SIBYL

*The 1962
Sibyl*

*Otterbein College
Westerville, Ohio*

Dedication

"Our memories round thee linger"—
Glenn Grant Grabill. To thee we will be forever indebted.

FACULTY MEMBER

OTTERBEIN ALUMNUS

COMPOSER

Everyone who sings the "Otterbein Love Song" is paying a tribute to the composer. We dedicate the 1962 Sibyl to the man who is responsible for our alma mater song. Mr. Grabill wrote the music and his wife, Celia Ihrig Grabill, wrote the familiar words.

THE TIME — 1918

THE MAN — Glenn Grant Grabill

Glenn and Celia Grabill, the composers of the Otterbein Love Song, sit at the organ.

THE RESULT —

In a quiet peaceful village.
There is one we love so true.
She ever gives a welcome
To her friends both old and new.
She stands serene
'Mid tree tops green
She's our dear Otterbein.

(Chorus)

Old Otterbein, our college,
We sing of thee today;
Our memories round thee linger,
In a sweet and mystic way.
O Otterbein, we love thee,
Our hearts are only thine,
We pledge anew,
We will be true,
Dear Otterbein.

Her halls have their own message
Of truth and hope and love;
She guides her youths and maidens
To the life that looks above.
Her stately tower
Speaks naught but power,
For our dear Otterbein.

An aerial photograph of a university campus. The image shows several large, multi-story brick buildings with various architectural features like gables, chimneys, and domes. A large, rectangular building with a flat roof is prominent in the upper center. To its right is a building with two large white domes on its roof. In the lower left, a building features a prominent octagonal dome. The campus is heavily wooded with numerous large, mature trees. A paved road or path winds through the campus. In the upper left corner, there is a white clock face with dashed lines for hour markers and two hands. The title "The Campus" is written in a white, cursive font in the upper right corner.

Zero Hour: 7:30 Wednesday—Biology Test

Mr. Norvell, Mr. Weber, Mr. Botts, Dr. Willis and Dr. Grodner comprise Otterbein's biology department.

The biology department helps to prepare students for careers in medicine, nursing, medical technology, teaching, and other related fields. In studying biology, the student gains a better understanding of life—its origins, growth, and development. Led by Mr. Charles Botts, the department offers courses from general zoology and botany to those in more specific fields. Alpha Epsilon Delta, medical honorary, is sponsored by this department.

1:20 Time for Lab

The purpose of the chemistry department is to prepare students for chemistry as a profession. It also offers service courses in related fields and contributes to the general liberal arts education.

In the chemistry lab, the student learns to apply theory to a practical situation.

The department, headed by Dr. Michael, consists of Mr. Crane, Mr. Esselstyn, and Dr. Turley.

The Ever-Changing Business World

Today's business world involves complicated forms, laws, and theories that the passing of time alters immeasurably. Mr. Bert Glaze, the head of the Department of Business, helps many students in Business Administration and Economics to better understand this involved facet of our ever-changing world. This department tries to keep students abreast of the changes in the business world as they occur. The Society for the Advancement of Management is sponsored by this department.

Mr. Hogue spends some time with his calculator as Mr. Glaze watches.

Mr. Vigilante, Mrs. Anderson, Dr. Pagean, Mr. Raver and Dr. Addington pause in the faculty lounge for a few minutes during their busy day.

1970 = More Pupils

The ever increasing number of school age children means that there will be a great need for qualified teachers, and in response to the demand for more teachers, we find that many Otterbein students are preparing to devote their lives to teaching. In order to meet the demands of the young school children and the college students, the Department of Education, under the leadership of Dr. Addington, provides an opportunity for the future teacher to prepare himself adequately in the areas of elementary and secondary education. The department offers courses in visual aides, techniques of teaching, and actual practice in classroom instructions.

Not only is Mrs. Priest secretary for the Education Dept. but she also takes care of many details concerning teacher placement.

Mr. Thackrey, Mrs. Fuller, Dr. Price, Mrs. Nelson, and Mr. Ray meet in the Otterbein room.

Past, Present, Future

The department of English, headed by Dr. Robert Price, deals chiefly with educating students in the areas of literature, grammar, composition, journalism, and general communications. A great variety of literature courses are offered by this department. This department is particularly proud of the amount and quality of creative writing produced on campus. The Quiz and Quill Club, which is sponsored by this department, publishes one of the oldest, continuously published literary magazines in Ohio.

Mr. Kropp and Mr. Coulter teach both freshman and upperclass English courses.

Le temps

Under the direction of Dr. Gilbert Mills, the foreign language department has played the role of a pioneer and now is one of the most progressive departments of its kind. Through the work and ingenuity of Dr. Lavelle Rosselot, this department features a modern language lab, which is available to all language students, and a new French film text, which features professional French actors and actresses. This department also attempts to broaden the student's knowledge of the life and manner of thinking of foreign peoples. Phi Sigma Iota, foreign language honorary, is sponsored by this department.

Dr. L. Rosselot, Mrs. Hopkins, Mr. Poulard, Miss Wilson, Mr. Rosales, Mr. Neff, Dr. O'Bear and Dr. Mills discuss the new French film series.

1066: 1984

Dr. Hancock, Dr. Laubach, Mrs. Thurston, and Mr. Richardson meet in the Faculty Lounge.

Teaching students why and when the events of our history have taken place as well as to assist them to think effectively, to make relevant judgements and to discriminate among values are the aims of the History and Government Department. Dr. Harold Hancock heads this department which offers the opportunity to delve into the way of history, and the people and ideas involved in it. A chance to explore the constitutions of the past is offered to the students in order to understand the present and future constitutions of society.

"Bake 45 minutes"

Mrs. Mabel Joyce heads the Home Economics Department which strives to provide an education for successful home life and for well-adjusted individual living. Every aspect of the home and individual life is dealt with in courses offered by this department. Students are trained for vocations in teaching, homemaking, dietary work and textiles. The Home Economics Club, which is sponsored by the department, and the Home Management House provides students interested in this field with actual situations that they will encounter after they have completed their college career.

Mrs. Joyce and Mrs. Ingram take time to sip a cup of punch during Orientation Week.

Mr. Estes and Mr. Wiley, the mathematics professors, get ready to greet parents on the first day of Orientation Week.

“Let $t = \text{time} \dots$ ”

As one of the tools of science, mathematics is gradually increasing in importance, both as a major field and as a supplement to other majors.

The math department, headed by Mr. Roger Wiley, prepares students for education, engineering, and industry. Other members of this department are: Mr. Estes, Mr. McCloy, and Mr. Molyneux.

In Tune

Mr. Bradley, Mrs. Johnston, Miss Myers, and Dr. Shackson spend many hours of hard work in their respective fields.

Music exists not in space but in time. Under the direction of Dr. L. L. Shackson, the Music Department, which is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music, seeks to prepare majors for music education, private teaching, or church music work, and to provide all students with an opportunity to study music as an avocation. The Music Department's many organizations including Men's and Women's Glee Clubs, A Cappella Choir, Brass Choir, College Band, and College-Community Orchestra boast a high percentage of student participation. This year in cooperation with the Theater Department, a musical, The Boy Friend, was produced. M.E.N.C., the Organists' Guild, Kappa Kappa Psi and Delta Omicron are organizations which are sponsored by this department.

Mr. Chamberlain, Dr. P. Frank, Mr. L. Frank, and Mr. Westrich all contribute a great deal to Otterbein's cultural program.

Mrs. Coffee, music librarian, selects a record.

A Little Time Plus a Little Energy Equals a Lot of Enjoyment

The Women's Physical Education Department offers opportunity for participation in a wide variety of activities. Included among these are hockey, archery, bowling, golf, modern dance, square dancing, basketball, volleyball, softball, tennis and outing. Under the leadership of the department, the WAA sponsors an extensive intramural program among classes and sororities, and some inter-collegiate competition among nearby colleges and universities. The department also sponsors the Modern Dance Club which provides an opportunity for those girls interested in creative dance to participate in one or two programs a year.

Miss Jenson, Miss Day, and Miss Van Sant load the station wagon for golf and canoeing classes.

Coordination and Cooperation

Mr. Yoest, Mr. Agler, Mr. Zarbaugh, and Mr. Kish take a break in their busy schedules.

The Men's Physical Education Department, led by acting chairman, Mr. Zarbaugh is a member of the Ohio Conference Association and provides a program for entering into varsity competition in such sports as football, cross-country, basketball, wrestling, baseball, track, tennis, and golf. In addition, the department has set up intramural competition for all interested male students. Although they offer activity to everyone, they particularly train recreational leaders and physical education majors.

Miss Janeene Headlee is the busy secretary for the Men's Physical Education Department.

Mr. Matthews, Mr. Molyneux, and Mr. Barnhart pause beside the dome of the Weitkamp Observatory on the roof of McFadden Science Hall.

$$\text{Time} = \frac{\text{Distance}}{\text{Speed}}$$

The Department of physics and astronomy has a two-fold purpose: to provide a technical background for graduate study and to provide a cultural background for any vocation, in better acquainting the student with the world around him.

A more effective approach to this purpose is constantly being considered by the department. A different type of course is being considered for the student who terminates his study of physics in one year. The course would last for one semester and be worth six credit hours. The possible texts teach classical physics with examples from modern physics and attempt to tie the two together.

The Weitkamp Observatory and Planetarium are outstanding features of the department.

Students concentrating in this field usually enter teaching or engineering.

The Hour of Thought and Devotion

The stimulation for re-evaluation of beliefs is the prime objective of the Department of Religion and Philosophy. Headed by Dr. Paul Ackert, the department provides instruction in the Bible, in philosophy, and stimulates thinking by a provocative approach to human problems. All members of the department are ordained ministers.

Dr. Ackert and Dr. Deever pause on their way to chapel.

Major Fawley and Captain Rice pause to examine a model of the FG-955.

Three . . . Two . . . One . . . Blast-Off

Sergeant Cromer and Sergeant Page are also a very important part of Otterbein's ROTC Department.

Major Fawley, Associate Professor of Air Science, with his assistant Captain Phillip F. Rice head the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps. With an increase in membership the department has added Sergeant Roy F. Cromer, Technical Sergeant, to aid Sergeant Page, Staff Sergeant. Together they train young men to become officers in the United States Air Force. Those successfully meeting the requirements and who have completed the Air Science program become commissioned Second Lieutenants in the United States Air Force Reserves upon graduation from College.

Highlighting each year is the Military Ball. Each division is honored by a corps sponsor. The rifle team, color guards, drill team (either in Washington D. C. or on the football field), and the awards' banquet comprise other corps-sponsored activities. Summer training and a flight instruction program are offered to those interested.

On Stage

The Department of Speech and Drama, located in the "lower mezzanine" of Cowan Hall, offers five major fields: public speaking, theater, radio-T.V., speech science, and speech education. Activities such as oratory contests, debate tournaments, dramatic presentations, and Arts Festival, and the FM radio station, WOBN, are sponsored by this department. In addition the department sponsors the debate team, Cap and Dagger, and Theta Alpha Phi and Pi Kappa Delta, national dramatic and forensic honoraries respectively.

Coffee-break time in Cowan Hall
Mr. Thayer, Mr. Dodrill and Dr. Grissinger take a minute to relax.

The Hour of Human Understanding and Social Adjustment

This department seeks to strengthen its students in their basic liberal arts orientation as well as to prepare them for vocational and graduate school experience. Sociology and psychology at the undergraduate level are mainly preparatory for further specialization, although certain areas of social work, counseling, teaching, and research are open to its graduates. The department also provides students with opportunities for field trips, laboratory assistantships, and practical experience in social work settings.

Dr. Lovejoy, Dr. Combs and Mr. Harrison still find time to smile after a long day of classes.

Atmosphere and the Arts

Mr. Hassenpflug and Mrs. Frank watch Susy Gallagher in art class.

The object of the Visual Arts Department is to develop in the student an understanding, for a lifetime, of the visual arts by means of specific courses and extra-curricular activities. Under the leadership of Mrs. Lillian Frank and Mr. Earl Hassenpflug, courses ranging from Basic Art to Advanced Sculpture are offered. The primary objective of the department is the development of the arts as the expression of the spirit of man.

Board of Trustees

Otterbein has 44 trustees, 24 of whom are elected from E.U.B. church conferences in Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, West Virginia, Florida, and Tennessee. At their annual fall meeting they receive reports from the officers of the college and appropriate money for various needs of Otterbein.

The Board of Trustees is the final authority by law for all affairs of the college; they are primarily concerned with the financial welfare of Otterbein. Any decision involving the appropriation of money, such as fixing tuition or erecting a new building, must come from this board.

SCHOLAR
EDUCATOR

PRESIDENT TURNER

Dr. Lynn W. Turner, President of the college, exemplifies the friendly spirit of Otterbein. His tasks are to guide and direct the curriculum of the college and to coordinate the work of faculty, deans, and trustees. Much of his time is spent as a representative of Otterbein in meetings and conventions. He speaks to alumni clubs, keeping them up to date on the many changes at Otterbein.

Giving his consideration to Otterbein's progress, Dr. Wade Miller studies the Ten Year Plan.

DEAN OF THE COLLEGE

Dean of the College, Dr. David S. Waas, is in charge of keeping the curricular activities of Otterbein in pace with our "jet age" learning. All phases of the academic life and program are the direct concern of Dean Waas.

Plans for the new student center meet with the approval of S. A. "Sandy" Frye.

DEVELOPMENT

With an eye on the future, Dr. Wade S. Miller, Vice President in Charge of Development, works to advance Otterbein. He is especially responsible for the financial program as outlined in the Ten Year Plan.

Dr. David Waas keeps very busy with his varied responsibilities as Dean of the College.

BUSINESS MANAGER

Year 'round, Mr. Sanders A. Frye and his assistant George Gerber keep the gears "well oiled" at Otterbein. Carpenters, electricians, and general maintenance men operate at their direction to make Otterbein a better and more efficient place to live and work.

A day of conscientious work awaits the Registrar, Mr. Floyd J. Vance, as he enters his office.

Every detail receives careful attention from Assistant to the Registrar, Mr. Pete Baker, and secretaries Pat Howard and Edith Benton.

Mr. Albert Horn signs a check to cover some current Otterbein expenses.

TREASURER

Every Otterbein student is familiar with the Treasurer's Office. Mr. Albert Horn, Otterbein's Treasurer, collects all bills and keeps records of student accounts. Collecting accounts is an unending procedure in this office.

Much of the help necessary in Otterbein offices is provided by secretaries Mrs. Shackson, Mrs. Crane, and Mrs. Skaats.

REGISTRAR

Long lines extending from the Administration building are a familiar sight at midsemester. Students are getting their grades from the Registrar's office. This department compiles the contents of that little, white envelope.

The Dean's list and the Probation list are both issued from this office. Mr. Floyd J. Vance, Registrar, is aided and assisted by Mr. Peter Baker.

DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC RELATIONS

With every passing day, Reverend Arthur Schultz, Director of Public Relations, is making new friends for Otterbein. He is responsible for editing Otterbein Towers, maintaining good church relationships, publishing college bulletins, and various college material, and for the executive functioning of the Alumni Association.

Mr. Arthur Schultz proudly shows the latest addition of Otterbein Towers to Mrs. Steinmetz.

ADMISSIONS COUNSELORS

Working against time are Mr. Richard Pflieger, Director of Admissions, and Mr. Elsley Witt, Admissions Counselor and Director of Guidance and Testing. Meeting and interviewing prospective Otterbein students keep them busy the year round.

Mrs. Castle, Mrs. MacKenzie, Mrs. Bale and Mrs. Perry are part of Otterbein's busy administrative staff.

A new Otterbein Bulletin attracts the

The Deans

Dean of Students Marion Chase extends a friendly welcome to all who enter his office.

DEAN OF STUDENTS

A full calendar and a busy schedule is kept by Dean of Students Marion Chase. Student activities other than scholastic pursuits are under the direct guidance of Dean Chase.

Mrs. Helen Moore, secretary to Dean Chase, keeps busy with the volume of work which passes through the dean's office.

DEAN OF WOMEN

As Dean of Women, Miss Hannah Frank acts officially as supervisor of women's residences and advisor of the Women's Student Government Board and the Pan-Hellenic Council.

She also acts as counselor and friend to all women of Otterbein's campus concerning all types of problems from roommate trouble to finances. In working with the head residents of the dormitories plus the student governing boards, she becomes the intermediary between students and staff.

MRS. McGEE

As the hostess of the Guest House, Mrs. McGee graciously greets visitors.

HOUSEMOTHERS

Housemothers Mrs. Smith of Cochran Hall, Mrs. Stoughton of Hanby Hall, Mrs. Anthony of King Hall, Mrs. Bigham of Clements Hall and Mrs. Englehart of Saum Hall takes a well-deserved break from their responsibilities.

It's time for a coffee break for "Red" Moreland who does all of Otterbein's mimeographing.

Mrs. Ann Davis handles a variety of work in her job as secretary in the business office. As assistant to the Business Manager, George Gerber is also kept busy.

BUSINESS OFFICE

The Business Office is responsible for many departments which are vital in keeping Otterbein running "smooth as clockwork." All purchasing is done through this office, and departments obtain supplies here. Mail and the Lost and Found departments add to the many aspects of the "inside" job of running Otterbein which are affected by the Business Office.

"Red" Moreland runs the mimeographing machine in the room adjacent to the Business Office. He does mimeographing for all departments and organizations of the college.

CHAPLAIN

As Chaplain, the Reverend James B. Recob serves as counselor, guide and instructor in the development of the total spiritual life of the campus.

The door to Chaplain Recob's office is always open to any student who would like to talk with him.

THE LIBRARY STAFF

The professional library staff, consisting of head librarian Mr. John Becker and his assistants, Mrs. Mabel Hershberger, Mrs. MacKenzie, and Mrs. Jennie Miller, along with 20 student assistants serve the students of Otterbein in the Centennial Library. The library now boasts 55,000 volumes and 330 current periodicals. Carrels were added this year for more individual study facilities.

Always ready to help students to make the best of library facilities are Mrs. Mabel Hershberger, Mrs. MacKenzie, Mrs. Jennie Miller and head librarian Mr. John Becker.

The Nurses

Flu vaccine, cold immunization, heat lamp treatments, whirlpool therapy, or just a package of cold pills are all part of the services offered by the Otterbein College Health Center. The staff, under the leadership of Mrs. Mildred Crane, works 'round the clock to see that the students of Otterbein are in the best possible health. Infirmary services are also available to all students currently enrolled. Mrs. Ruth Botts has been indispensable to the Health Center, for it is her job to keep all of the many records in good order. Four town physicians donate their time to add to the health benefits offered.

Protecting students' health by providing tuberculin tests are Mrs. Crane, Judy Minshall, Adelle Bence, Mrs. Botts, and Mrs. Kintigh.

The Cooks

Five-fifteen p.m. in Barlow Hall means a line that seems miles long. The Barlow staff, headed by Miss Alice Reinheimer and Mrs. Esther Jacobs, conscientiously try to solve most of the important and controversial matters that pertain to the cafeteria service.

Mrs. Jacobs and Miss Reinheimer keep Barlow Hall operating smoothly and efficiently.

Each year sixteen students are chosen to represent Otterbein in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. In order to be chosen, a student must be a junior or a senior and must participate actively in various campus organizations. The student must not only project the true Otterbein spirit; but also, he must show leadership, citizenship, scholarship, and promise for the future.

Who are the first people the freshmen really get to know on campus? Why, the Junior Counselors, of course. These helping hands are always ready to be of assistance with that tricky assignment, give advice to the broken-hearted, brush away that twinge of homesickness, and try to keep order in the dormitory.

The class of '65 dances around an extremely warm bonfire.

Bonfire

Having spent the entire afternoon gathering wood and other burnable material, the freshmen constructed a bonfire favorably comparable to those of other years. The evening began with the traditional pep rally at the bandshell and crowning of the Beanie King and Queen, Bernie Shuey and Nancy Haywood. From there a snake line was formed and 374 pajama-clad freshmen danced around the sky-high flames to such cries as, "Run, Frosh . . . faster frosh . . . sing, frosh . . ." Tired, hoarse, but happy, the snake line weaved its way to President and Mrs. Turner's house to serenade them with Otterbein's Love Song. The evening was climaxed as the freshmen invaded the local movie theater amidst the curious but knowing stares of the townspeople.

Beanie King and Queen for 1961 are B. Shuey and N. Haywood.

Clothes inside out and backwards, hair braided in ten pigtails, two different shoes, and beanies made up the costume of the freshman girls on Otterbein's traditional Scrap Day. Awakened at 5:30 a.m. by a fire drill, they marched single file, wastebaskets high over head, to serenade the fraternities. Following a hurried breakfast at Barlow and strenuous exercises on the lawn, the freshman girls met their rivals in relay races, volleyball, and softball while the boys met their's in relay and sack races. The day ended with a tug-of-war across Alum Creek; however, neither team won because a faulty rope was used. As a result of the sophomore's triumph in winning all but two events, the freshmen had to wear their beanies until Cap-Otter football game.

Dorine (Barbara Bushong), companion to Mariane (Bette Smith), reunites Valère (Sam Ziegler) and Mariane after a lover's quarrel.

The entire cast of "The Boyfriend" assembles for a grand finale.

Curtain Time—8:15

The theatre is a vital part of Otterbein. The 1961-62 productions included, "The Boyfriend," "Tartuffe," "John Brown's Body," and "Death of a Salesman," along with a number of special features. In February, for example, the Otterbein theatre presented "The Emperor's New Clothes" as a special treat for the children of the Westerville area.

An Otterbein first took place on the stage of Cowan Hall in 1962. Hans Conried, well-known star of stage, screen and television, appeared in "John Brown's Body." Mr. Conried was the first professional star to appear in an Otterbein theatre production.

Tartuffe, played by Johnny Martin, violently protests his arrest.

Madame DuBonnet entertains Percivale Browne, his daughter Polly, and other guests.

Hans Conried, the guest star of "John Brown's Body," is being "directed" by Mr. Dodrill.

S. Speelman and C. Simmons help parents register.

Parents' Day

This year mothers and dads had a special treat on Parents' Day. From the Tower, a technicolor film, about life at Otterbein was shown in Cowan Hall. Many parents saw their own children on the screen.

After lunch at Barlow, parents spent the afternoon attending dormitory open houses.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Walker were chosen Parents-of-the-Day. Sharon Allaman, Miss T & C of 1961, presented them with a plaque during half-time ceremonies at the Oberlin-Otterbein game that evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Walker were the winners of the Parents-of-the-Day award.

Mother's Weekend

"Don't you get tired of climbing so many stairs to your room on fourth floor?"

"How do you remember what your hours are?"

"Which building is Cowan Hall?"

"Don't your clothes get wrinkled in that tiny closet?"

These and many other questions were asked by mothers when they arrived on campus for Mothers' Weekend which is sponsored by YWCA.

After registration and lunch, the honored guests attended an afternoon program. Then in the evening, they were entertained at a banquet. "John Brown's Body" was presented for their enjoyment on the Cowan stage.

Many mothers received a first-hand view of dorm life by staying with their daughters in Clements, Cochran, Hanby, Saum, and King. After church on Sunday, Mothers' Weekend for 1962 came to an official close.

M. L. Keinath, V. Barnes, and C. Fetter fold the letters which were sent to each girl's mother.

Mrs. Clifford and her daughter Becky, and Dora Potts and her mother, Mrs. Potts attended the play "John Brown's Body."

The time was late winter. The place was Lockbourne Air Force Base. The event was the 1962 AFROTC Military Ball. The people were dressed in crisp uniforms or fancy gowns, and the music was very dreamy.

At intermission, the Corps Sponsors were formally presented. Miss Patricia Hommon was Honorary Corps Commander.

Members of the 1962 Winter Homecoming Court were Sheila Patterson—First Attendant, Tina Fernandez—retiring Princess, Judy Jones—1962 Winter Homecoming Princess, and Lois Arnold, Maid of Honor.

1962 Winter Homecoming Princess

This year's Winter Homecoming Princess was presented during half time of the Rio Grande basketball game. Every year the presentation of the princess is quite suspenseful, and 1962 was no exception. The president of Varsity "O," searched for her through the crowded auditorium. He walked to the cheerleaders' bench, took Miss Judy Jones by the hand and led her to the throne while the auditorium thundered with applause.

Miss Judy Jones was escorted from her seat in the bleachers to the Varsity "O" throne where she received her roses and crown.

The Sibyl Selects for Sixty-two

The Sibyl Queen must exemplify the true Otterbein spirit, and she must demonstrate ability as a campus leader.

Judy Stone, popular Otterbein coed, has captured many honors during her four years at Otterbein. Her many accomplishments include being a member of Who's Who, president of the Quiz and Quill Club, president of the W.S.G.B., and president of Theta Nu sorority.

The Sibyl staff feel that Judy represents all of the qualities they want in their queen. Best wishes, Judy!

Dick Berry, Judy Stone, and Hans Conried share the lead in "John Brown's Body."

Judy stole the show as Madame Dubonnet in "The Boy Friend."

The Favorite Fall Pastime—Football

The 1961 Otterbein football team finished the season with an 8-1 record for the second best year in the school's history. The record duplicated last season's, and once more brought the Cardinals a tie for third place in the Ohio Conference.

Basketball—1961 and 196

This year's season proved to be a long and disheartening one for the Otters because they lost fifteen out of the season's nineteen games.

Although only four victories were scored, the defeat of Capital was worth several victories. In the last few seconds of the action-packed contest, Bill Dodson scored the winning point with a twenty-foot jumper.

At the close of the season, the starting team consisted of one senior, one junior, one sophomore, and two freshmen. Coach Mike Kish hopes to build on this young and promising combination next year.

Track

Despite a record of two wins and seven losses, the 1961 track team produced several outstanding individuals. Junior weight man, Bill Young, set a school record in the discus. Freshman Gary Reynolds participated in five events and proved to be a fine sprinter and pole vaulter. Bill Swan, Dick Funkhouser, Jesse Blair, Luarel Garman, Bob Meeks, and Lloyd Jones all did well in their freshman year. Coach Bud Yoest also had some outstanding veterans including Don Debolt, 440 relay; Larry Humbert, distance; Bill Messmer, broad jump; Gene Kidwell, dashes; Larry Wilson, hurdles; Jerry Beheler, hurdles; Al Scholz, weights; Larry Cline, 440 relay, and Larry Pasqua, broad jumper.

The 1961 baseball squad won only one game and lost ten in a frustrating season. The dark background of the team's record was brightened by many moments of brilliant play. One of the best efforts was the 6-5 loss to Ohio Wesleyan. Terry Ater pitched with control for eight innings. Larry Ishida and Jack Pietila used the bats to keep the Otters in the game. However, in the twelfth inning, Wesleyan scored their winning run. An inexperienced squad composed of a few lettermen and many freshmen again plagued Coach Zarbaugh and his hope of a winning season. However, with the experience gained in this season, the baseball team should be very effective next spring.

Intercollegiate Hockey

"Kick that ball out of there," shouted Elaine Koehler to goalie, Sheila Leonard, during this year's Fall Homecoming hockey game with the alumni. This year the home team upset the alumni 2-1.

The intercollegiate schedule this year included games with Capital, Ohio Wesleyan, and Ohio State.

Intercollegiate Tennis

Although bad weather hampered the women's intercollegiate tennis team during the fall, four regulars turned out for practice and scheduled games. The first match was held at Capital University with a 2-1 decision going to the opponents. Sue Sorchy was responsible for the winning match.

In the spring, veterans Sue Milam and Marilyn Bamberger, joined regulars Pam McIlroy, Sue Sorchy, Kathy Shuck, and Ricki Takacs to lend support to a more extensive and competitive tennis program than was in existence in the fall.

The Women's Intercollegiate basketball team had a very active season this year playing such schools as: Ohio Wesleyan, Denison, Ohio State, Westminster, and Ohio University.

When Miss Jensen is asked if the team is out to win every game, she shakes her head and says, "Of course we like to win, but our main purpose is to play well and have fun."

Refreshments are served after every game giving the team a chance to meet and get acquainted with girls from other colleges in this area. Many lasting friendships have been formed this way.

B. Clifford and H. Mason check the bull's-eye.

Intramurals

Each year an extensive intramural program is organized by the different sports heads of the WAA.

The sports included in this program are archery, volleyball, outing, canoeing, softball, basketball, hockey, and ping pong to name a few.

This year Miss Jensen was especially pleased with the interest in intramural archery tournaments.

Co-rec is another area in which students show interest because it gives men and women the opportunity to participate together in team sports.

Softball is just one intramural program at Otterbein.

This organization is composed of two representatives who meet bi-weekly to discuss problems or projects which concern the five fraternities.

This year for the first time, the Council held only one formal dance instead of the traditional two. The Interfraternity Council is in charge of all interfraternity sports and the awarding of the scholarship trophy in addition to being the official governing body over the fraternities.

Panhellenic Council

The Council officially serves as a government over the sororities. It is composed of three members from each sorority, and meets bi-weekly to keep the sororities functioning under a common goal.

The Panhellenic Council is in charge of a formal dance in December and Jump Week in March. In addition to these events, the Council awards the scholarship trophy to the sorority with the highest overall point average.

9:35—Friday—Greek Week

"May I have your autograph?" "Where is your favorite parking place?" These are only a few of the many questions asked of upperclassmen during Greek Week. The arrival of second semester has a twofold purpose:

1. The beginning of a new semester
2. The end of pledging

The first two days are "neatness" days, and the humble pledges appear in suits, dresses and heels. On Friday, a sharp contrast meets the eye as the campus is invaded by cats, birds, green worms, artists, Scots and little girls.

All of Greek Week is under the auspices of the Interfraternity and Pan Hellenic Council, and is only a chapter out of the big book of adjustment for the new college student.

The Advertising

We Point With Pride!

1. Otterbein College is proud of its anti-slavery record in the pre-civil war days. The college president and professors were active in the "underground railroad" which ran through Westerville, and Benjamin R. Hanby was an Otterbein student when he wrote "Darling Nelly Gray."
2. Otterbein College is proud of the important place it has given to women in higher education. It was the second college to admit women on an equal basis with men. It was the first college to appoint women to the faculty on an equality with men. The first two graduates from Otterbein were women.
3. Otterbein is proud of its contribution to the church. The first missionary society of the former United Brethren Church was organized in the College Chapel in 1852. Scores of missionaries have gone from the college to foreign fields. Hundreds of ministers received college training at Otterbein. Thousands of loyal and active Christian laymen have been Otterbein students.
4. Otterbein is proud of its graduates who have gone into business, engineering, education, medicine, law, music, coaching, and church vocations to mention only a few of the categories in which Otterbein alumni have excelled.
5. Otterbein is proud of the high percentage of its graduates who go on to postgraduate study.
6. Otterbein is proud of the recognition it has received from every major standardizing and accrediting agencies.
7. Otterbein is proud of its religious purpose and heritage in a world which too often overlooks the eternal values.
8. Otterbein is proud of her student body, for the most part committed to a wholesome way of life without morbid restraints on the one hand or unrestrained excess on the other hand.
9. Otterbein is proud of its faculty, a group of scholarly men and women dedicated to assisting young people to prepare for Christian leadership in state and church.
10. Otterbein is proud to be a medium-sized liberal arts college.
