made.

Pair 'O Fours

And walked along your hallways bare.

Of thought and theory, plan and deed
And tireless sowing of the seed.
Though led and leader were not there,
The breath of knowledge filled the air,
And suddenly I knew the truth —
Your very bricks were laid for youth.
I left your halls then, thanking thee
For doors your doors have ope'd to me.

EPSILON KAPPA TAU

(Arbutus)

In the year 1917-1918 certain girls on Otterbein's campus, recognizing the common ties of friendship, like ideals and purposes—and feeling the need of an organization to strengthen and unify these ties, formed a group known as the Arbutus Club. The name Arbutus was used instead of Epsilon Kappa Tau inasmuch as Greek letter fraternities were not at this time recognized by Otterbein College. This organization existed in secret at that time; however, their existence came to the attention of the faculty in the year 1918-1919 and steps were taken to disband them. A tentative disbandment took place and no active group life was carried on for some time, but in a year or so the groups again became active and in 1922 the college authorities recognized the right of such groups to organize.

After official recognition the group began active work in affiliating new members.

The room now occupied by the sorority has been in its possession since its founding—however, it has undergone many changes through the years. The most recent redecoration of the club room was begun in 1949 when the general plan of the room was changed from a traditional to a modern type. Several pieces of blond modern furniture were purchased, this being made possible by a gift from the alumnae and through the efforts of the active members in sponsoring a magazine drive and paper collection. This year a planning committee has drawn up a long range plan for future improvements to be made in the club room.

The annual activities of the sorority, such as the many Rush Parties, the Homecoming Luncheon at William's Grill given by the alumnae, the Bowery Brawl, and the Spring Formal all came off in grand style this year.

At the end of the first semester two of our officers were graduated. Miriam Wetzel replaced Priscilla Warner as President, and Phyllis Shannon replaced Ruth Anne Smith as Secretary. Our Vice-President for the year was Martha Weller; Treasurer, Phyllis Weygandt; and Panhellenic Council Representative, Kathryn Hancock.

ETA PHI MU

(Jonda)

Twenty-eight years ago Otterbein College saw a new organization come into being—Eta Phi Mu Fraternity. Since then Jonda, as it is better known, has grown and developed into one of the leading social organizations on campus. Blue and gold are the colors; the edelweiss, a small white flower signifying bravery and purity, is the fraternity flower. "Let Brotherly Love Continue" is the motto.

Returning to the house in September, Jonda members found that ranks were being thinned by the call to arms. This was counteracted early in the year in the form of a fine group of upper-class pledges, followed on November 27 by an equally fine group of freshmen. Officers for the first semester were: Al Gilmore, President; Don Steck, Vice President; Ted Hellwig, Secretary; and Marvin Parrish, Treasurer.

Three big weekends in the fall term—Homecoming, the Rush Party, and the Open House—brought the opportunity to clean the house from top to bottom, redecorate within and without, and affect several changes and additions for living comfort. Jonda is grateful to the alumni association and others for all help rendered and to those who complimented their work.

Gibby Snodgrass, devoted housemother, was taken seriously ill during the early part of the year and had to give up her position. She was replaced by Jesse Leach, a fine, capable, understanding woman. Welcome, Mom!

The athletic department of Jonda endeavored to attain the highest in intramural sports, but Kismet intervened.

The house parties for the year met with success and enthusiasm—the Hay Ride, Jailbird Jamboree, Christmas Party, and Pirates Ball. The annual winter formal was held at the Southern Hotel on January 27, and the spring formal was on May 4. Congratulations to the social committee for a well-planned year of entertainment and activity.

KAPPA PHI OMEGA

(Onyx)

Kappa Phi Omega is now celebrating its thirtieth anniversary as it was founded in 1921. The original members chose the motto to be "loyonte nous oblige" or "sisters and friends unto the end." The sorority sisters keep this motto both now and after they have left these ivy covered halls of knowledge.

The sorority was founded to promote leadership, scholarship, and service on the Otterbein campus. Royal blue, gold, and black were chosen as the official colors and the yellow chrysanthemum as the flower. The stone decided upon was the Onyx, the name by which the club is now known.

The sorority has gradually increased in size until this year it is the largest it has been since its founding. Forty-four girls now meet weekly in the club room.

As with members, traditions and customs have also increased over the years to become "those memorable events" in our reminiscing.

One of the Onyx traditions is the slumber "less" party in the club room held each year in January, as a last fling before examinations.

The spring formal is the next important event on the club calendar each year. The first activity of the spring social season, it sets a high precedent for the others.

In May there are the Mother-Daughter tea and the Memorial Day Picnic.

And so it goes each year—rushing, pledging, coeds, slumber parties, formals, teas, picnics, and graduations. Thanks to our very wonderful sponsors, Mrs. William Steck, Mrs. Gordon Woodward, and Mrs. John Lyter for their advice and cooperation.

The officers for the past year have been: President, Doris Royston; Vice President, Ellie Shaffer; Secretary, Betty Wolfe; Treasurer, Shirley Chagnot; and Chaplain, Electa Wilson.

LAMBDA GAMMA EPSILON

(Kings)

Lambda Gamma Epsilon Fraternity has the distinction of being the newest fraternity on campus. It was founded in the early part of January, 1948, by Ford Swigart and Dick Pope, who felt the need for a small fraternity on campus. The thirteen charter members were largely the fellows who worked in the Dining Room at King Hall, and thus the nick name Kings was adopted. The motto of the fraternity is: "Loyalty to God, Country, Brothers and Otterbein." Also, at this time the fraternity colors of maroon and gold were adopted. Dr. Boyer consented to be the advisor, and under the Presidency of Dick Pope, the organization got under way.

September 1948 found Ford Swigart leading the organization. Also, at this time Dr. Werner and Professor Lawrence Frank became the advisors. Kings pins made their appearance in January, 1949. The fraternity entered into the intramural program at this time, but did not establish much of a record. During the year there were the usual co-eds and parties, and our first formal in the spring.

Ronnie Smith was at the helm in September 1949. During the summer Dr. Werner transferred to Louisiana State, so Professor Frank was the only advisor until May 1950, when Kings had the honor of adding Dr. Clippinger and Professor Woodward as advisors. In intramurals Kings placed second in football and volleyball, and third for the entire intramural program.

The fourth President was John Matthews, and under his capable direction the fraternity steadily progressed through the year. It acquired a pledge class of twelve this year, making the membership forty-two. The highlight of the year was moving into our fraternity house, barracks number three, which has added greatly to the advancement of the fraternity.

RHO KAPPA DELTA

(Arcady)

On February 25, 1923, eight girls met together and formed an organization to be known as Rho Kappa Delta Sorority. Today it is more popularly known on Otterbein campus as Arcady. Mrs. Floyd Vance was elected as the club's first sponsor.

On May 25, 1923 three new members joined the group. Three or four years after the organization of the club, the alumni association was formed.

It is the desire of each member of Arcady to live by the motto, "Thoughtful —each for all" in the clubroom and on campus.

This year, the sorority's twenty-eighth, has seen a great deal of face-lifting in good old 308 in Cochran Hall. Glancing into the room in September, returning members found the walls and ceiling had been painted gray and white—a big improvement over the dirty green of last year. The girls decided they should continue the rejuvenation with new alcove drapes, window drapes, and venetian blinds.

Election night for Homecoming Queen found charming Claire Roseman from New York City as Arcady's candidate.

This year's officers included the following: President, Claire Kerr; Vice President, Patricia Peterson; Secretary, Dorothy Stauffer; and Treasurer, Teresa Petch.

Arcady's rushing season included several parties and teas. Sincere thanks go to Mrs. Lawrence Frank for opening her house to the sorority and Freshman girls for the opening tea. Next on the list was Open House in the clubroom, with initiation for the new furnishings. The Novelty Party carried out the theme of a Hobo Party with all members dressed in jeans, taking life easy.

The Arcady girls have had a lot of laughs and serious moments and have enjoyed sharing them this past year.

PI BETA SIGMA

(Annex)

In the spring of 1908 Otterbein's first fraternity was organized by a group of college men who had joined together for their mutual benefit. Most of the men were staying at the Bailey house at the time, and in order to make more room for themselves they built an annex onto the house. From this they derived their name Annex. However, in those days it was impossible for them to meet openly as a fraternity, because at that time fraternities were not looked upon with favor by the school, thus making it necessary to hold the meetings by the creek in the light of a camp fire.

In the spring of 1928 they moved into a house just north of King Hall; after a thorough cleaning they held open house and invited the faculty to come and see their new home. This seemed to impress the school and Annex at last was officially recognized. From here they moved to College Avenue where they remained for a period of years.

It was in 1932 that Annex adopted i s Greek letters which are Pi Beta Sigma. In 1940 Pi Beta Sigma was incorporated and Annex bought a house on Plum Street. By this time everything seemed to be running very smoothly until the United States entered war. There were n ɔt enough men left to keep up the house so it was sold. There followed a peri ɔd of inactivity from 1942 until 1945 when eleven Annex men returned and be gan the reorganization.

After an especially good year in 1946, and after much planning, Annex bought their present house on Plum and Knox Street. Since that time this house has been redecorated and modernized through the work of the members and is now a comfortable home.

SIGMA ALPHA TAU

(Owls)

Sigma Alpha Tau, or Owls Sorority, is the oldest sorority on campus, being started in 1910. Since organizations of this sort were not recognized until several years later, the girls, seven in number, had to operate under cover. However, when the administration decided to make sororities "Otterbein legal," the girls organized. They chose as their motto "Sagacity, affection and truth." Jade and gold were the colors chosen, and the flower is the yellow Chrysanthemum.

At first they were known as the Owl Club. Its purpose was friendly and social relationships, and worthy attainment in scholarship, leadership and ideals in all phases of college life.

Upon completion of college life at Otterbein, an Owl club member could become a member of Sigma Alpha Tau alumni group.

Owls sorority has come from a secretive group of seven to an active group of fifty.

The college year of 1950-51 has brought a new light on the hazing of pledges. In past years they have had only to do certain duties for actives; however this year their duties were performed for the good of the sorority and themselves. Among these were: interviewing each active, making a file of all our recipes used at parties, keeping a file of various skits presented and serving on committees with actives so that they might learn "how to do it."

Their biggest duty was to get the alumni file up to date. In connection with this they made a booklet that was sent out to each alumna giving all the latest news about members past and present.

The officers for the past year have been: President, Jean Sherriff; Vice President, Shirley Minnis; Secretary, Helen Fagley; Treasurer, Ann Carlson; Social Chairman, Delores Hopkinson; Chaplain, Martha Lawson; Reporter, Marjorie Abbott. PI KAPPA PHI

(Country Club)

Two score and three years ago a group of four men started what has now become Otterbein's Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity. It was in one of the rooms of the house which the fraternity now occupies that the organization was founded. However, in those days meetings were held beyond the limits of Westerville and thus the name "Country Club" was adopted.

As the membership in Country Club increased, and likewise, as the number of alumni members increased, it became possible to buy the house in which the organization was founded.

During the years of the last World War, the fraternity saw its house residents reduced to the number equal to the group of its founders. Despite handicaps which had to be endured during that period, the organization survived; the necessity of "closing down" and reorganizing has never occured in its history.

The very early post-war period brought back to the campus the active members of previous years; and with the generally increased college enrollment, the fraternity membership increased to a number never before exceeded.

Throughout an academic year several general dormitory serenades are given, and usually in the spring of the year "sweetheart serenades" for engaged members become very frequent and popular. This past year, according to the number of serenades, has not been a retrogression. Actually voices were tuned early in February, when a chorus from the fraternity combined with townspeople in providing the chorus music for the local American Legion's minstrel show.

The entire year was not spent in song. Some members of the Club played varsity sports; several "first place" trophies in the intramural leagues have been among some of the athletic achievements. Also, scholastically, the organization has member representation in Otterbe'n's highest honor society, the Torch and Key.

Several co-ed parties and winter and spring formals completed the social activities of the year.

TAU DELTA

(Toma Dachi)

Tau Delta's origin as a sorority differs from that of most social groups on Otterbein's campus. The difference lies in the fact that an alumnae organization was formed before there was an actual student sorority. After graduation in 1916, a few very close friends decided that they would like to have an official tie to help preserve their friendship; in this way the alumnae group, Phi Sigma Epsilon, found its beginning.

In 1921 when social organizations gained approval, ten girls who had become closely associated with the members of Phi Epsilon founded "Tomo Dachi," as they called it at that time. They adopted a sorority pin with a design similar to that of their alumnae sisters, a circle of pearls, ten in number, one for each friend in the original circle.

The name "Tomo Dachi" is of Japenese origin, meaning "circle of friends," and was supplied by Ruth Roberts Stockwell, whose brother, a missionary in Japan at the time, suggested it to her. It later became "TD" for short, and when Greek letters began to be popular and desirable, Tau Delta was chosen.

In 1937, due to the fact that the girls could not carry on because of financial difficulties and depleted membership, resulting from the depression years, Tau Delta was disbanded. Six years later in 1943, Phi Sigma Epilson went to work and proudly re-established it on campus—an unprecedented accomplishment.

Last summer the sorority room underwent complete redecoration at the hands of the alumnae, resulting in one of Cochran Hall's most attractive rooms. The dark green, chartreuse, and Chinese red motif provided a charming setting for the rushing parties, Homecoming, Open House, weekly meetings, and of course, the informal midnight "snack-and-gab" sessions.

The officers for the past year have been: President, Ruth Mugridge; Vice-President, Ruth Loomis; Secretary, Mary Ann Hawk; Treasurer, Sue Manuel; Alumnae-Secretary, Esther Bontrager; Junior Pan-Hellenic Representative, Virginia Smith; Chaplain, Marian Smith; Pledge President, Evelyn Mujais. SIGMA DELTA PHI

(Sphinx)

Sigma Delta Phi, though not the oldest fraternity on the Otterbein campus, enjoys a prosperous and interesting history. Early in the year of 1919 five freshmen, undecided as to which of the then existing secret organizations to join, banded together and brought into being our society. Having neither alumni nor upper classmen the way was initially stony. However, after the college finally recognized fraternities as legal social organizations in 1920, Sphinx, as the group became known, began to thrive. Prestige grew. In 1930 the Greek letters now used were adopted. Again times became hard. In the depression years of 1933 Alps merged with us, giving us the largest alumni group on campus.

Then came the second World War; our entire membership was called into service. The house on University Avenue was sold, but with the advent of peace, returning members reorganized, uniting again as brothers. For a while we rented a building on Lincoln Street. Finally in the Spring of 1949 we purchased our present house at 36 West Home Street with the generous assistance of our alumni. Our new house is situated on a spacious lot, boasting ten rooms and a large basement.

Again things settled down to normal, an eating club was begun and twelve members took residence in the upstairs. The Sphinx smiled.

Turning into the fall of this school year, Fran Pottenger, Sigma Delta Phi's representative to the College Who's Who, was elected President, ably supported by Charlie Myers, Vice President; Dean Hancock, Secretary; and Milt Lang as Treasurer. A splendid pledge class of some twelve men joined our ranks. A "TV" set was purchased and the Sphinxers spent Saturday afternoons watching the world of sports. Not to be outdone by the national sport scene the frat produced a fine bowling team and a scrappy and successful basketball squad.

Lightening the gravity of scholastic affairs, monthly parties were held, culminating in the Winter Formal of December three.

At semesters Charlie Myers took the helm assisted by Ralph Hughes, Vice President; Dave McMillen, Secretary; and Milt Lang continued as Treasurer.

In retrospect this year has been truly a fine year, taking its place proudly in the illustrious history of SPHINX Fraternity.

TAU EPSILON MU

(Talisman)

Tau Epsilon Mu was organized in 1915. The founders chose purple and gold for their colors, and the Talisman Rose as the club's flower. On the crest there is the scarab—the "Talisman"—or good luck charm, the lamp of learning, and the book "Everybody's Lonesome," which is also the motto of the club.

This year has proved to be very happy and successful for the "T.E.M.'ers."

One of the proudest achievements was the redecoration of the club room. Lending a twist to the modern, the walls are a deep green and the ceiling is a gay coral. The new gray sofa and white ruffle curtains set off the color scheme to perfection. Why not drop in to visit the "watermelon" room?

Through the combined efforts of each active, the rush period was a huge success. The tea and open house gatherings provided many "get acquainted" hours. This period was climaxed with the traditional carnival party and the very impressive candlelight ceremony.

Pledge night was a thrill to each active as she watched seventeen grand girls pledge Talisman.

The many enjoyable social events included the Homecoming Luncheon for the alumnae, at which time old and new friends were given an opportunity to meet; the Inter-Sorority "Top-Hatter" Christmas Formal held at Valley Dale; the Christmas party at which gifts were exchanged for the Otterbein Children's Home; the spring dinner dance combined with Tau Delta Sorority; and the clever and unusual coeds.

The officers of Tau Epsilon Mu for the past year were Marilyn Hotopp, President; Margie Claar, Vice President; Norma Knight, Secretary; Nancy Hampton, Treasurer; and Sue Hoffman, Chaplain.

This year the sorority has been privileged to claim two very excellent sponsors: Mrs. Janie Law, a former Talisman; and Miss JoAnn VanSant, a faculty member, are responsible for much of the success, and credit goes to their never-ending interest and assistance.

Talisman is proud of its achievements this year, and look forward to greater and better achievements in the future.

THETA NU

(Greenwich)

Theta Nu, the third oldest sorority on campus, began its career in 1917. Five charter members first met in a somewhat bare room which in the following years acquired a pleasant interior through hard work and alumnae contributions. Typical early donations ranged from wicker chairs and a dish set precious enough to require a custodian, to an ironing board and powdered cocoa, with a box of gum to boot. Today the pastel color schemes and up-to-date furniture combine to make a homey gathering place. The sorority colors are violet and white and the spring violet is the chosen flower.

"Artes Honorabit"—she will honor the arts—is her motto. In the past Greenwich women have lived up to it. They have found membership in the Philalethea and Cleiorothea literary societies, Chaucer Club, French Club, Cap and Dagger, and Home Economics Club, as well as in the more familiar organizations. Attaining the Greek prize along with oratorical laurels has exemplified their abilities. This year's membership of twenty-two talented girls continues to venture into the musical, dramatic, artistic, and literary fields.

Theta Nu's May Day queens haven't been few. And in the marriage realm Greenwich's accomplishments are reported to have the edge over all other sororities.

Close friendships grew out of the early Hamburg Fryes, Sunday night dinners, hikes, and bike trips. Then Dew's cokes have been popular, along with mass study sessions and jitterbugging. Numberless parties and formals contributed. But our traditional Greenwich Village rush party in its basement setting of checkered tables and candlelight has been delightfully outstanding.

The sorority's purpose has always been to further the moral, religious, and social growth of its members. It began its career in a time of war, and despite O.P.A. restrictions on weiner roasts during the last struggle, Greenwich carried on. Through the period of the present conflict she will still maintain her high standards and attempt to mold characters which will not only be worthy of the Otterbein family tradition but which may possibly contribute to the solution of human incompatability the world over.

The officers for the past year have been: President, Anita Ranck; Vice President, Clara Stiles; Treasurer, Jane Catlin; Secretary, Martha Calland; Chaplain, Mary Lou Poorman; Reporter, Dot Purkey; Alumnae Secretary, Janet Painter; Sergeant-at-Arms, Jean Leffler; Junior Pan-Hellenic Representative, Pat Stauffer.

ZETA PHI

Zeta Phi had its origin in two parent groups: Delta Beta Kappa, founded in 1915 as Cook House, and Lambda Kappa Tau, known as Lakota, founded in 1921. These two organizations merged in 1931 to form the Chapter of Zeta Phi. The Alumni has the legal status of a corporation and holds a charter from the State of Ohio. The Dr. Van Fleet rose was selected as the fraternity flower; black, white, and gold as the colors, and "UNION OF PURPOSE," the motto.

The year 1951 saw a great deal of capital improvement on the fraternity house at 74 West Main Street. An ambitious and enthusiastic chapter succeeded in completely redecorating both exterior and interior of the dwelling. The recent revision of the financial system and the establishment of a new budget enabled the fraternity to make the improvements.

Zeta Phi, seventy odd members strong, contributed its share of successes to the campus social calendar. The traditional "Get-Acquainted-Hop" was the first big dance of the season and served to welcome the Freshmen. The numerous "Co-eds" throughout the winter months featured Brother Mac Winston and his "Corn-Cobblers," providing much music for the "hoe-downs." The winter and Spring Formal Dances highlighted the social season per usual.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

The A Cappella Choir of Otterbein College was organized in the 1947-48 season. The membership of the organization has ranged between forty and fifty students. But though both young and small the group was quickly veteraned by extensive engagements and activities.

This fourth year of the Choir has exceeded its eventful predecessors. Among the more memorable events of a crowded agenda were participation in the Bach

Festival held at the college and concerts for the National Conference of Churches in Columbus, Ohio, and the Evangelical United Brethren General Conference held in Dayton, Ohio. The club climaxed its year with a tour covering Ohio, Indiana, and West Virginia during the last week of February.

The Choir is under the direction of Professor R. W. Hohn.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

It is difficult to realize that the organization now known as the Men's Glee Club was organized as a Banjo and Mandolin Orchestra. It began in 1909 and by 1911 had sixteen members and had made several concert tours under Frank J. Resler as director. In 1915 a re-organization of the Club was affected with a membership of twenty-five men under the directorship of Arthur R. Spessard. Professor Spessard continued as director until 1947 when the Club, numbering thirty-six, came under the present director, Professor L. L. Shackson.

Certain traditions have naturally built up around this organization. Each year it presents a chapel program, participates in the Christmas and May Day Festivals, and presents a home concert. The high point of its activities is the Spring concert tour. The moonlight serenade is foremost with campus girls when thinking about these romantic and handsome men.

One of the most outstanding things about the club is that the most of its members are not music majors, but are rather just guys who sing for the joy of it, and for group rather than individual performance. Its program is varied to include light and serious works. An interesting item of contrast is that in former times it was necessary to arouse an interest, whereas today, interest is so great that members must be chosen from a large number of candidates.

The Club is a self-governing body organized under a constitution, providing for five officers and maintains strict attendance rules. Its value to the school is not to be overlooked as it is a thirty-nine man advertising team. Wherever it goes it attempts to carry with it and communicate to others the true Otterbein atmosphere and spirit.

TAN AND CARDINAL

(T & C)

As you received your "T&C" each week, you may have not realized it but the Tan and Cardinal is a newspaper with a past.

Ben Hanby (none other) created and produced the first college publication, "The Star of Otterbein University." He wrote out the one copy each week by hand and it was placed in the library where everyone could read it. The paper first came out on December 29, 1849.

Eighteen seventy-six saw the beginning of the "Otterbein Dial". An issue in January of that year came out with this racy little comment, supposedly heard on campus: "Crecky! Wish it was spring. I'd like to send a bee liner way over there into left field," and this wise observation: "It is fortunate that there are so many corners near the college building; they afford such excellent opportunities for students to stop and exchange the civilities of the day."

"The Otterbein Review" brought out it's first issue on April 26, 1909, including among its advertisers "William's Bakery and Ice Cream Parlor." The paper was published by the college literary societies, forerunners of today's sororities and fraternities. In 1911 the "Review" featured a new nameplate, new slick paper, and an ad saying "Girls—Get your Varsity "O" middies today—a new fad!"

September 17, 1917, marked the birth of the familiar "Tan and Cardinal" with Lyle J. Michael as assistant editor and, later that year, editor. Sports news frequently appeared on the front page, and few headlines were over three words. In 1921 a boy named J. Gordon Howard was editor of the four-page, four-column paper.

The passing years have seen many changes: a Freshman Edition on appropriately green paper in 1927, seven-column editions in 1930-31, and a return to today's five columns in 1947. This year has had its share of new features. For example, a new nameplate appeared, and the office was moved from the top to the bottom of the Administration Building. These won't be the last improvements though. The T & C plans to grow with Otterbein.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

(W. A. A.)

The Women's Athletic Association first came into being as an organization to provide an outlet for the new interest of women in sports. It was then called the Women's Recreational Association, or, more familiarly, the W.R.A. Ten years ago the name of the organization was changed to its present form, the Women's Athletic Association. The new constitution, which was drawn up and ratified at the end of the last school year, has changed the purpose and tone of the organization somewhat. It is becoming less a purely athletic organization and more an organization which teaches the worthy use of leisure time and provides opportunities for it. The purpose of the Women's Athletic Association as stated in the constitution is: "To promote good sportsmanship, health, leadership, and worthy use of leisure time through a program of intramural sports and athletics, outing activities, and modern and folk dancing." The new constitution has been an outgrowth of the interpretative work and thought of the last few years, which was engineered largely by Miss Van Sant, present faculty advisor of the club.

The Women's Athletic Association of Otterbein is a member of the Ohio and National Federations of College Women, organizations which outline overall policies for athletic associations throughout the state and country.

Working with the new constitution and with the national policies as bases, the W.A.A. has set up a program which provides for an association meeting each month, for an extensive intramural program in every sport which is offered to the women of this college, and for programs of dance and outing to those who are interested. The intramural program offers class, sorority, and individual competition. Inter-collegiate sports grow out of the intramural program.

The primary interest of the organization is to provide planned recreation not for just the few who are most highly skilled, but for all who show an interest in it.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

(Y. W. C. A.)

The history of the Young Women's Christian Association at Otterbein College began in 1882, sixty-nine years ago. At this time the women of Otterbein founded the first college Y.W.C.A. in the State of Ohio and the third in the United States.

The Associations had been meeting on the second floor of the main building which they had prepared and carpeted, but because of the increasing membership, there was much agitation for a building of their own in which to meet. It was in this way, through the desire of the students, their pledges of money, and their own labor, that the Association Building came into being.

The Y.W.C.A. has always been active in the social and spiritual life of the campus. In 1898 a three act drama was given by the combined efforts of the Y. W. and the Y.M.C.A. who worked closely together even then. It is interesting to note that Dr. Waldo Schear was a member of the cast.

The Y.W.C.A. International Festival which started on this campus two years ago is far from a new idea. In rambling through the history of the Y.W.C.A. one finds that as far back as 1912, the organization presented a Foreign Association Pageant.

In 1926, Otterbein's women, through the Y.W.C.A., strived to show that women's place is side by side with the men, and that while she rocks the cradle with one hand, she should be reading the paper with the other to see the kind of world in which her child will be living.

When the Y.W.C.A. was first organized it had an active membership of thirty-five women. This number has grown to one hundred thirty-eight.

Activities on this campus sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. are the Big and Little Sister period, the Freshmen Talent Show, the "Y"-Mixer, the White Gift Service, the International Festival, and the May Morning Breakfast. The girls help with the all-campus Christmas Party, which was originally a Y.W. project, and Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter services, and the "Y" bookstore. This year the Y.W. cooperated with Red Cross in non-campus activities, having one project a month, such as making favors for children's hospitals and entertaining hospitalized veterans.

The aims of the organization are helpfulness and spiritual uplift, and a glance at the history shows that it has always tried to attain these aims.

VARSITY "O"

The Varsity "O", an organization composed of approximately fifty members, has been active in all phases of campus life this past school year. Anyone who has received recognition from the athletic department for participation in any varsity sport may become eligible for membership in this organization. In the spring of each year the Varsity "O" presents each senior with some small remembrance of his membership in this group.

In the fall the members can be seen in their lettersweaters selling hot dogs, cokes, and coffee during each home football game. They conduct the freshmen activities, including scrap day and the selling of beanies. The freshmen boys soon learn to respect these Varsity "O" boys, since they may end in the creek if they don't. In February, it is the custom of this organization to elect a winter princess who reigns at the basketball game and Homecoming Dance which it sponsors after the game.

The members come from all the fraternities on campus and from independents. Their interests and school majors are varied. Some will become doctors, lawyers, and businessmen, while others will become school teachers and coaches. This group has been advised throughout the year by capable and popular Dick West of the Physical Education Department.

ALPHA EPSILON DELTA

(National Honorary Pre-Medical Society)

Otterbein has long been known as one of America's foremost pre-medical institutions. For many years prior to 1947, such far-sighted professors as Dr. E. W. E. Schear and Professor F. A. Hanawalt, in preparing students for a career in medicine, kept them closely informed on the advancements of the day. Informal gatherings were often held in which men high in medical science advised the crop of Otterbein aspirants.

Collaterally a movement had been underway since 1926 to unite the interests of pre-medical students in one national fraternity. After exhaustive investigation, headed by Dr. Schear, it was decided to petition for a chapter of Alpha Epsilon Delta on this campus. Thus on March 8, 1948, Otterbein became the Ohio Gamma Chapter of Alpha Epsilon Delta.

Attempting to keep the pre-medical student abreast of the scientific progress of the day, the society is primarily an educational group, integrating its program in such a way that it may supplement classroom work. Through motion pictures and lectures, the organization has been able to inject an inspiring note into the academic labors of its members.

Heading the society this year were Francis Pottenger, President; Robert Brown, Vice President; Ann Carlson, Secretary; and John Bush, Treasurer. Activities were initiated by a formal dinner attended by members and many guests. Dr. Setterfield, President of the National Society, spoke on the derivation of medical terminology, pointing out the adventurous side of learning. Subsequent meetings, held twice a month, were marked by motion pictures amplified by student interpretation. AED made a mass appearance at the national convention in Tuscaloosa, Alabama, where the members were privileged to meet the leaders of American medical science.

Alpha Epsilon Delta is another proud member of the Otterbein family, working hard to forward the spirit of higher education. (See page 112).

ALPHA RHO TAU

(Art Club)

Alpha Rho Tau is a fairly young organization on the campus, having been founded in the fall of 1945. The membership is open to all Art majors and minors, although many of the meetings throughout the year are open to all persons interested in art. The purpose of the organization is to further art appreciation on the campus as well as to obtain speakers and sponsor activities for the benefit of its members. From the time of its founding, Mrs. Paul Frank, head of the Visual Arts Department, has been the club's advisor.

Many projects have been undertaken by this club since the time of its organization. The listening room on the third floor of Lambert Hall was decorated by the club; it has sponsored many art exhibitions on the campus; it annually sponsors the Senior Art Exhibit; the major project each year is making posters.

Various activities are held throughout the year, the first of which is the annual weinie roast at the beginning of each year. This function introduces the new art students on campus to Alpha Rho Tau. The most anticipated and one of the most profitable activities is the annual field trip to one of the major art museums in Ohio. In 1947 the club visited the Dayton Art Institute; in 1948 via a Greyhound bus, the Cleveland Museum of Art was visited; the destination in 1949 was the Cincinnati Art Museum and, this past year, a most enjoyable and stimulating visit to the Toledo Museum of Art highlighted the year's activities.

In addition to this, several speakers appear at the monthly meetings and it has become an annual custom to close each year's activities with a chicken dinner. (See page 115).

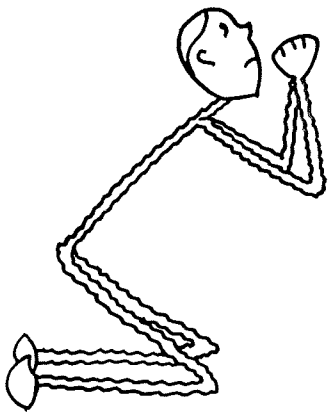
STUDENT COUNCIL



This year the Student Council under the leadership of Don Walter, has performed its functions well. Its first major responsibility was that of cooperating in Freshmen Week by helping the new students on campus to become acquainted with Otterbein's customs and attitudes. The Council also assumed direct responsibility for the Snake Dance and the Bonfire along with the Homecoming and May Day activities.

This year's Council is responsible for the first amendment to the Student Constitution of Otterbein College.

The Council has had the full cooperation of the Faculty and Administration in performing its various duties. In recognition of his services as advisor, Mr. R. F. Martin was given a Student Council key in a special chapel program.

The officers for this year have been: President, Don Walter; Vice President, Herb Adams; Secretary, Ann Carlson; and Treasurer, Don Steck. The teamwork prevalent on this Council has set a worthy precedent for future Councils.

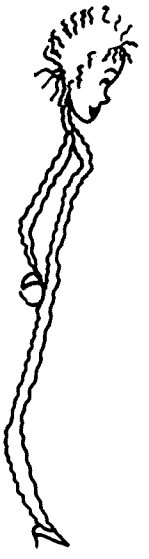
WOMEN'S STUDENT GOVERNMENT BOARD

(W. S. G. B.)



On January 12, 1907, the ladies of Cochran Hall met in Miss Zellers room to discuss the question of forming an Association. A motion was made that an association be formed for mutual benefit. Officers elected were President, Secretary, and Treasurer. An executive board was formed, consisting of nine members: the first four to be the above mentioned officers, plus a representative of the Sophomore Class, the Freshman Class, the Preparatory Department, the Music Department, and the Art Department.

This was the beginning of the Cochran Hall Association, the first step toward Women's Student Government on Otterbein's Campus.

In the beginning it handled very few cases, but through the years it has gained in power and (continued on page 131)

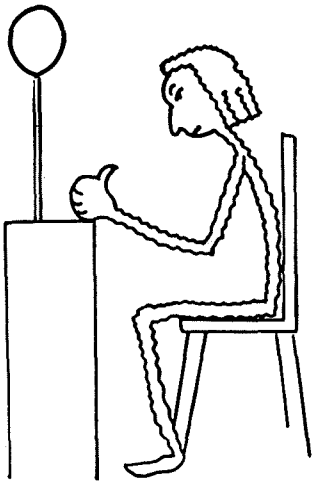
STUDENT COURT



The Student Court was born in the new Student Government Constitution which was adopted in 1947. Prior to that no body of appeal existed for the benefit of students seeking relief from college disciplinary action.

The Student Court is an appeal body composed of representatives of the classes and is available for all students. After the appeal has been heard by the Court and a decision is reached, the members meet in a joint session with the Administrative Council. There the two groups discuss the case further and an attempt is made to reach a just decision.

BAND

In 1931 a new musical organization, the band, was formally recognized on campus. Until that time there had been a band but it did not have uniforms and it was not included in the college catalog. However, in 1931 Professor Spessard succeeded in getting uniforms for the band, and in establishing it as a part of the college curriculum.

The band has had many ups and downs since that day. When it was organized there were about thirty-five members; membership increased to forty-five by the time of World War II. During the war years the band practically became an all-girl organization of twenty members. This past year the band again had forty-five members under Mrs. Ernest Glover, the director.

The band serves as three units; a marching band for football season, a pep band for basketball games, and a concert band.

In 1931 the organization gave its first performance on the football field, and since that time the band has appeared at practically every football game.

The pep band appears at the basketball games. Tradition has it that the students can yell louder if they have a band blowing in their ears. Whether or not there is any truth in that statement, it cannot be denied that the band has added to the spirit of the games.

The concert band is the one unit that functions all year. It presents two annual concerts—one in January and one in May. Also, Sunday evening concerts in front of the Administration Building in the spring are given. These concerts have become an appreciated tradition of the band.

The officers for this year have been: Tom Buchanan, President; Marilyn Wallingford, Secretary-Treasurer; and Bob Laib, Business Manager. (See page 116).

BRASS CHOIR

The Otterbein Brass Choir is the youngest musical organization on the campus. It was formed in 1947 by Professor William Cramer and David Wakser. Mrs. Ernest Glover is now the director.

The Brass Choir is what its name implies —a choir made up of brass instruments. The history of brass choirs can be traced back to medieval times when they were used in the churches as a part of the worship services and played an equal part with the vocal choirs. During the Protestant Reformation, however, they were discontinued in the churches but were still used for special occasions. At these times they were usually heard from a tower.

Today the brass choir is gaining more and more prominence; one might even call it a renaissance. Brass choirs are springing up all over the country; however, most of them are used only on special occasions. Otterbein's choir is one of the few which are a full time organization and it is included in the curriculum.

The annual spring tour of the Brass Choir is the highlight of the year. The first year the choir had a short tour of three days. This past year, however, the tour lasted more than a week.

The choir presents two different types of musical programs. One type is arranged for high school assembly programs, and the other is of a more religious nature.

This past year the choir gave two home concerts—one in January and one in May.

The officers for this year have been: Teresa Petch, President; Doris Royston, Secretary-Treasurer; Tom Buchanan and Paul Smith, Business Managers. (See page 116).

CAP AND DAGGER

(Dramatics Society)

Cap and Dagger, the dramatic organization of Otterbein, was organized in 1926. The dramatic teacher at that time was Lester Rainer, who is now teaching at the University of Alabama. Professor J. F. Smith took his place in 1927, and retired in 1950. Last fall Marion Chase, newly-appointed dramatic coach began his work with the Cap and Dagger Club.

Each year Cap and Dagger produces a

Homecoming play, a May Day play, and a Commencement play, all of which are under the direction of the dramatic coach. The school year 1947-48 saw the first student-production "Laura." Since then student-productions have been "But Not Goodbye" and "My Man Godfrey." This year Myfanwy Lintner was chosen to be the student director of "John Loves Mary."

Another new addition to Cap and Dagger's program has been the three one-act plays presented at Christmas time. These plays are also student produced.

Cap and Dagger was sorry to see two of its members and officers leave for the armed services, Dean Fletcher and Jim Eschbach.

Glenna Keeney opened her home to the club for a wonderful party on January 12.

Membership into Cap and Dagger does not come exclusively to those people who show a talent for acting, but also to those persons who show an interest in our productions by giving their time to work "backstage."

Professor James Grissinger was welcomed into the club this year as an honorary member. The officers for the past year were: President, Phyllis Shultz; Vice President, Barbara Schutz; Secretary, Dean Fletcher; and Treasurer, Jim Eschbach. Upon their entrance into military service, Dean Fletcher and Jim Eschbach were succeeded by Phyllis Weygandt and Francis Pottenger respectively. (See page 115).

COUNCIL OF CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATIONS

(C.C.A.)

The Council of Christian Associations was formed in 1931, growing out of the needs of the campus. There were too many financial drives sponsored by the various Christian organizations, causing considerable overlapping.

The C.C.A. is composed of the President and Program Chairman of each Christian organization and two Student Council representatives. The Christian organizations include the Sunday College Forum, the College Youth Fellowship, the Y.M.C.A., the Y.W.C.A., and the Life Work Recruits. Advisors for the organization are: Dr. J. A. Clippinger and Rev. M. J. Miller of the college church. This group meets to unify and integrate the campus religious activities.

At first the C.C.A. financial drive supported local organizations as well as overseas projects. In 1948, however, the constitution was revised to make local organizations self-supporting.

This year the money from the drive went to the support of the World Student Service-Fund, the World Student Friendship project and the International Christian University in Japan. Pledges during the past year amounted to over $1,000—the same as the previous year despite the drop of one hundred-fifty in our college enrollment.

A portion of the budget is used for the Religion in Life week. This year the University Christian Mission which is under the Commission on Evangelism of the Federal Council of Churches, helped to set up Active Christian Thinking Week. Five important speakers were featured on the campus March 11-15. They were: Rev. Charles Schwantes, Director of Student Work in the Evangelical and Reformed Church; Dr. Elmer G. Homrighausen, of the Princeton Theological Seminary; Rev. Rolland N. Dutton, of the Delmar Baptist Church in St. Louis, Missouri; and Rev. Thomas Wedsworth, the Director of the Evangelical United Brethren Student Work at Ohio State University. (See page 110).

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Club of Home Economics of Otterbein College is a professional organization which is affiliated with the American Home Economics Association and the Ohio State Home Economics Association. Any student who has had college courses in Home Economics or who is enrolled in the Home Economics Department is eligible to membership. From a professional standpoint it is recommended that all Home Economics majors belong to this organization.

The club was formed with the purpose of furthering interest in Home Economics. This is accomplished by creating and encouraging social contacts among the members of the club and at the same time gaining up-to-date knowledge in the ever-increasing professional Home Economics fields. In addition, the club provides excellent training for young women to become active and efficient leaders in home and community life.

An attempt has been made through the years to keep a well-rounded program, including both the professional and homemaking aspects. The members of the club participate in such activities as state and regional conferences with members of other clubs and professional women, field trips and community projects, in addition to regular meetings and projects. Recently the club has sponsored bake sales, style shows, a sandwich sale and annual spring picnics to provide funds, experience and entertainment for the members. This year's program began with a buffet dinner given by the club for the new members of the Home Economics Department. The theme for the year centered about wedding plans and etiquette.

Miss Grace Beckwith has served as the sponsor for the Otterbein Home Economics Club for several years. Her unceasing enthusiasm and assistance are appreciated greatly by the members of the club. (See page 110).

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

(I.R.C.)

The International Relations Club recognizes the fact that the allotted time in the classroom is not sufficient for the presentation of topics of world interest. Between 1919 and 1920, Dr. Charles Snavely and a group of interested students organized the club with the purpose of studying the world's events. In the early years of its organization the I.R.C. held its meetings in the home of Dr. Snavely, the sponsor. Students presented their papers and engaged in round-table discussions. At present the meetings feature outside speakers of international interest and open discussion periods.

Otterbein belongs to a long chain of colleges that possess chapters of I.R.C. Clubs. Each year she sends representatives to the various conventions held by these groups. Last year she had the honor of being the host to the state convention of the I.R.C. Clubs. At that time Senator Robert A. Taft addressed the group.

Some of the highlights of I.R.C. activities are the annual Christmas party and the annual picnic at Dr. A. P. Rosselot's farm. This year the club sponsored a banquet at which Foster Ray Dullas addressed the group.

The membership is open to all interested students who attend two consecutive meetings. The club meets twice a month in the Philomathean room of the Administration Building. The sponsors are Professor Harold Hancock and Professor William Steck. This year officers were Arthur Fulton, President; Patricia Peterson, Vice President; Mary Ellen Carroll, Secretary; Gene Riblet, Treasurer; Dale Witt, Program Chairman; Billie Lemley, Art Director; and Darrel Poling, Publicity Chairman. (See page 112).

PHI ALPHA THETA

(National Honorary History Society)

Phi Alpha Theta, National Honorary Historical Society, along with its increase of membership greatly extended its activities during the past school year. Late in October, the society took care of the details as it went along with the History Department and the school in playing host to the Ohio Academy of History. Over Christmas vacation the society sent one official delegate and two others to the National Biennial Convention held at Chicago's Sheraton Hotel. Along with its own programs, and the special program for the entire school, the society as a co-sponsor with the local I.R.C. (International Relations Club) organization sponsored a speaker during A.C.T. (Active Christian Thinking) week. The entire year was made a complete success with the annual banquet and dinner program early in May. (See page 112).

PHI SIGMA IOTA

(National Honorary Romance Language Society)

Phi Sigma Iota, National Romance Language Society, was founded in 1922, and has expanded since then to virtually all parts of the United States comprising approximately forty-five chapters. Phi Chapter of Phi Sigma Iota was founded at Otterbein College, November 8, 1933 through the efforts of Dr. A. P. Rosselot, who served as sponsor to the group for a number of years. The purpose of the society is the study of the literature and life of the romance countries.

Active membership is limited to ten students, who have maintained not less than a grade of B in all college work, who have junior standing in the college, and who have shown special ability and interest in the society's ideals. In addition to active members, associate members may be elected who have good scholastic records and interest in the purposes of Phi Sigma Iota. Formal initiation is held each fall for new members following their election the previous spring.

Meetings are held once a month at the home of faculty members, at which time student members present papers of individual research. These readings are followed by interesting discussions led by student critics. Each May there is an open meeting with programs of outside speakers, short dramas presented by language classes, musical selections, and/or research papers of special interest. The annual banquet for student, faculty, and alumni members is held the Friday preceding spring commencement.

Typical programs for the past year included: The Theory of Silence of Jean Jacques Bernard; a study of several outstanding French scientists; a comparison between the dramatic and operatic interpretations of The Barber of Seville; and a comparison between Thomas Hardy and Juan Valera through a major work of each.

Officers for 1950-51 were as follows: President, Caroline Brentlinger; Vice President, Miss LaVelle Rosselot; Secretary-Treasurer, Shirley Minnis; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Lena May Wilson; Program Chairman, Margie Claar. Professor Gilbert E. Mills was the faculty sponsor. (See page 115).

PI KAPPA DELTA

(National Honorary Forensic Fraternity)

The Ohio Epsilon Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta is one of the outstanding organizations of Otterbein College. Originated on this campus in 1942, it has well represented the national forensic fraternity for students qualifying in oratory, debate, interpretative reading and extemporaneous speaking.

During the school term, Pi Kappa Delta sponsors an invitational debate tournament for Ohio colleges. Other prominent events included the annual breakfast for members, and the official initiation of new members in the spring.

Delegates are always sent to both the Provincial and National Tournaments of Pi Kappa Delta. Only members of the national fraternity are qualified to compete. The National Tournament for 1951 was held in Oklahoma with Otterbein students participating.

Officers for the academic year of 1950-51 were: President, Francis Pottenger; Vice President, Dick Howard; and Secretary-Treasurer, Marty Lawson.

QUIZ AND QUILL

The honorary literary society of Otterbein College was originated January 10, 1919. Professor C. O. Altman, who was the first faculty sponsor, held this position until he left Otterbein three years ago.

Since then Dr. Price has served the club as sponsor. The purpose of the new organization was "to stimulate among students of the college the special interest in English and to awaken among members of the club a broader appreciation of the most worthwhile in modern literature, and to foster among them any special talent for creative writing." The original constitution, from which this purpose was copied, is the one still used by the organization. It has, of course, undergone numerous amendments, but the purposes and, generally, the activities of the organization remain much the same. For example, the first meetings included discussion of current literary topics, book reviews, and reading of creative writing done by members of the group. The meetings now are composed primarily of the same things.

Quiz and Quill has had many members who have left Otterbein to become famous in writing or in some other field. The minister of the First Community Church in Columbus, Roy Burkhart, is a Quiz and Quill Alumnus. Others include: Wendell Camp, a famous biologist; Emerson Shuck, director of graduate studies at Bowling Green University; Wayne Harsha, journalism professor at Ohio State; and Louis Weinland, chemistry professor in New York. Mr. Weinland, incidentally, sponsors the Weinland Writing and Selling Contest at Otterbein. Many former members of Quiz and Quill have moved into prominent positions on our own campus. Among these are: J. Gordon Howard, L. Lee Shackson, LaVelle Rosselot, William Steck, Robert Hohn, and Maurice Gribbler.

Many of the earlier traditions of the group are still carried on. Of primary importance is the publishing of the college literary magazine, also called "Quiz and Quill," which has been in existence since the founding of the club. Another such tradition is the bringing of prominent figures to the campus. In recent years Carl Sandburg, Robert K. Marshall, and Richard Llewellyn have been the guests of Quiz and Quill. Finally, the organization continues to sponsor several literary contests each year for those who show interest in creative writing. (See page 110).

LIFE WORK RECRUITS

About twenty-five years ago, several students and faculty members realized the need for an organization at Otterbein to present and clarify the characteristics and opportunities in the growing field of Christian vocations.

A survey taken in 1926, revealing that over thirteen percent of Otterbein students were planning to enter some full-time phase of Christian service resulted in the formation of the Life Work Recruit group.

The organization, meeting weekly, has adhered to the purpose of its foundation by presenting programs which make use of student participation, guest faculty and outside speakers, and audio-visual aids. It has provided an opportunity for ministerial, missionary, and other students studying for Christian professions to become better acquainted, and to understand more clearly the fields of vocation they plan to enter.

The cross organizational membership of Life Work Recruits also includes those students who have not definitely decided upon a career, but are contemplating entering some field of Christian service.

Deputation teams, which are sent to requesting churches within a hundred mile radius of the college, give students the opportunity of participating in actual church programs.

Past officers and members of Life Work Recruits are now serving in pastorates, religious education, and mission fields throughout the world.

Officers for this year were: Owen Delp, President; Milton Nolin, Vice President; Miriam Stockslager, Secretary-Treasurer; Martha Jo Holden, Song Leader; Virginia Miller, Pianist; and Allen Jennings, Deputation Captain. (See page 116).

McFADDEN SCIENCE CLUB

The McFadden Science Club was founded in 1937 and was sponsored by Sigma Zeta, the national science fraternity. Since the parent organization is open only to Juniors and Seniors majoring in Science, the McFadden Science Club was organized to accomodate the freshmen and sophomores who were interested in Science. The club is also open to Juniors and Seniors who do not belong to Sigma Zeta. Many interesting topics have been presented by the students in the past from the fields of Biology, chemistry, physics, and mathematics. This club does much to promote interest in the sciences and to develop a scientific attitude. (See page 112).

SIGMA ZETA

(National Honorary Science Society)

The Epsilon Chapter of Sigma Zeta, a national honorary society, was organized on the Otterbein campus in 1929. The purpose is to increase interest in and knowledge of scientific matters and to encourage high scholarship among the students.

Active membership is limited to students with at least a minor in science or mathematics in the junior and senior years. These students are selected on the basis of scholarship and character of the highest type.

This year the programs consisted of addresses by visiting speakers, presentation of student papers, and movies on the various scientific fields.

Officers for the year were: President, Marian Smith; Vice President, Jack Hudock; Secretary, John Hicks; Treasurer, Fred Whittaker; and Program Chairman, Bob Winter. The sponsors were Mr. Fred A. Hanawalt and Mr. Keith Crane. (See page 112).

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

The Social Committee was organized several years ago as a branch of Student Council. It is made up of Faculty members and students whose purpose it is to discuss activities which will improve the social life of the campus.

The members are chosen by the Student Council for their interest in all-campus affairs—they also represent many phases of college life—religious, fraternal, athletic and social. Automatic members of the committee are the President of the College Christian Association, the Vice President of the Student Council and both Presidents of the Inter-Sorority Council and the Inter-Fraternity Council. In addition, a member from each class is elected by the Student Council. The faculty members represent different departments in the college: Physical Education, English, Music, Science, and Home Economics. The President and Vice President of the College are honorary members.

At the beginning of each year, a student chairman is elected to preside over the meetings which are held at least once a week. The Dean of Women is the Faculty Chairman.

Through the years, the committee has been responsible for the many dances at the Student Union, the annual Leaf-Raking Party, the Christmas Festival, the free coffee and donuts during exams and the movies at Lambert Hall. Two years ago a television set was bought for the Student Union, and plans are now being made to buy a bigger set in order that more students can attend and enjoy the programs. (See page 110).

SUNDAY COLLEGE FORUM

The Sunday College Forum of Otterbein College made its debut in the fall of 1947. Previously, a Sunday School class was maintained for college students, but when the idea of a forum group was suggested, the change-over was enthusiastically accepted. With 1947's attendance doubled, the Forum has become the largest class of the First Church of Westerville, and one of the largest church affiliated religious groups in the Evangelical United Brethren college sphere.

Abounding with an abundance of religious ideas, beliefs, and problems, Otterbein students rightfully assume that there is nothing so sacrosanct nor picayunish that it cannot be introduced, investigated, and evaluated in Sunday College Forum. Discussions have been carried on regarding current religious beliefs, the Bible—its nature and function, and on religious resources for living. Attention has been focused on the Old Testament prophets, the Life of Christ, and today's living religions and faiths. In 1949 the College Sunday Forum made news for every major newspaper in the country on the results of a poll on, "The Probability of Marital Happiness." Guest speakers, faculty members, and student leaders have contributed toward making the Forum lively, informative, spiritually awake and morally straight.

Owen Delp served as President from 1947 to 1949. His leadership helped to establish the Forum on firm ground. During his administration the Tower Room was initiated, decorated, and furnished with literature. Succeeding him was Dick Coyle and he carried on the office in a progressive manner. At present Sam Mujais serves as President and is filling his office in a most successful way. The other efficient officers are: Bernard Black, Ralph Bishoff, Paul Ciampi, Dick Coyle, Esther Granger, Lloyd Lewis, Tom Linder, and Bob Myers. Dr. John Clippinger functions as moderator. (See page 110).

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

Women of Otterbein have been singing in an organized group since about 1888. The Glee Club as it is today was organized by Professor A. R. Spessard in 1918. It consisted of twenty-one members. The Club has made many tours throughout the years, but in 1940 the practice discontinued and no tour was made until 1947 when Professor Robert Hohn replaced Professor Spessard. Then a tour was made through Ohio and Pennsylvania.

In 1949 Mrs. Helen Holscher was director of the forty-voice Glee Club. The President was Pat Jones, assisted by Ladonna Jenkins as Secretary and Donna Boyer as the Treasurer.

This year the Glee Club has been under the able direction of Professor Lee Shackson with Kathy Conley as President, Helen Redinger as secretary, Suzie Good as Treasurer, and Barbara Burtner as the Publicity Chairman.

During the last couple of years the Club has sung for chapel programs and participated in the Christmas Festivals; last year it was one of the first groups in Ohio colleges to be featured on television. Besides these activities, an annual home concert is usually given in the spring.

This year the Women's Glee Club went on tour through northern Ohio and Pennsylvania, a very attractive and melodious advertisement for Otterbein College. (See page 116).

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

(Y.M.C.A.)

Volunteer student Christian groups have been part of campus life since the founding of the first colleges in America. From small secret societies during the Colonial Days, these groups have grown to nation wide associations numbering 909 Y's in 706 colleges, with a membership of over 300,000. The Otterbein Y.M.C.A. has the distinction of being the first Y.M.C.A. west of the Allegheny Mountains and the oldest association in Ohio.

The campus Y.M.C.A. is an autonomous unit free to determine its own objectives and program and is responsible for raising its own funds. It is not a 'chapter' of a national movement nor is it financially dependent on the favor of a national body. The National Student Y.M.C.A. was organized for the mutual assistance of the local organizations. The Student Y.M.C.A. and the National Y.M.C.A. of which the city Y's are a part are affiliated only through the national boards in New York. The Student Y.M.C.A. movement is organized on an Intercollegiate basis. The Otterbein Y.M.C.A. is a part of the Ohio Area which is a part of the Lake Geneva Region, one of the nine regions in the National Inter-collegiate organization. The student Y.M.C.A. is non-denominational in character, but specifically Christian in purpose, and includes in its membership students of all denominations or of none.

As a statement of purpose, the organization believes that the Student Y.M.C.A. consists of groups of students and faculty of various races and creeds united by a common loyalty to Jesus Christ. In the fellowship of Christian Church, the Y.M.C.A. seeks to understand the will of God through worship, study, and action and strives to realize it in personal living and in working towards a new society. In terms of program planning, this purpose is reflected in its treatment of personal and campus life, social responsibility, world relatedness, as well as the Christian heritage.

The local association attempts to make these purposes and ideals real on Otterbein's campus through weekly programs, projects, intramural sports participation, and deepening personal awareness of the social responsibilities of a Christian. (See page 115).

by participation in Varsity and Intramural athletics, Student Government, and scholarship.

Mother Brentlinger, the lovable and efficient housemother, again handled the bulk of domestic and culinary duties and helped in a thousand other ways.

Unfortunately, the heavy majority of actives will soon enter a nationalized and much larger fraternal brotherhood, but this year will never be forgotten.

WOMEN'S STUDENT GOVERNMENT BOARD

prestige, until today it regulates and maintains women's student government almost completely, turning over to the Administrative Council those cases which are an infringement of school policy or which might otherwise be outside its jurisdiction.

At first this organization was named the Cochran Hall Association and included only those women students in Cochran Hall. As the college grew and other women's living centers came into existence, the Cochran Hall Association was no longer an appropriate name.

On September 18, 1944, by vote of the Association, the name of the board and association was changed to the Women's Student Governing Board and the Women's Student Governing Association respectively.

Today there are three dormitories, Cochran Hall, Saum Hall, and King Hall, and two cottages, Clippinger Cottage and Garst Cottage, under its jurisdiction. Each living center has its own officers which comprise the Standards Committee of the center. Standards Committees handle all minor infractions of rules and refer major infractions to the Women's Student Governing Board. The Board today consists of the President of each living center and the Vice President of those living centers having over twenty-five residents, along with a President, Vice President, and Secretary-Treasurer elected by the Association. All women students automatically become members of the Association (W.S.G.B.) upon their registration with the college. The Dean of Women is advisor to the Board.

The Association performs activities other than reprimanding students. Each fall a reception is given for all new women students, along with new women faculty members and the wives of new faculty members.

Each year the constitution is gone over thoroughly by a revision committee and revisions are made and presented to the students for approval.

HOMECOMING ON THE ALUM

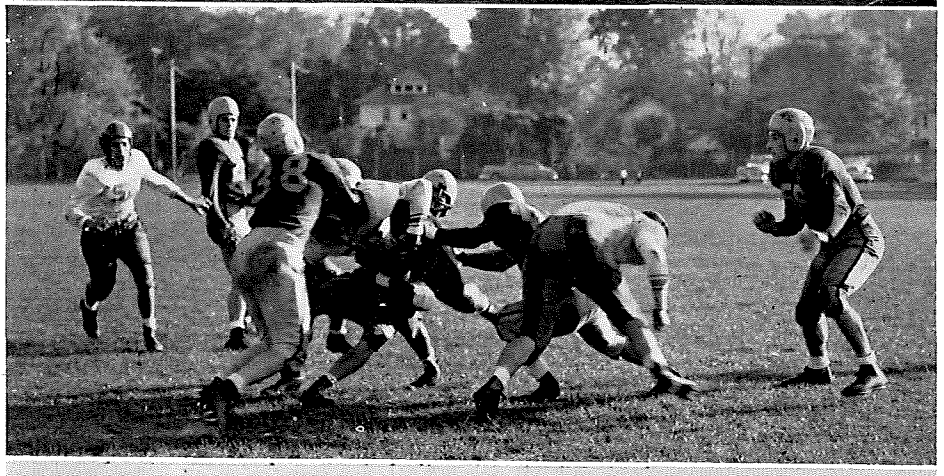
Homecoming is an example of this year's football at Otterbein. The game began with gains by both teams, then Heidelberg's greater numbers took their toll on the small but scrappy CARDS. The final score: Heidelberg 40, Otterbein 7. The record of three wins and five losses indicates the teams that were in or out of the CARDS' class. Losing to Muskingum, Ohio Wesleyan, Dennison, Heidelberg, and West Virginia Tech., and winning from Marietta, Wilmington and Capital. CARDS pictured on the left are Yoest and Gayton (both injured seriously during the season). On the right are pictured ex CARD, Dubbs Roush; Coach Dean Sensanbaugher; Dave Price; Trainer McKinniss; Clete Beam; Jim Gyory; Hal Tippett; Manager Anagnoston; Gene Keel; and Enar Anderson.

Basketball season started with a "Bang" in Otterville with the locals taking Kenyon in a squeezer 72-70. Shown are Hoover (injured later) set to "lay-up" two of his nineteen for the night, and McNabb ready for the rebound that didn't come.

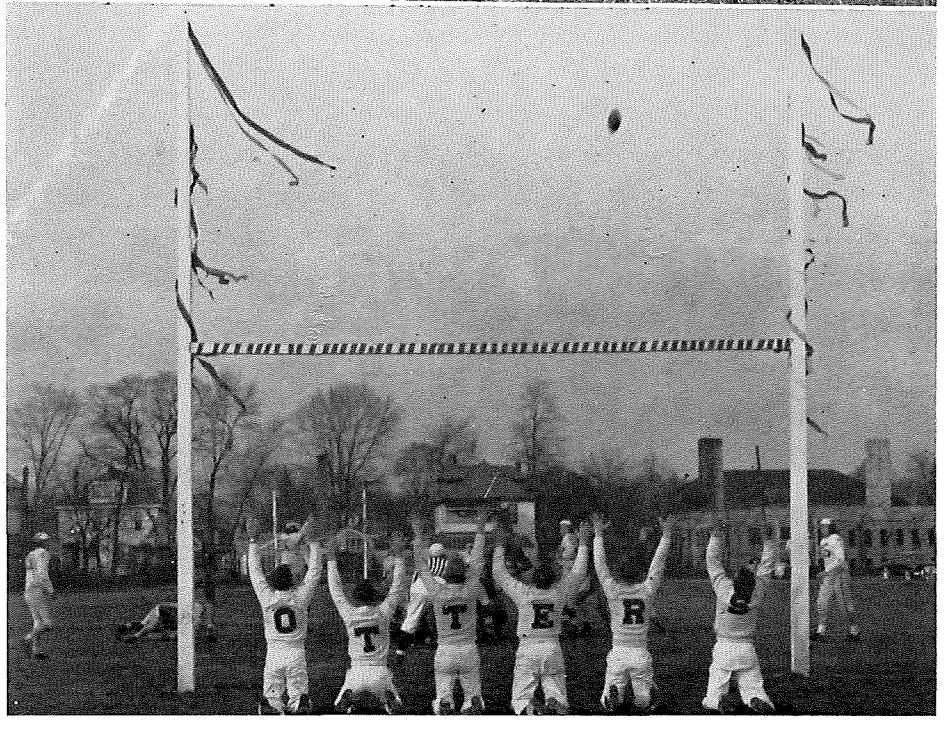
To the cheer leaders should go respect for a fine job of "Holler-Holler." They are Penny Pendleton, Bill Kinsey, Paul Smith, Margie Reece, Gary Hunt, and Bob Denzer.

Still on the ALUM

Homecoming at Capital University brought mass CARDinal representation. Appearing on the field before the game was the newly outfitted band with Drum Major, Chuck Fleming . . . . they did a terrific job.



Due to an editorial error, the scene again goes back to our own Homecoming game. Carying the ball is John Robertson, with blocking support from Max Mickey. Also can be seen co-captain, Fred Martinelli.



Again coming to Capital, our rival on the Alum, the university suffered its defeat at the hands of the CARDS. Our CARDS spoiled Cap's homecoming to the tune of 31-0. The lone football shot of the campaign is with the cheer leaders doing the old salaam under the goal post; and Max (the toe) Mickey's kick splitting the uprights.

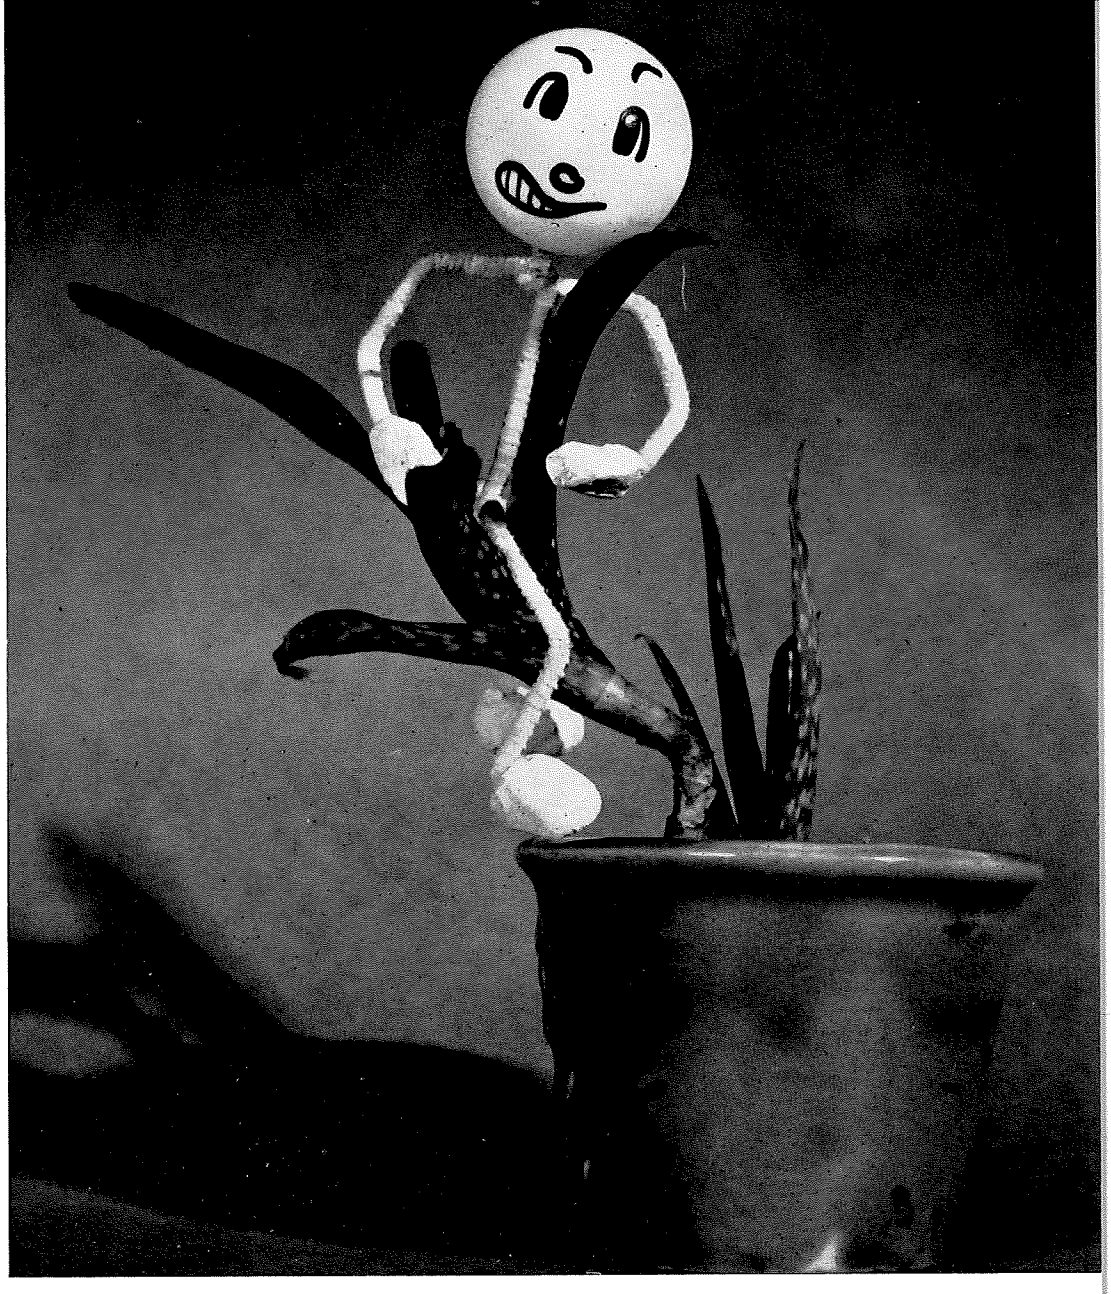
the following is a semblance of a chronological history of the year—the order of events may seem a bit confused occasionally due to the necessity of arranging several items that resisted classification — this has become the convenient catch-all — hence the title



Deuces Wild

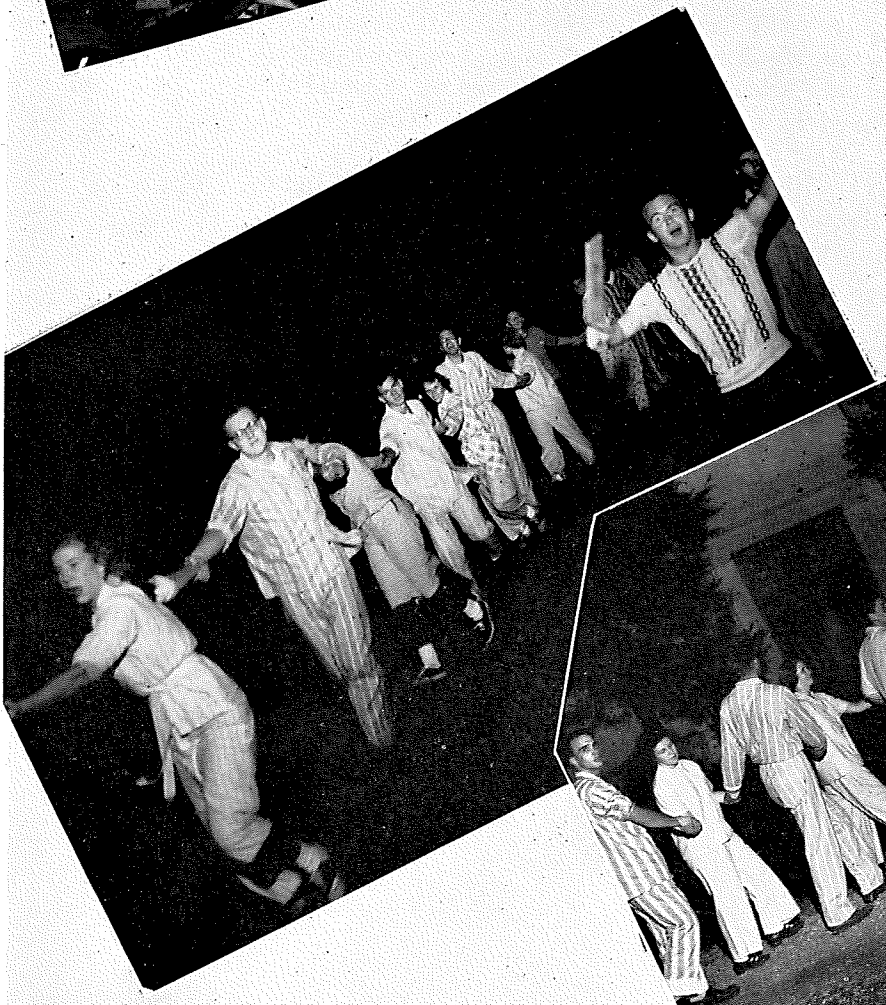
Blankets, typewriters, radios, and suitcases arrived on Sunday, September 17, accompanied incidentally by beaming freshmen, who received their first open welcome from Otterbein's mark of progress, that inevitable ditch.

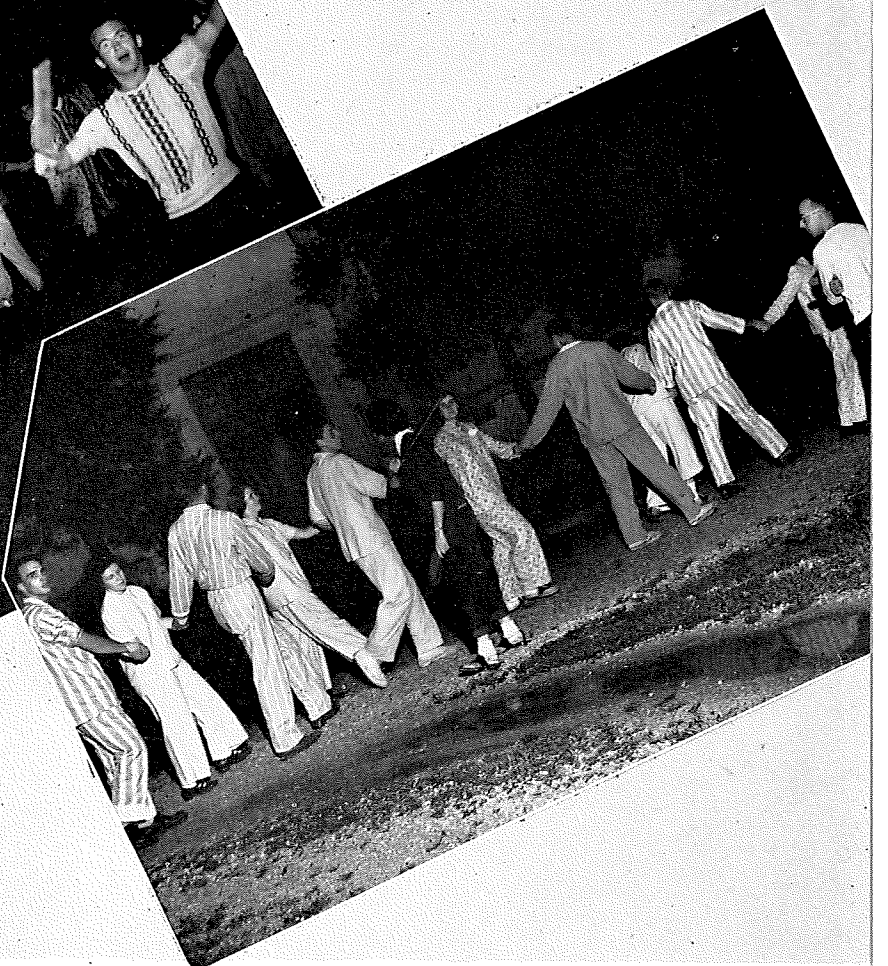
Faculty members and their wives personally greeted the new students and their parents at the afternoon reception on the Ad. Bldg. lawn. Name tags, warm hand-clasps, and friendly faces brought teachers and students into the first of many satisfying contacts. After traveling through a long line of introductions, involving more names than one could possibly remember at the time, everyone found the refreshments served under the trees quite welcome. Achieving a precarious balance of punch and cookies, freshmen, parents, and professors mingled in congenial groups on the lawn.

The banquet at Barlow Hall brought the official close to first-day, get-acquainted activities at Otterbein, although new friends and roommates continued the process far into the night.

A galaxy of performers, comedians, and musicians duly impressed the upper-classmen with Frosh potential on traditional Freshman Talent night. As usual the stage was pelted with pennies from an admiring but heckling audience.

Again the Health Center became the scene of solicitous concern for weights and measures, pulses and temperatures. After the next several weeks, freshmen discovered why stamina and good health were so necessary.





THE BONFIRE

Came the eve of the first football game . . . . owing perhaps to the determined sophomores and their somewhat persuasive paddles, the freshmen yelled themselves hoarse. The bonfire grew hotter and higher as the pajama-clad Frosh snake-danced with wild enthusiasm. Or is that the exact word for it? Perhaps "heated" resignation would be better. In the process of winding recklessly around the fire, many a scorched and rebellious nature was fanned with a paddle.

At last the fire reached the top of the huge pile of boxes, branches, and papers, and the Wesleyan dummy came toppling over, along with the little building that usually adds the crowning touch to every year's bonfire.

After cheers, pep songs, and introductions to the football team, the freshman line started off on its tour of the town. Leaping over curbs and around bushes, straining and pulling, panting and perspiring heavily with each step, the freshmen paid their rapid respects to various Otterbein spots, the dorms, the Ad. Bldg., the cemetery and many others.

Of course, during the lulls in the snake dance, when laggards slowed up the line considerably, the sophomores were there with a ready and encouraging paddle hand.

The freshmen may have been dragged most of the way, but by the time they had collapsed into the seats of the State Theater for a free movie, anyone would have said that "drugged" was more appropriate. However, after cutting classes the next day and sleeping for the weekend, they recovered sufficiently . . . . wondering with apprehension about the ordeals that still lay ahead of them.

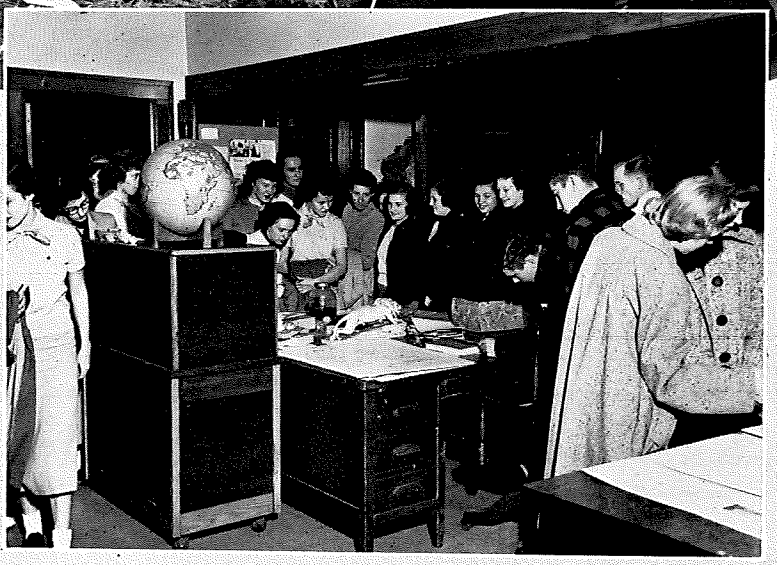
SCRAP DAY

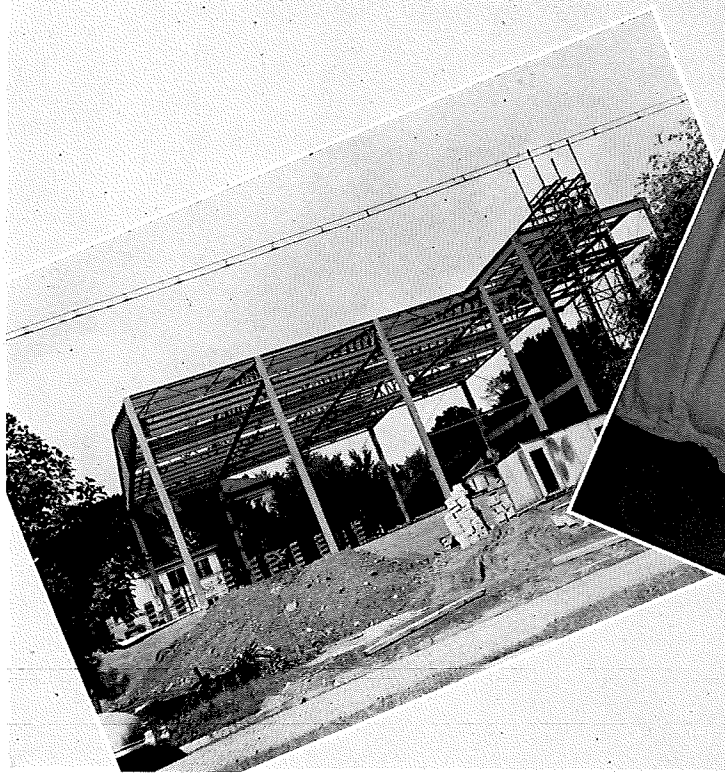
The sun rose on Scrap Day to find that the Freshman girls had been up for a long time, busily braiding each other's hair in twenty-five neat pigtails. Great pains were taken to have clothing correctly backwards and inside out. Incidentals such as odd shoes and socks, a safety-pinned O on sweaters, and "I am a lowly green worm" signs all required careful forethought and preparation for the would-be well-dressed freshman girls. On the other hand they didn't have to worry about make-up; the Sophomore girls applied that detail with a skilled and generous hand.

The girls' activities began with a little-appreciated serenading tour consisting almost entirely of "All men are fickle, faithless forever." After breakfast, they competed against the Sophomore girls in volleyball and softball games. Their active participation in the ordeal of Varsity O Day was then over, but they cheered and encouraged the freshman fellows who put up fierce battles in the sack race and . . . . (?)

The main event of interest, the tug-of-war, found determined frosh and confident (wonder why?) sophomores on opposite sides of Alum Creek, together with a large crowd of interested students. And to be brief, as tuggers-of-war, the freshmen were all wet.

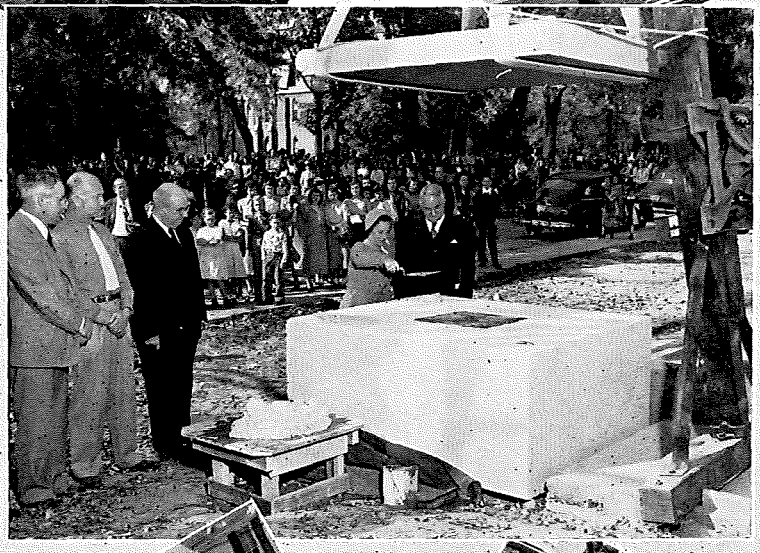
It was a hectic day and the defeated freshmen accepted with resignation the verdict "Beanies till Christmas!"





Approximately 800 excited alert high school students investigated Otterbein thoroughly on High School Day. Inspection of departments, equipment, and displays acquainted the visitors with college curriculum and procedures. A quick tour through the dormitories found rooms (surprisingly) neat and attractive. A number of the boys tested Otterbein's athletic opportunities with a game of basketball at the Alumni Gymnasium. The afternoon found the high school students as guests at the home football game with . . . . The day ended pleasantly for all concerned with many agreeing they'd like to return next year not merely as visitors, but as freshmen.

A trying evening of arranging, posing, and quieting groups for Sibyl pictures must have worked on the minds of the staff; they relaxed by creating their own personal Greek columns as a contrast to the framework of modern architecture seen on campus early in the year.



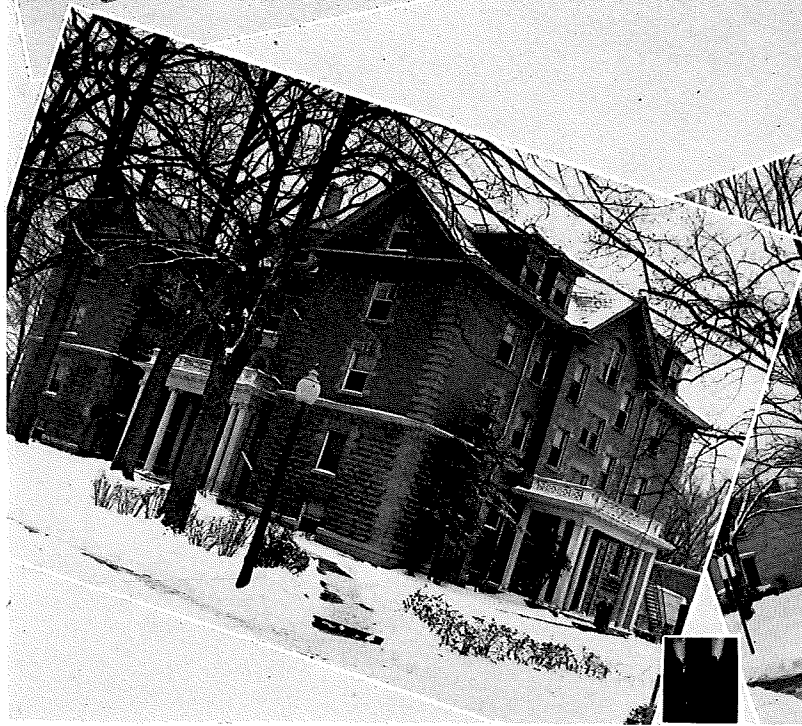
Homecoming Day . . . Autumn and Otterbein at their loveliest . . .

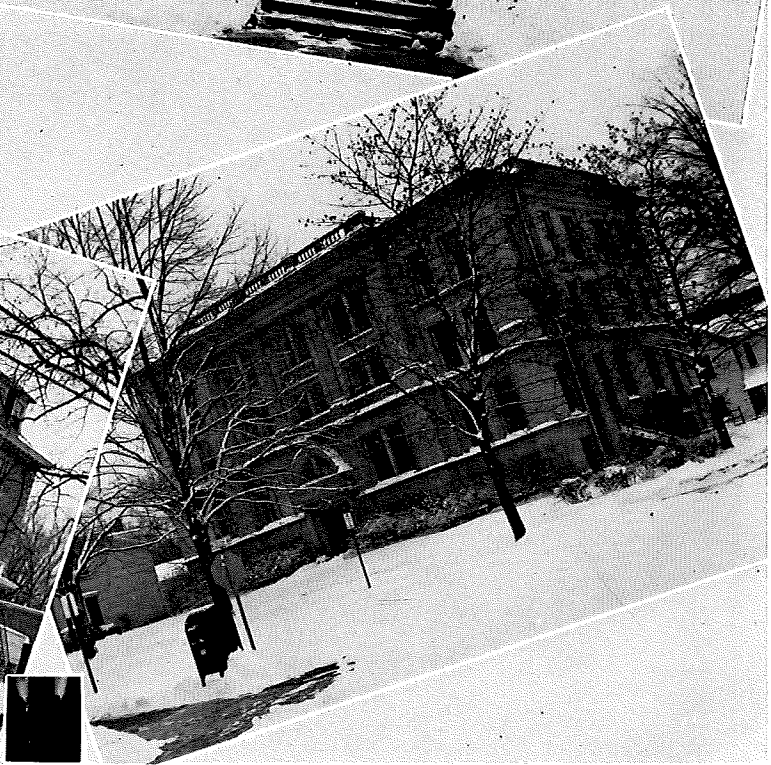
As usual the frat houses drew a great deal of attention with their clever and humorous displays, centered this year around the theme of defeating the Student Princes.

Students and returning alumni met in the Alumni Gymnasium to pay homage to the newly-crowned queen, Martha Lawson, and her court. Later in the morning Mrs. Cowan participated in the quietly impressive ceremony of laying the cornerstone of Cowan Hall, the construction of which was made possible through the generosity of her late husband, Mr. James Cowan.

The afternoon festivities, climaxed by the football game with Heidelberg College, began with the parade through town. Led by the college band, the series of floats, decorated and manned by members of the fraternities and sororities, made a lively and colorful jaunt through the streets of Westerville. Elaborations on the theme "Otterbein—2000 A.D." brought forth such efforts as the amusing prize-winning float of Country Club's, pictured opposite.

Homecoming Day closed with a large attendance at both the very entertaining play "The Winslow Boy" and the dance at the Armory. Alumni and students alike declared the Homecoming Weekend a most successful and enjoyable one.





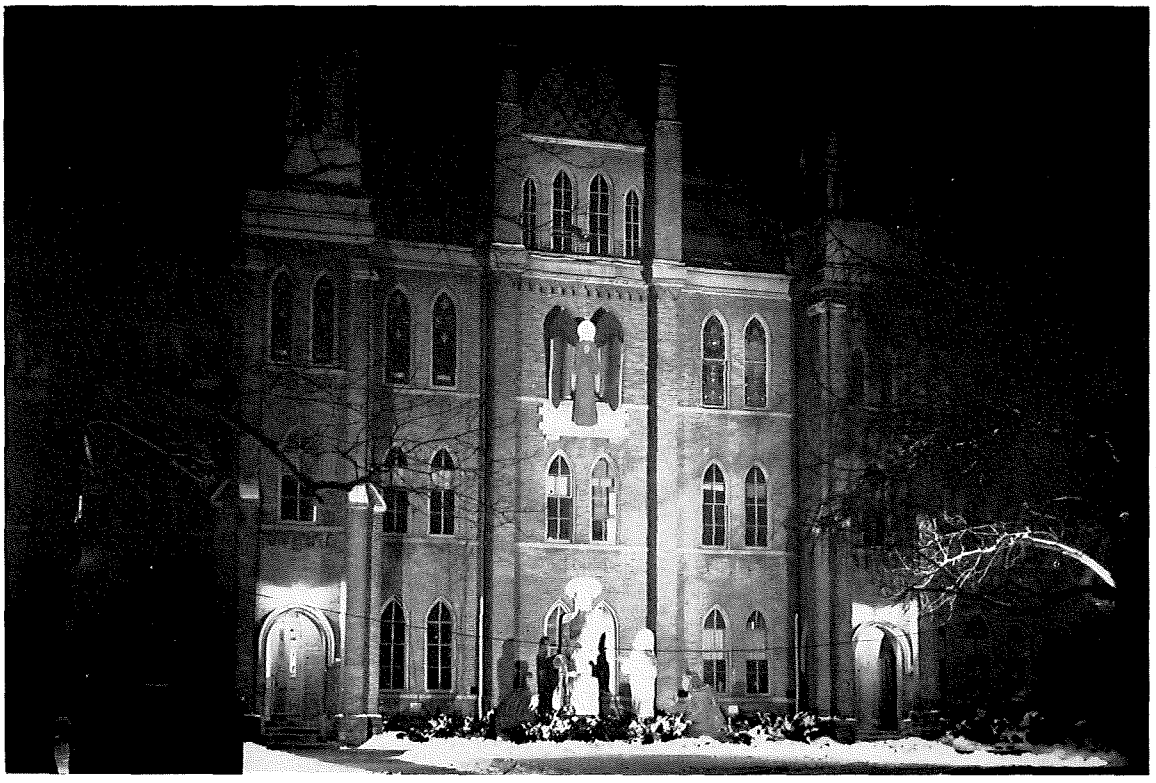
One day it snowed . . . . the students from Florida were delighted with the soft, flurry stuff; they took pictures and wrote home about it.

The next day it snowed . . . and the next day and the next day, until it almost seemed that the school would have to close because of students stranded off campus. Boots and shovels became the order of the day.

Winter brought strange figures to the campus; huge snow men and women guarded the lawns in front of every dorm. One of the most striking results of the snow was seen on the Ad. Bldg. lawn, where three members of the sculpture class created a miniature Santa-and-sleigh scene.

Though cold and sometimes uncomfortable, Otterbein in winter made a never-to-be-forgotten impression. Those students braving their ways to 7:30 classes found trees and bushes covered with a frosty mist of ice and snow. The effect that many found almost unbelievable was observed in the fact that jeans and boots were allowed in the dining hall . . . on the worst days, that is.

And then one day, the weather had a change of heart! The sun came out, and cars were dug from their drifts, and the snow began to melt. But that's another story, and a messy one.

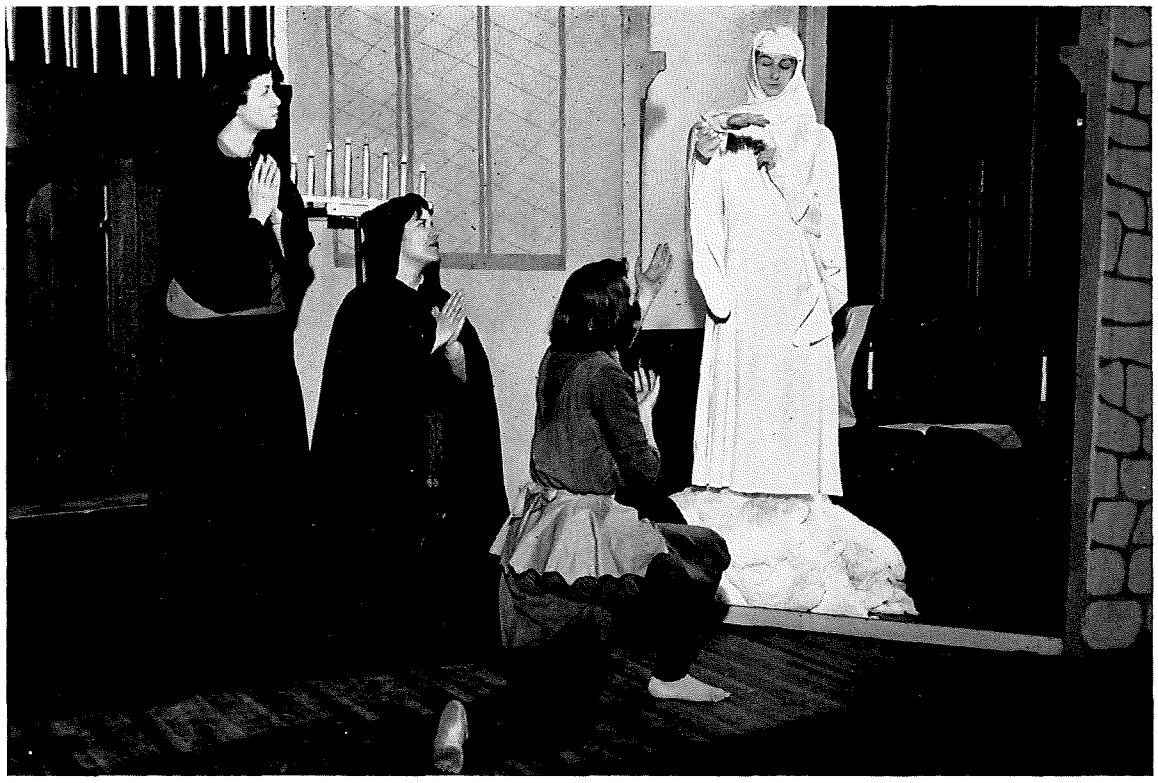


Otterbein

A scene that has become associated with Otterbein's Christmas for the past several years is that of the Nativity figures, as created by the Art Department. The group is composed of the Mother and Child, two shepherds, two wise men, and an angel which was added this year.

Spotlights placed on trees in front of the Administration Building made the scene visible clear across the campus. The bright colors of the figures against the snow stood out clearly on December nights, making one of the most memorable scenes of the Otterbein year.

The Art Department deserves the appreciation of the college, for the atmosphere on campus, alive with plans for the holiday vacation and festive events, found an added significance to the Yuletide season in this scene.



Christmas

A unique and most entertaining Christmas play was presented this year . . . . Several departments of the college, including Speech, Language, Music, and Athletic, collaborated on The Juggler of Notre Dame, making it a very effective production.

The sidewalk on the east side of the Alumni Gymnasium, with the three tall windows as background, provided the setting for the first act. The procession of actors, dancers, and carolers led the audience to the Association Building for the second act, which took place on the steps and in the doorway. For the third act the procession made its way to the chapel of the Administration Building, for a very striking conclusion.

The medieval costumes and sets, the dancing, singing, and acting left the audience in a warm Christmas mood, appropriate for the Faculty Open Houses which followed.

The sight of girls in P.J.'s and robes (under winter coats) on Westerville streets has become an accepted part of Christmas activities at Otterbein. The custom of the senior girls' caroling for the underclass women is one that all the girls enjoy, regardless of class.

Two by two, with candles to light their way, the seniors quietly enter each hall. They proceed to each floor, singing to the girls in the darkened rooms. After calling "Merry Christmas" at the door, they leave for another dorm, with the strains of "Jingle Bells" drifting back to the girls at the windows.

A familiar sight at basketball games is that of Dr. Howard in his favorite spot, gazing thoughtfully up at the score board.

The group of mid-year graduates, a portion of the fittest who survived college life, paused for a few informal words with Dr. Howard after the mid-term Senior Recognition Day.

The faces of graduating seniors always provide a study in varied emotions: solemnity, excitement, (relief, perhaps?) anticipation, and, of course, regret at leaving friends and campus.

This is the story of the '51 ——— and of the CARDS who worked and had a lot of fun putting it together.

Business Adviser

We'll be glad to make the SIBYL, and then, OH! what a job we realized we had undertaken. Representatives of various companies, anxious to get our names on the dotted lines, continually kept us away from studying for final examinations last spring (1950, that is). Anxious to get started, and yet not knowing which way to turn, the guiding counsel of Dr. Harmon and Mr. Hogue, our advisers, proved invaluable.

Engravings—our first problem. After much consideration, Mr. Joe DeOrio, of the Canton Engraving Company, received our contract. Bill Drenten assumed the responsibility of Photographic Editor, Phyl Shannon took on the responsibility of Art Editor, and before the close of school we spent an evening in Dr. Harmon's home with two Commercial Artists that had been sent here from the engraving company. It was at this time that the entire layout of the book was planned.

One obstacle overcome, others seemed to follow in greater numbers. The responsibility of the portrait work was given to Mr. Warren Hitchcock of Morehouse Fashion, and the printing, binding and other last minute matters necessary for production was given to Mr. Monroe Courtright of the Westerville Press. Mr. Courtright, a former SIBYL Editor, well understood our problems and gave excellent advice with regard to setting up deadlines and the final production of the book.

We introduce you now to the people who really made the 1951 SIBYL. Margie Claar, Sue Good, and Nancy Hampton were the first to function. Cooperatively they arranged a convenient time for every member of the senior and junior class and faculty to have their portraits taken in Columbus. Some were slow in response, but by a concerted effort on the parts of these three girls, practically everyone is pictured.

During the time that portaits were being taken, sophomore and freshmen class pictures had to be arranged. Lois Abbott, and Jean Reed worked with the sophomore class while Phyllis Palmere and Lois Spangler handled the freshmen. Co-operating with Bill Drenten, class pictures were completed within eight hours of staggered appointments, and efforts were then directed towards organization pictures.

It was Bill who felt that the organization pictures could be taken more effectively if the same background were used in every instance. It was also Bill who felt that the various sections of the book could be introduced by photography.

With the exception of the portraits, Bill has taken practically every picture in the book, and he always got a good picture the first time, thereby eliminating the time-consuming project of arranging a retake.

While everyone was concentrating on pictures, Phyl Shannon, Miriam Wetzel, and Phyl Weygandt were busy at work making the miniature scenes that have been photographed. The picture gives a glance of the small objects with which they had to work. Also they worked hard and long cartooning, footprinting, and planning in order that the book might be more cleverly linked together.

In the meantime, there was the question of money. Where would all the funds come from to pay for the production of the book. The advertising campaign of Phyl Brockett and Bruce Caldwell with our local merchants furnished part of the answer. Walking the streets of Westerville, with book, contracts, and pen in hand, they made a complete canvass of the town, and brought back results.

A book needs more than pictures, art work, and financial backing. In our case, an already planned sport section of pictures had to be taken and stories written about them. This has been the project of Jerry Jenkins. Pictures of our athletes were arranged by Jerry through the athletic department, and once taken, it became Jerry's job to identify the personnel and write accompanying stories.

Editorially, the final job was designated to Ruth Mugridge. Ruthie had to proofread every single organization write up, just in case, and on a few occasions made minor grammatical changes. There were lots and lots of pictures, but no stories. Ruthie had to write them, and it required many hours of work in the office, and many more in her own room in the dormitory.

Throughout the year it had been a question of whether Don Shilling was helping the editor or the business manager. One day he was selling books, the next day he would be helping the editor. Having been his high school year book editor, and having worked with the Canton Engraving Company before, plus the fact that he lived near the engraving company, the weekends he went home, his Saturday mornings were spent as an expediter.

John Matthews, the Junior Class President, is the one who might be called the co-ordinator. John had to keep his fingers on us and see that we were progressing satisfactorily and at the same time he had to keep the class informed. His interest and advice was worthwhile, and on occasions, he called the class together for meetings in order that a decision could be made.

Mr. J. A. DeOrio is the man who, while the Christmas program was going on in the Administration Building Chapel, spent hours in the SIBYL office helping get the first mountings done in order that his company would have to give us a very favorable discount because of the early submission of photographs. Also, it is he who would stop at intervals throughout the year and assist with the problems that would arise with regard to engravings.

Mr. Warren Hitchcock is the person who many juniors, seniors, and faculty members will recognize as the "little man behind the camera." Because of his accurate record keeping staff, we were able to proceed with other projects and have portrait information as near to us as the telephone. Through Warren's efforts, all portraits were taken within better than a two week period.

It can never be said that we did not have two "top-notch" advisers this past year. No matter what time of the day or night, Dr. Harmon and Mr. Hogue were always available. We're thankful that they both have good understanding wives too, because they were not always home in time for dinner when we wanted a problem solved—they stayed to help us solve it.

Thanks also go to Margie Reece, Barbara Burtner, and Joan Wallace who helped in our effort to sell additional books by typing letters. To Jim Yost we say thanks for helping us return borrowed equipment, and generally helping us. Thanks also go to Stan Kagel and Vince Palmere for helping with the removal of equipment after having taken organization pictures.

In connection with organization pictures, we also want to express our thanks to Miss VanSant who was more than willing to arrange her schedules in order that the girls gymn might be available to us at our convenience. To "Tink" Sanders of the Maintenance Department we express our thanks for his afternoon's work in setting up the curtains for the pictures, as well as thanks for the many other little jobs which he did for us throughout the year. And thanks to the person who made the gray curtains possible, Mr. T. V. Bancroft, of the Westerville High School.

Through the courtesy and trust in us of Vice President Martin and Dean of Women, Miss Myrtle Eldredge, several pictures appear in this book that would not have otherwise been possible. They have shown a great interest in the book, and on many an occasion helped us with problems of working hours, use of buildings, and schedules.

Mr. George Skeele, of the Westerville Press is the person to whom we took all our problems of putting the book together. Not knowing the first thing about the printing business, it is he from whom we have gained a storehouse of interesting and worthwhile information.

When it came to identification, the staff worked as a complete unit, but one can hardly expect twenty-one people to know eight hundred persons. To the Tan and Cardinal Staff members we say thanks for allowing us to interrupt your weekly publication assembly meetings long enough to help us identify persons we did not know.

To the faculty and student body a sincere THANK YOU. Without the cooperation which you have given throughout the entire year the pictures in this book would not have been possible.

Now, as you close the cover of your book, so the man who has made a great contribution to the book closes the SIBYL office door for another year. Mr. Sanders A. Frye, through whose interest, we got an office all our own, could leave things lying around, lock the door, and go home knowing that nothing would be disturbed. When supplies were needed, Sandy got them for us at a minimum cost. There's many an advertisement in this book which would not appear were it not through Sandy's contacts and efforts. He's taken us places, showed us things, and always cheerfully and adequately responded to whatever problem we might present to him.
